To reduce crime, cut heroin cost: report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government-funded study suggests that federal drug officials experiment with ways of lowering heroin prices to see if that would reduce crimes by addicts supporting expensive habits.

The 1,000-page report, "Drug Use and Crime," says narcotics law enforcement could be relaxed or that free heroin could be distributed in a limited area as an experiment. But it concludes that nationwide heroin maintenance to pacify addicts "clearly ... is an intolerable policy for reducing crime."

The study was performed by 24 persons outside the government under a $219,000 contract with the National Institute on Drug Abuse. The institute said the report is under review and that none of the recommendations has been accepted.

Whereabouts of 800 Americans sought

MIA talks with N. Vietnam open

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese diplomats opened talks Friday on the question of 800 Americans still missing in action from the war in Vietnam and Vietnamese demands for reconstruction aid.

The negotiations also seek to find a basis for normalizing relations between the two countries, but no concrete progress is expected before President-elect Jimmy Carter takes office in January.

Neither the American representative, Samuel R. Gammon, nor his Vietnamese counterpart, Tran Hoan, spoke to reporters after their two-hour meeting. They are the No. 2 men at their embassies here and met in a building in suburban Neuilly that is believed to be the residence of the Vietnamese ambassador.

Statements were issued later by the U.S. Embassy, the State Department in Washington and the Vietnamese Embassy.

State Department spokesman Robert Funseth said the initial meeting was a "substantive discussion" in a correct atmosphere but it produced no change in America's decision to veto Vietnam's application for membership in the United Nations.

He was asked it the reaffirmation of the expected veto meant there had been no progress on the question of the Americans missing in action (MIA) and replied, "That's a fair statement."

Vietnam's application for U.N. membership is scheduled to come to a vote next week in the U.N. Security Council where America, as one of the five permanent members, has the veto power.

The U.S. Embassy statement said issues of interest to both countries were raised at the meeting, with the question of MIAs "our primary concern."

Rescue ships leave stormy disaster scene

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eighteen crewmen from a sunken lumber ship were still missing in chilly, storm-whipped Pacific Ocean waters Friday as the last of three rescue vessels left the disaster scene.

One crew member was known dead and 14 had been rescued by the time the freighter Wisteria headed for Japan with some of the survivors, the Coast Guard said.

Another ship that had been the first to arrive on the scene after the Carnelian-1 sank in stormy weather Thursday was driven off earlier by the rough weather. A Japanese ship that reached the area Friday morning left in the afternoon without explanation, the Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard cutter en route from Alaska is not expected to reach the shipwreck site until today.

"It's still raining and storming," Coast Guard spokesman Larry Clark said in San Francisco, where the search is being coordinated. "The winds are picking up, there's more spray and rain and visibility is deteriorating."

Another Coast Guard spokesman, Ed Conlon, said aircraft would continue circling the area until darkness, three hours after nightfall in San Francisco. A Coast Guard plane will resume the search this morning, and the cutter Mellon is expected to arrive early this afternoon.

Until then, no other vessels are known to be available for rescue operations, Conlon said.

The Panamanian-registered ship Hunter picked up two crew members and spotted the body of another, kept afloat by a life jacket, before leaving the scene.

The Wisteria plucked eight of the shipwrecked seamen to safety before dawn and four more after daybreak. The Coast Guard said at one point that the ship's captain had been rescued but reported later that he was not among the known survivors.

But Speedway Corp. must also voice approval

Ontario officials extend Expo 81 pact

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

Ontario City Council extended the contract with Expo 81 Corp for 120 days in a special session Friday night, but approval is contingent upon approval by the Ontario Motor Speedway Corp. board and clarification of language regarding a $7 million loan for purchase of the speedway.

The council voted 3-1, overriding the objections of Faye Dastrup who favored only a 30-day extension of the contract between the city, Expo 81 Corp. and the OMS board which expired Nov. 5. Mrs. Dastrup argued that she wanted more commitment from the City of Los Angeles and at least a matching financial contribution of $10,000 from Los Angeles.

She also argued that the council and OMS board could "examine other alternatives in saving the speedway" than the proposed world fair. She failed to point out, however, that until the Expo 81 Corp. approached the city regarding the international exposition, the city and speedway corporation had failed to come up with any other alternatives and bankruptcy procedures and foreclosure by the bondholders would begin in the spring of 1977 without the proposal for the world fair.

All members of the council agreed that the Expo 81 Corp. could not use the speedway site as collateral for obtaining the $7 million loan from Allen and Co. The bonding firm headquartered in Boston and New York currently has a contract with Expo 81 Corp. that calls for the speedway to be used as security for the loan to obtain the speedway from the bondholders.

Samuel Crowe, city attorney, said that Allen and Co., according to the provisions of the contract, has the right to place a lien on the speedway. Allen and Co. will obtain a first trust deed on the site in return for the $7 million, he added.

"It is my understanding that that was not your concept of your agreement with Expo 81," Crowe said. "The property was not to be used for security in obtaining the loan . . . If for some reason the money was not repaid, it (the speedway) could be acquired by Allen and Co."

This would violate the provision of the agreement with the city and speedway corporation that the site would revert to the city no later than December 31, 1982.

Councilman Homer Briggs said that the council must consider the interests of the city and the speedway, and on that basis could not grant Allen and Co. a deed to the speedway.

Storm hits Southland, floods city in Mexico

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thunderstorms dumped inches of rain in Southern California and Northern Mexico on Friday, flooding homes and streets, knocking down power lines, collapsing ceilings and delaying an auto race, authorities said.

Torrential rains flooded a 40-block area of Ensenada, Mexico, forcing evacuation of more than 100 persons, mostly children, said Gen. Gonzalo Acosta Fernandez, director of public security in Ensenada, the starting point for the Baja 1000 auto race. No deaths or injuries were reported.

The race, which was to have begun Friday morning, was delayed at least until today when drivers were scheduled to decide whether to begin the race.

The storm, with heavy showers at times, poured .48 inch of rain on the Los Angeles Civic Center and lit the sky with flashes of lightning.

Los Angeles firemen evacuated 33 elderly patients from the Beverlywood Guest Home early Friday when rain soaked through its ceiling, causing plaster to fall.

Unsuspecting morning motorists splashed into the torrential downpours at full speed, and a rash of accidents resulted. In some cases, accidents closed freeways, further complicating traffic.

About 1,000 homes in Van Nuys lost power for 45 minutes when the storm knocked out a power line. About 500 customers also lost utility service for an hour in North Hollywood and West Los Angeles.

15 hurt in battle sparked by racial incidents

3 die in bloody riot at Georgia prison

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Black and white inmates fought a brief bloody battle Friday at Georgia's top security prison, killing three prisoners and injuring 15 others, authorities said.

Normal routines were resumed at the prison later Friday, officials said, but about a dozen state troopers remained on duty outside the prison in case of further trouble.

About 80 inmates used crudely fashioned knives and clubs in the disturbance that apparently was sparked by racial incidents of a day or two earlier, said state Corrections Commissioner Allen Ault.

"A group of whites set upon a group of blacks," he told reporters outside the prison. "I don't know whether they just wanted blacks or if there was someone specific they wanted."

The prisoners killed in the fighting, all blacks, were identified as Willie Frank Madison, 27, of Lincolnton, Ga., serving six years for burglary and escape convictions; Johnny Lee McPherson, 29, of Rockmart, Ga., serving a life term for robbery, assault with intent to murder and possession of a deadly weapon, and James Langford Carter, 29, of Decatur, Ga., serving 10 years for convictions of rape and violation of the Georgia Firearms Act.

Five injured prisoners were taken by ambulance to a hospital in Augusta, 125 miles away, and another was flown there later by helicopter.

No guards were injured in the incident, said Sara Passmore of the Department of Offender Rehabilitation.

The disturbance broke out as about 500 prisoners were leaving the cell block for morning work details, she said.

The 39-year-old prison contains about 3,000 inmates, two-thirds of them black.

Mrs. Passmore said that the violence apparently had been planned and that questioning of prisoners indicated it stemmed from racial incidents of a day or two earlier.

A white inmate had complained to fellow whites that he had been attacked by blacks at the prison, and then whites had beaten a black inmate, she said prisoners told officers.

Corrections officials were not made aware of the incidents until Friday, she said.

Friday's fighting "lasted some 15 minutes until officers were able to line up the inmates against the institution fence," she said.

"It was a matter of inmates against inmates; the officers did not have to use force against the inmates," she said.

Guards later confiscated "all types of contraband, lots of homemade knives, metal objects, clubs, even locks wrapped in socks used to hit prisoners," Mrs. Passmore said.

Hoover 'memo' tells of Oswald threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover wrote a memorandum which said Lee Harvey Oswald told Cuban officials he intended to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, the Washington Post reported in Saturday's editions.

The newspaper said the memo has been discovered by the Justice Department, which refused any comment on the report.

The Post quoted informed sources as saying that Hoover, in the memo, attributed the information about Oswald to a highly reliable informant who claimed he was told it personally by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The newspaper reported that the memo said Castro reportedly was advised by officials of the Cuban embassy in Mexico City that they met with Oswald before Nov. 22, 1963, the date of Kennedy's assassination in Dallas.

Carter inauguration: formal but 'modest'

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter has ordered a modest, "people-oriented" inauguration but he still plans to wear a top hat, ride in a parade through Washington and attend a formal inaugural ball on Jan. 20, a press aide said Friday.

Carter reviewed inauguration plans Friday at his home with directors of his inauguration committee. He also discussed transition plans and White House staffing with Hamilton Jordan and Jack H. Watson, Jr., amid reports of a rivalry between the two top aides.

Jordan, Carter's campaign director, and Watson, head of the staff directing the transition from the Ford to the Carter administration, also denied at a news conference in nearby Americus Friday afternoon that they were competing with each other for Carter's attention.

Rex Granum, an assistant press secretary, told reporters that "several hundred thousand invitations" would be mailed out for the inaugural ceremonies but he said he did not know for what events the invitations could be used.

'Obviously they can't have several hundred thousand physically at the swearing in," he observed.

"We want to take away some of the aspects of a coronation," Granum said at a briefing that preceded the Jordan-Watson news conference. But he conceded that Carter would appear in formal attire, including a top hat.

Despite the number of invitations, he said, "the main direction ... is setting a tone that is more modest" than previous inaugural ceremonies.

The inauguration traditionally involves the actual swearing-in ceremony on the east side of the Capitol, overlooking what is normally a parking lot, a parade along Pennsylva.ia Avenue and a series of inaugural balls to which party faithful are invited and for which they pay.

Normally there is seating for less than 100,000 at invitational events but not all of those invited can always attend.

Granum said fees will be levied for some events "but the plan is to keep them in the range of the ordinary citizen."

Ex-Pomona police chief faces new charges of embezzlement

New charges of embezzlement and theft have been filed in Colorado against James W. Richards, whose brief stint as police chief of Pomona ended with his dismissal last September.

The additional charges, like the nine original counts filed against him by Arvada, Colo., officials, concern alleged thefts and embezzlement of funds from the Arvada Police Department while Richards was its chief.

Richards left the Arvad department to become Pomona's chief last August. He was suspended without pay after the original charges were filed Sept. 7, and was discharged Sept. 20.

The 25 additional felony and misdemeanor counts brought to 34 the total separate offenses filed against the 43-year-old former Ventura County Sheriff's Department captain. The new counts hiked the total amount allegedly misappropriated by Richards from $3,445 to $5,365.

The new charges were filed at a hearing in Golden, Colo., the county seat of Jefferson County, Thursday morning. District Judge Joseph P. Lewis allowed Richards to remain free on $10,000 bail pending the next hearing Dec. 20.

At Thursday's hearing, Richards' attorney, Charles Hoppin, withdrew from the case, telling Lewis that he feared a possible conflict of interests due to the fact that he is also representing a district attorney's investigator in an unrelated civil action.

That DA's investigator, John Kiekbush, was the chief investigator in the probe of the Richards case.

Among the latest charges against Richards are those which alleged that he kept funds returned by an officer who had drawn money to attend a seminar on homicide in Oklahoma; that he kept a department shotgun when he left to take the Pomona job; and that he used $483 advanced to him to attend a law enforcement conference in California to go to Pomona instead and seek the job as chief.

When he left his new $32,000-a-year job in Pomona, Richards stated that he is innocent of any wrongdoing and expected to be exonerated in court.

'SNOW WHITE'S BURIAL — A casket containing the body of an unidentified infant girl is carried to a grave in Dallas, Tex., Friday by Walter Baldree, who is accompanied by his wife. The Baldrees found the body in a trash can while searching for cans. They claimed the body after efforts to find the mother failed. Mrs. Baldree hocked her diamond ring to pay for the services and a cemetery donated the casket and grave. A marker will bear the name 'Snow White' which Mrs. Baldree named the child.

Sharing of revenue gets 'cool' reception

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Two students working on their master's thesis at the Claremont Graduate School have received little encouragement on their revenue-sharing proposal from the Claremont City Council.

Steven D. Rudman and Duane J. Ruffner think that citizens should have a greater opportunity in suggesting how federal revenue sharing funds are spent.

They submitted their proposal to the council Tuesday night and council members said they would rather have the citizenry turn out for hearings on the city's $4 million budget than for revenue sharing which amounts to only $150,000.

Rudman told the council that "ideally, we would like to devise an experimental model for the January 1977 hearing on revenue sharing that would encourage and provide for genuine citizen involvement."

Rudman said that he and Ruffner chose Claremont for their project "because it may be an ideal locale for resident participation."

When Rudman said that "obviously, revenue sharing has not been a major source of funding for services for the less fortunate and the aged," council members quickly replied that the city's dial-a-ride taxicab service and the Oakmont day care center are funded through federal revenue sharing.

Councilman Richard Newton said that citizen participation is evident if the interest is strong enough.

He said that he would like to work within the present structure of council and commissions.

"Claremont is very vocal, but they are not here when we discuss the city budget," commented Councilwoman Eleanor Cohen. "I would like to see that interest beefed up."

The men were advised to contact the Horizons committee which worked during the Claremont Bicentennial celebration.

In other matters this week, the council decided to sell a small plot of land west of the Rosemount tract and north of a 10-lot proposed tract along the Thompson Creek Flood Control Channel for a minimum asking price of $13,000 an acre.

The city has decided that the land is not easily usable as a park.

The council has accepted a recommendation from the city Human Resources Commission that county health department personnel be available on a weekly basis at the city's Senior Citizens Information and Referral Center.

Discarded dead infant is 'adopted' by family

DALLAS (AP) — The marker on the grave of the unidentified baby, whose body was found in a trash bin, will read simply "Snow White."

But "this baby now has a family who cares for her," says Mrs. Walter Baldree. She said she hocked her diamond ring to help pay for the baby's funeral.

Baldree, 40, an unemployed cabinet maker, and his wife found the baby's body while they were looking through trash bins in the apartment complex where they live. They were looking for aluminum cans they could sell.

The couple claimed the infant's body Monday, after 48 hours had passed without authorities identifying the mother. The Baldrees wanted to avoid having the city give the baby a pauper's burial, said a spokesman for the Dallas County medical examiner.

Tests are being made to determine whether the baby was stillborn or had died in the plastic bag in which it was found.

"It's hard for people to understand," Mrs. Baldree said, "that things can be replaced, clothing can be replaced, but human life can't. And this baby now has a family who cares for her."

The Baldrees have two daughters.

Spotlight on Crime

Purse snatcher strikes

An 86-year-old Claremont woman was knocked down and robbed of her purse Thursday evening as she was walking to her apartment in a retirement complex at 650 W. Harrison Ave., police reported.

The victim, Ruby G. Demoulin, was struck from behind by a man who leaped from bushes as she passed. He then wrenched her purse from her and ran in a southerly direction.

The woman's attacker was described as black, about 20, 5 feet 11 weighing 160 pounds. He wore dark clothing.

Market holdup foiled

Two men, one armed with a short-barrelled revolver, abandoned their effort to hold up the 7-Eleven Market at 795 N. Indian Hill Blvd. in Pomona Thursday night when the employe informed them he was unable to open the store safe.

The pair fled out the front door after taking nothing from the market. The armed man, who spoke broken English, was described as Latin, 18 to 20, 5 feet 8 weighing 140 pounds. He had long, stringy hair, a scar under one eye and wore a brown coat with a fur collar.

Pomonan, 23, ruled guilty in Valley murder

Cleveland Lyle Clark was found guilty of first-degree murder Friday by a Pomona Superior Court jury in the March 8 shooting of a downtown Pomona bartender.

Clark, 23, of Pomona, had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity in the killing of William Hyland, 30, in the Belinda Terrace bar.

The jury will reconvene Tuesday to consider the sanity phase of the case.

During the trial, Clark testified that he was under "the control of voices" the night he left the bar after being refused service and returned minutes later with a shotgun used to kill Hyland.

His companion that evening, Evelyn Miriam Terrell, 34, told the jury that Clark waved the patrons of the tavern out the back door of the business, then ordered the victim to place his head on the bar, proceeded to place the shotgun against the victim's head and pulled the trigger.

According to testimony the slaying followed a night of bar hopping by Clark and Mrs. Terrell, during which Clark was ejected from one establishment after consuming five drinks.

The couple then went to the Belinda Terrace, where Hyland refused to serve Clark because he had had enough to drink.

Mrs. Terrell herself was charged with murder at one time in the case. That charge was later dismissed, however, and she subsequently plead quilty to being an accessory after the fact and was given probation after spending three months in Patton State Hospital.

After the shooting Clark and Mrs. Terrell went to the residence of friends, where Clark got drunk. The pair were arrested when they left the residence later that night.

During the trial Clark admitted he felt outraged at having been refused service and felt that the bartender was prejudiced. Clark is black and Hyland was white.

He claimed that during the killing he had "flashes" of other times during his life when he was insulted and degraded by others.

Although now convicted of murder in the first degree, Clark does not face capital punishment since the prosecution did claim that "special circumstances" required for capital cases existed.

Hearst attorneys plan for detailed security

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Attorneys seeking bail for Patricia Hearst promised Friday to submit a detailed security plan that would allow the convicted heiress to live in relative safety with her family.

"The court obviously is very much concerned about her safety," said U.S. District Judge William H. Orrick during a 90-minute hearing on defense motions for bail pending appeal and for a new trial.

"Before I rule (on the bail motion), I want to review any plan for security," Orrick said.

The judge, who last September sentenced Miss Hearst to seven years in prison for bank robbery, did not indicate when he would rule on the new trial motion. The defense claimed the retrial was in order because the prosecution had suppressed some evidence beneficial to the defedant.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey said later that a security plan using federal marshals, or marshals and private guards, would be given Orrick early next week, with a ruling expected soon after.

The attorney said the plan was needed because of numerous threats against Miss Hearst for her reported willingness to testify against former companions in the Symbionese Liberation Army.

If Miss Hearst, 22, were granted bail, she still would not go free immediately. She faces state charges of robbery, kidnaping and assault related to a Los Angeles sporting goods store shooting incident.

Bail in that case has been set at $500,000 — a figure the defense says it will try to have reduced. She faces trial on those charges Jan. 10.

Expo 81 pact is extended

Skoog said that the 120-day extension would allow them "ample opportunity to evaluate the Allen and Co. contract from an economic standpoint." He noted that he did have reservations about amending the agreement with the city because it would change the basic applications before the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Bureau of International Expositions, possibly jeopardizing approval from these two bodies for federal and international recognition.

Bill Welsh, vice president of Expo 81 Corp., reminded the council that any agreement with Allen and Co. would still require approval of the council before becoming effective. Expo 81 Corp. is not empowered with the right to finalize an agreement such as this without council consent.

The city attorney suggested that there be specific language in the granting of the extension because the extension becomes part of the agreement. He also noted that the OMS Corp. board is legally required to concur before the action is final.

Mrs. Dastrup still objected to the longer extension, saying "I need more assurance that this indeed will be a Los Angeles fair . . . I would be more comfortable with extending the agreement if Los Angeles was supporting it."

The OMS Corp. board will meet at 4 p.m. Monday in Ontario City Hall conference room. George Mim Mack, Charles Cummins and Charles Milhiser of that board attended the Friday night council meeting.

Crowe will prepare a resolution for adoption by the council at its Tuesday night meeting.

CANCER FORUMS PLANNED

Hesta Damon, left, in-service education director at Glendora Community Hospital, Dr. Norvelle Harris, pathologist, and Ronald Porter, hospital administrator, discuss with Ruth Stevens, right, nuclear medicine department supervisor, the operation of a machine used to make X-ray images after the injection of radio-active material in a patient. The group will participate in public forums on cancer shceduled next week.

Valley residents will get chance to learn more about cancer

A rare opportunity to talk with physicians about the various types of cancer, its incidence and control, will be offered valley residents next week.

The series of programs is being offered through a cooperative venture by six community hospitals, the American Cancer Society and the Los Angeles County-USC Comprehensive Cancer Center's oncology consultant program.

Dr. Norvelle Harris, professional education chairman of the American Cancer Society's Northeast Los Angeles County Unit, has initiated the series of free public forums.

Dr. Harris said the concerted effort to update and improve the level of cancer awareness in the community is the best weapon against cancer.

Hospitals participating in the educational program are Foothill Presbyterian, Glendora Community, Inter-Community of Covina, Queen of the Valley and West Covina.

In addition to the public sessions, a concomitant program will continue through the week for physicians and nurses.

The principal speaker at several of the sessions will be a nationally known oncologist, Dr. Richard A. Bohannon of San Francisco.

The public will be able to hear Dr. Bohannon on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Foothill Presbyterian Hospital, Glendora. His talk will be entitled "The Patient's Role in Cancer Control."

Dr. Bohannon will speak again at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Marchant Park Recreation Building, 425 E. Juanita Ave., San Dimas, discussing "Melanoma, the Modern Black Plague and What You Can Do About It."

Also planned Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the San Dimas Community Hospital, will be a panel on "Lung Cancer, the Smoker's Scourge." Panelists will include Dr. Harris, Dr. H.D. Elshire, and other local physicians.

At 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dr. Bohannon will talk at the West Covina Hospital. His topic will be "Breast Cancer, Where We Are."

The program planned for Thursday at 7:30 p.m. will be a panel on "The Unmentionable Invader — Colon and Rectal Cancer." The program at Glendora Community Hospital will feature Dr. Harris, a pathologist, Dr. J. Douglas Smith, an oncologist, and Dr. P. Atil, a surgeon.

Younger eyes governor's race in '78

By BOB SWETNAM
PB Staff Writer

State Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger is definitely eyeing the upcoming gubernatorial election in 1978 as a possible challenger to Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., he revealed Friday in a visit to Pomona.

When asked if he planned to seek the Republican nomination for governor, Younger responded, "It's obviously something I should be thinking about."

First elected to statewide office in 1970 as attorney general, Younger had previously been district attorney for Los Angeles County.

He has been a frequent critic of many of the faults of the criminal justice system which he feels "often favors the rights of the accused over the rights of the victims in a crime."

Younger revealed he had a very good chance to win the governor's race because "I am probably potentially the strongest candidate for governor.

"I received more votes in the 1974 elections than any other Republican candidate in the nation," he said.

When asked if he thought the Republican party could mount an effective campaign against the state's popular governor, Edmund G. Brown Jr., Younger responded, "California voters are very independant and I think the honeymoon with the governor is over."

Younger explained that a choice between himself and the present governor "would be a clear cut decision on the issues."

In the event that Younger decides not to run for the governor's office, he did say he will seek another term as attorney general.

"This is one of the best and most rewarding jobs there is anywhere in public service," he said.

"We have one of the finest and most sophisticated criminal justice systems in the world. And I am a fortunate man. I really enjoy what I'm doing."

On other issues, Younger was frank.

"I was very concerned during the turbulent 1960s with this idea of 'do your own thing.' Individual responsibility was talked about as though it was outdated.

"If those types of philosophies had been followed to their inevitable conclusion it would have led to anarchy. Luckily the pendulum swung the other way," Younger said.

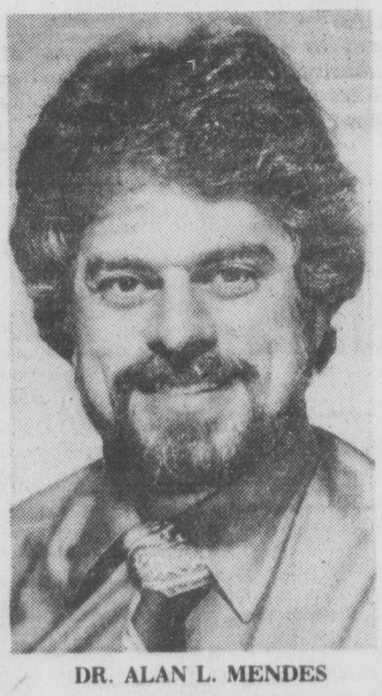
"People are now beginning to realize that prisons are made to protect the 'good' guys from the 'bad' guys."

When asked if he felt the tide had been turned in the battle against crime, Younger responded, "Things are getting worse more slowly. It is an improvement and sometime soon the crime rates are going to come down.

"This is due to the public's changing attitude towards crime. They are scared and they want to see something done to make the streets safe to walk at night.

"It is starting to be reflected in the courts, in the legislatures, and even in the press, that people will not stand for any more crime."

DR. STEPHEN PECK



DR. ALAN L. MENDES

Two join medical staff at hospital

They are Dr. Stephen H. Peck, orthopedic surgeon and Dr. Alan L. Menkes, internist.

Both doctors have most recently been in practice in Florida.

Dr. Menkes graduated from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine in Philadelphia, Pa., where he was employed as a clinical medical technologist for the training of blood bank personnel. He completed his internship at Zieger Botsford Osteopathic Hospital and did his residency in internal medicine at Osteopathic General Hospital in North Miami Beach.

Dr. Menkes entered private practice of internal medicine in North Miami Beach and held the position of senior attending physician of the department of internal medicine and as an associate in the division of nuclear medicine there.

Until moving to Pomona, Dr. Menkes was in private practice in Hallandale, Fla., and on the staffs of three area hospitals.

Dr. Peck, a native of Korea, attended Vincennes University in Indiana where he received his certification in Medical Technology of American College of Clinical Pathology at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Vincennes, Ind.

He was director of the Clinical Laboratory at Mount Clemons General Hospital, Mount Clemons, Mich., before entering the Kansas City College of Osteopathic Medicine in 1965.

After his graduation, Dr. Peck served his internship at the Rocky Mountain Hospital in Denver, Colo. He was in general practice in Seattle, Wash., for two years.

Dr. Peck then went to Sun Coast Hospital in Largo, Fla., for orthopedic and traumatic surgery residency from 1972 to 1976. He moved to Pomona in July.

Brown appoints five women

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. has appointed women to fill five judicial posts, including one held by a dead judge who was reelected last Tuesday.

Brown's action Monday means that women have been named to 24 of the 153 judgeships filled by the Democratic governor since he took office in 1975.

One YTS ward pleads guilty

Accused of taking part in escape

By TONY AULT
PB Staff Writer

One of seven Youth Training School wards accused of taking part in the Sept. 21 riot and mass escape at the Chino institotion that left two security guards injured has pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon in Chino Municipal Court.

Jordon Flagg, 21, entered guilty pleas to two counts of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do great bodily injury, one count of false imprisonment, and one count of escape.

He was ordered to appear Dec. 3 in West Valley Superior Court for probation hearing and sentencing.

Flagg was accused of overpowering one security guard after feigning illness in a holding cell and later attacking a second guard.

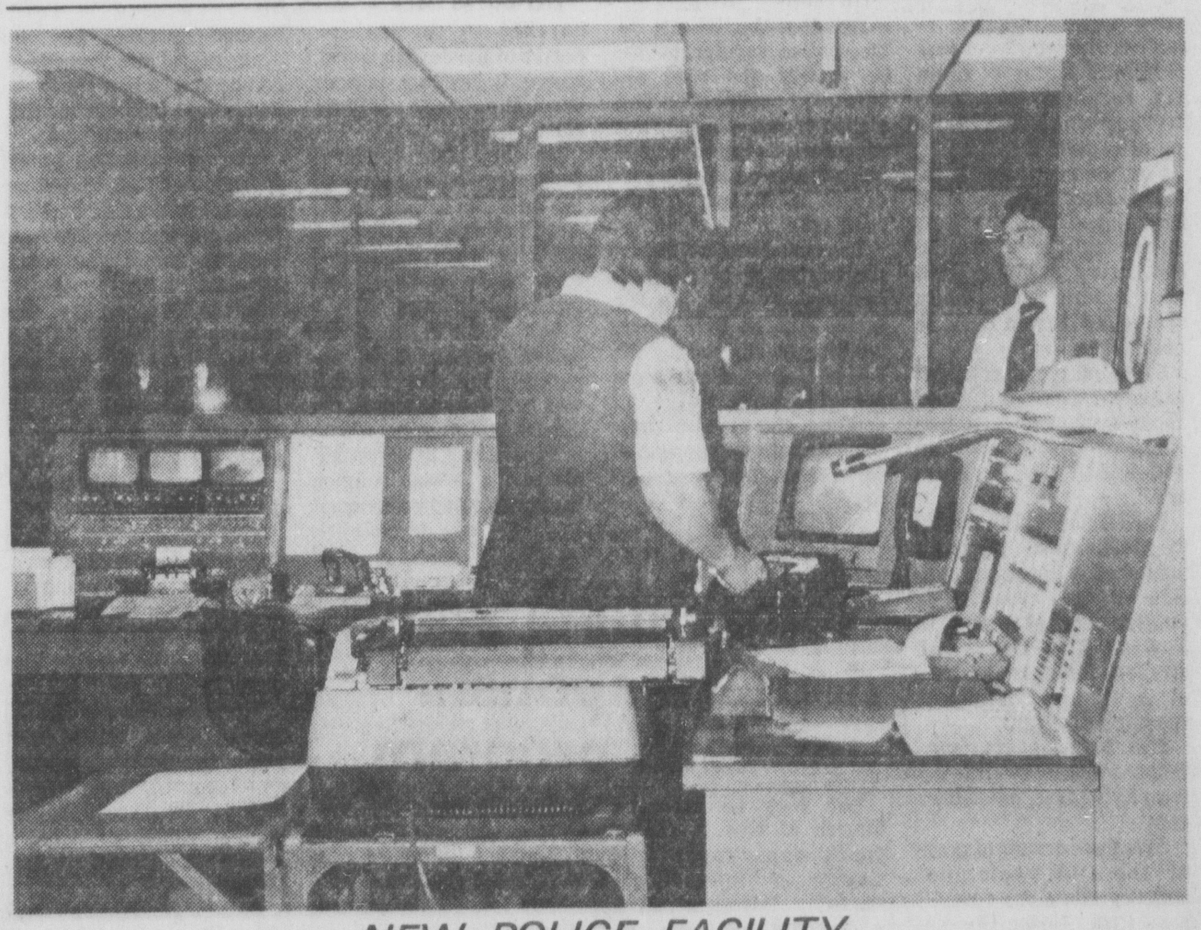
This precipitated a mass escape by himself and 11 other inmates and a riot in several living units. All the wards were later apprehended.

Flagg pleaded guilty to assaulting Officer Urban Standiford three weeks before the riot and assaulting Officer Tapiri Tabisuri moments before the riot.

He also pleaded guilty to the false imprisonment of Officer Gary Cauble, who was most seriously injured during the incident. All the offenses carry state prison terms.

The guilty pleas were made by Flagg with the understanding that a charge of attempted murder would be dismissed, said officials.

The other six inmates accused of attacking guards on Sept. 21 are scheduled to appear Monday in the Chino court for further preliminary hearings.



NEW POLICE FACILITY

Chino police dispatcher Carol Ulrick mans the new sophisticated dispatch and security control center in the Chino Police Department building on Central Avenue and Chino Avenue. The control center features closed circuit television in nearly every room in the building and the parking lot. Police moved into the new station earlier this week.

Chino police catch two young suspects

Chino police have accused two youths with kidnaping, robbing and stealing the car of an Ontario resident in Chino Wednesday night.

One youth lives in Montclair and the second is a runaway from Rubidoux. They weren't identified because of their ages.

Officers said they arrested the Montclair suspect at his home and the second youth at his mother's Chino home following a day-long investigation.

A series of composite sketches by the victim, David Holland, 21, matched the Rubidoux runaway, said investigators. The youth was known to have a friend in Montclair.

Holland was driving on the freeway Wednesday night when flagged down by two youths near Ramona Avenue, said police. The youths produced a handgun and directed Holland to drive in an easterly direction.

They took his wallet before forcing Holland from his pickup. The robbers then drove towards Riverside. The victim's truck wasn't located, said police.

Pomona mayor will discuss city's progress

Pomona Mayor Ray Lepire will discuss Pomona's progress during 1976 and look ahead to the new year Thursday, Nov. 18, when he is guest speaker at a breakfast sponsored by the Pomona Jaycees.

The breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. at the Pomona Elks Lodge.

Cost is $3 for a complete breakfast.

Space is limited and reservations may be made by calling the Pomona Chamber of Commerce at 622-1256 or 623-3016.

Dairy held up

Scott's Dairy at 1043 E. Philadelphia St. in Pomona was robbed Thursday night by a man wearing a woman's wig, police reported.

William A. Delaney, 18, said the man approached, told him he had a pistol in a cloth bag he carried and demanded money. After getting cash, the man fled southbound.

Valley churches

Temple Sholom of Ontario

Temple Sholom of Ontario will celebrate ORT Sabbath, Friday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. Rabbi A. Yisroel Klein will officiate and the guest speaker will be Mrs. Ferrel Salen, past president.

The Oneg Shabbath social hour will be hosted by members of the East Valley Women's ORT organization.

Saturday, Nov. 20, the traditional service will begin at 9 a.m. At 10 a.m. Rabbi Klein will discuss the Torah portion.

Sunday, Nov. 21, the religious school will meet at 10 a.m. The Sunday lecture series will feature Dr. Sidney Blumner whose subject will be, "Economic Prospects After the Election." A coffee social hour will precede the lecture.

Temple Sholom is a family oriented conservative congregation catering to the religious, educational and social needs of the Jewish Community.

It conducts a weekday Hebrew School which prepares the student for Bar/Bar Mitzvah. The Sunday religious school has classes starting with kindergarten through confirmation. Temple Sholom is located at 963 W. Sixth St., Ontario. For information please call 983-9661.

Valley Community Drive-in

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday the film "Red River of Life" will be shown at the Valley Community Drive-In Church.

Produced by the Moody Institute of Science, the film presents a story of the heart, the red blood cell and circulatory system. It also shows the first pictures ever made of the interior of an actual beating heart. The public is invited to attend, admission is free. An offering will be received during the program.

Christ Lutheran Church

For the 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church in Chino, the Chi Rho's, a guitar and singing group composed of three couples, will provide special music.

The musicians also are the youth group leaders at the church.

At 1 p.m. the same day, there is to be a youth barbecue. An afternoon of games concluding with Bible study is planned.

Grace Baptist Church

Eleventh Street Baptist

"CORRIE: Behind the Scenes with THE HIDING PLACE," a movie, will be shown at Eleventh Street Baptist Church in Upland Sunday at 6 p.m.

United Church of Christ

The Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational, Claremont, will observe Christian Stewardship Sunday with a dedication of the 1977 pledges in the 10 a.m. worship service.

Northminster Presbyterian

Northminster Presbyterian Church of Diamond Bar is celebrating St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 21, at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Following the service there will be Scottish shortbread, strong tea and a bagpiper, Dwayne Douglas.

St. Andrew's Day is an annual Scottish Holiday. Andrew, one of the 12 desciples, is revered in Scotland as a national religious symbol and the only Presbyterian saint. Visitors are welcome to join us on this religious holiday.

Bethel Baptist Church

"CORRIE: Behind the Scenes with THE HIDING PLACE," a new movie from World Wide Pictures, will be shown at Bethel Baptist Church, Pomona, Sunday at 6 p.m.

THE HIDING PLACE, a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who with her father, sister, and brother, provided refuge for countless Jewish families. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Boom's activities were discovered, and they were sent to prisons and concentration camps.

L.V. Church of Brethren

La Verne College Sunday will be observed at the Sunday 10:30 a.m. worship service at the La Verne Church of the Brethren.

College students will take part in various aspects of the service. Music will be presented by a brass quartet and a women's vocal quartet.

The offertory will be by Randy Miller on guitar. A skit written and performed by La Verne college students will be enacted during the service.

Church members will invite Brethren College students into their homes for a meal following the service.

Valley Unitarian Society

"Big Problems and the Creative Stance" will be the subject of Dr. Stanley Waldrop, guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday service of the Unitarian Society of Pomona Valley, Montclair.

Dr. Waldrop is a professor of psychology at Chaffey College and a marriage and family counselor.

Claremont Presbyterian

The congregation at Claremont Presbyterian Church has elected new church officers for three year terms, beginning next January.

They are George Bailey, John Bobo, Ann McIntyre, Larry Robertson and Merrill Smith, elder-trustees; Gloria Aluzas, Emma Burt, Frances Creighton, Benjamin Fuente, Dorothy Harris, Ray Ross and Marian Thum, deacons; and Harland Goodrich, treasurer.

The Rev. E. Eugene Nuff, executive presbyter of San Gabriel Presbytery, will be speaker Sunday at the 10 a.m. service.

Three new Pilgrim soloists selected

The pilgrim congregational Church reports three new church soloists have been selected for the Pilgrim Quartet.

They are Nancy Emery, soprano; Mary Heyler, contralto and Clark Mallory, tenor. Mrs. Emery is a graduate of Lawrence College and is working for her master's degree at Claremont Colleges. Miss Heyler is a senior at Cal Poly, Pomona, where she serves as soloist with the concert choir and in the opera workshops. She has been engaged to sing in opera in Arizona next spring. Mallory is finishing his master's degree at Cal State Fullerton. Besides singing, he plays all keyed instruments, the flute and viola.

The senior member of the quartet is Richard Arhlen, baritone, in his 24th year at this church. Frank Cummings is the minister of music.

Camp Farthest Out meets

Mrs. Vivian Williams of San Dimas, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Pomona Valley Camp Farthest Out Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 13, in the East Lounge of Claremont Manor, Claremont.

Mrs. Williams has two groups meeting in her home each week for Bible study, prayer, and healing, and she also does much private work with the sick. Her subject for the meeting will be "Attaining Wholeness."

All are welcome.

Missouri Synod district chief heads new group

The Rev. Paul Jacobs, president of the California-Nevada District of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, was called to serve as presiding bishop of the newly formed Pacific Regional Synod of the Association of Evangelical Lutheran Churches (AELC), at its constituting convention in San Francisco.

Mr. Jacobs has served as district president within the Missouri Synod for 17 years, but is among eight district presidents who oppose the current direction of that church body. Five of those eight have resigned from office in recent months. Mr. Jacobs must now choose between his existing call from the Missouri Synod or the new call from the Pacific Regional Synod.

Acknowledging the convention's action, President Jacobs stated to the assembly, "I will give your call my prayerful consideration. When you have struggled with the possibility of death you get a new understanding of what faith is. I commit everything in the faithful hands of the Lord.

"This assembly is the beginning of a new day for the evangelical spirit in the Lutheran Church. What we have witnessed is the power of the orignizational structure opposing the power of the Gospel. God Himself will supply the wisdom and the strength we need," he said.

TV film offers real story of Jesus?

ROME (AP) — "I'm not trying to convert anyone," says Franco Zeffirelli of his latest and certainly most controversial work, a television epic on the life of Christ portrayed as "Jewish from head to toe."

With an ecumenical cast and Christian and Jewish religious advisers, Zeffirelli and crew have spent $12 million in what is billed as an attempt to strip away the legend and separate the man Jesus from the myth.

"I'm offering what we think is the real story," said the Italian director, who shot to international fame with his "Taming of the Shrew" and "Romeo and Juliet."

Entitled "The Life of Jesus," Zeffirelli's epic will be televised next year in the United States (NBC), Britain and Italy as starters, serialized in six episodes concluding on Easter Sunday.

Zeffirelli hopes his epic breaks new ground in portrayals of Christ as seen in the more than a dozen films made on his life ranging from "King of Kings" to "Jesus Christ Superstar."

This new version, for instance, pictures the Virgin Mary, played by Olivia Hussey, suffering labor pains. It also shows a graphic, bloody crucifixion scene.

Forty-three per cent of the 86,245,000 citizens who filed income tax returns in 1976 paid for professional help in filling out their forms.

Saga of world's oldest Hebrew Bible

JERUSALEM (AP) — Like the message it carries, the world's oldest complete Hebrew Bible has survived invasions, fire, pogroms and the passing of centuries.

For more than 1,000 years, Jews have guarded the "aleppo crown" codex, ransoming it from Gentile conquerors, hiding it from maurauders and finally smuggling it from Syria to Israel.

Some of the parchment pages are badly faded and about a quarter of it was damaged by fire during an anti-Jewish riot 28 years ago.

The Hebrew University in Jerusalem recently published a facsimile edition of the codex. The publication, of value to Jewish and Christian scholars alike, is the fruit of a $130,000, four-year research program.

The 600-page reproductions, printed by the university's press, cost $400 a copy.

"We have scrolls of parts of the Old Testament which predate the codex," says Prof. Moshe Goshen-Gottstein, who headed the research, "but this is the oldest Old Testament we have. Older ones have vanished in antiquity."

Unlike a scroll, which is printed on only one side, a codex is a manuscript bound like a book, with writing on both sides of the page, Goshen-Gottstein explained in an interview.

He said, "Ritual demands that the Hebrew Bible, unlike secular books, be spelled and read absolutely correctly. The aleppo crown was the first manuscript ever to include instructions on all the correct spellings and readings."

The codex was written at the beginning of the 10th century by the master scribe Aharon Ben Asher, working in Tiberias by the Sea of Galiwe. He fills the margins with notes on spelling and cryptic signs to guide future generations of scribes and worshippers.

The sacred volume was carried to Jerusalem, center of the Jewish world, where it became famous throughout the Middle East.

In the 11th century, Jerusalem was sacked by the crusaders, then by the Arab Seljuks. The Jews of the city were massacred and their possessions burned and looted.

Ben Asher's Bible was seized and carried off, apparently to Cairo. There it was held for ransom to the Jewish community.

"There is a basic principle in the Jewish religion that people and books must be ransomed," said Goshen-Gottstein. So the Jews raised the money — no one knows how much — and bought the book for the Jewish library of Cairo.

But new troubles beset the Middle East. Christian crusaders again battled Moslems, and the heathen Mongols threatened from the east.

In the 14th century, the volume was taken to the Syrian city of Aleppo. There it received its present name — the "aleppo crown" — and became enshrined in the main synagogue of the large Jewish community.

The fame of the ,codex spread. Scholars came from as far as Poland to study it. After the reformation in the 1500s, Christians also began to realize the manuscript's worth.

The Bible was stored in a special vault behind the ark of the synagogue, with an elaborate, multi-keyed lock. Only when all the leading rabbis of Aleppo assembled could it be opened.

Folk legends grew up about the magic powers of the codex. Touching it could cure disease, and women sought its power for the birth of sons.

Gethsemane youth dept. to sponsor outreach program

The New Gethsemane Church of God in Christ youth department will sponsor an "International Christian Outreach" at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Amos Dixon of Kenya who will give a brief overview of his nation, presently one of Africa's most stable black nations.

He will tell how Christian missionary efforts have caused a significant rise in the number of christians, particularly among young people. He will cover the educational system and the need for international concern.

This follows the presentation last Sunday on Haite, presented by Dorothy Webster Exume, a long time missionary.

Mr. Dixon is associated with Melodyland of Anaheim and plans to complete further theological studies prior to returning to Kenya. He is accompanied in the United States by his wife and three children.

Prayer vigils to give thanks

Members of the Diamond Bar Congregational Church will have a special time of prayer and thanksgiving starting Nov. 24 at 8 a.m. and ending Nov. 25 at 8 a.m.

They will participate in individual hour-long prayer vigils at the church.

On Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m., there will be a Thanksgiving service to include music by soloists and the choir. Hymns and liturgy will be in the early American pilgrim tradition.

Film on Jesus

"The crucifixion was a shattering, gruesome act, offensive to human life. And we have pictured it so," the director said.

To tell his story, Zeffirelli cast some of the world's leading film stars as disciples and in other supporting roles. They include Lord Laurence Olivier as Nicodemus, Rod Steiger as Pontius Pilate, Anne Bancroft as Mary Magdalene, Peter Ustinov as Herod the Great.

But for Christ, Zeffirelli cast a relatively unknown British actor, Robert Powell, who jumped from the rock musical "Tommy" and "Mahler" to the role.

Zeffirelli emphasizes that his version is an attempt to weave an historical tapestry, not simply a Christian legend, and therefore depicts Christ as Jewish, something obviously known but not always stressed.

Christianity was invented long after his death," the director said.

Christ was born and died an Orthodox Jew," said producer Vincenzo Labella, who produced another religious epic for TV on the Life of Moses.

Zeffirelli's Christ is pictured as a victim of the Jewish establishment because he threatened the status quo, although actually put to death by the Romans.

Zeffirelli said the two rabbis who served as advisers had no complaints with the version, although some Roman Catholics have objected to the scene of Mary in labor. Zeffirelli is a Roman Catholic.

The man who played Christ, 31-year-old Powell, said he hopes they were successful in touching on areas ignored in previous versions.

"Christ did not go up elegantly onto the cross. He went up in pain. I hope we got this across."

The TV viewer will find the version as spectacular as the film company hopes it is innovative.

For the temple of Jerusalem, for instance, the company spent some $600,000 alone to convert an ancient fortress in Monastir, Tunisia.

TV sets

TV sets are now more popular than telephones or automobiles, according to RCA Corp. There are 364 million televisions in the world, compared with 360 million telephones and 300 million cars and trucks.

Valley churches

Good Shepherd Lutheran

Six children from the Miracle Ranch Orphanage near Ensenada, Mexico, will present a program Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Claremont.

The children will be joined by their directors, Tony and Edna Hernandez.

Seventh-day Adventist

Dan E. Dirksen and Dan Dirksen Jr., representatives for the "Faith for Today" television program, will present a program today at 4:30 p.m. at the Pomona Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The program will include both music and a sermon.

Trinity marks Methodists' 100 years

The Trinity United Methodist Church will host a special service Sunday at 7 p.m. as part of a year-long celebration marking Methodism's 100 years in Pomona.

Affiliated Methodist churches in Pomona and Claremont will participate. The churches and ministers include Westmont United Methodist, the Rev. Antonio Flores; Covenant United Methodist, the Rev. Q. E. Henricks; Philadelphia Street United Methodist, the Rev. Richard McPherson; and Claremont United Methodist, the Rev. James Dallas.

The Rev. David Edwards, pastor of the host church, and John Black, minister of visitation, arranged the program.

Members will present stories of their own churches. They include Jerry Snyder, Westmont, Leighton Jones, Philadelphia Street, Lois Seifert, Claremont, Dorothy Grumbein, Covenant and Virginia Siler, Trinity.

Combined choirs from all the churches will join in singing the anthem, "Oh, Love How Deep."

A social hour will follow the service in the fellowship hall.

3 back from workshop in Kansas

The Rev. Leland Wilson, La Verne, Mrs. Ernest Ikenberry, La Verne, and Mrs. Judy Woodruff, Pomona, have returned from McPherson College, McPherson, Kan., where they participated in the second annual Class Agent workshop.

Class Agents represent their graduating classes as contact persons for class news. This information is gathered and printed in a class letter written by the Agent and sent to each member. News about the college is also included in the letter.

McPherson College also implements an annual spring telethon and each Class Agent assists in coordinating the telethon center in one of five geographical areas. Forty McPherson College graduating classes are represented by Class Agents.

2 adult study groups to meet

Two adult study groups will meet Sunday at 10:10 a.m. at the United Methodist Church, Claremont between worship services.

Speaking at one will be C. Dean Freudenberger, professor of International Studies and Missions at the Claremont School of Theology and a specialist on the subject of hunger. His topic will be "Volcanoes: The Environmental Context of Hunger."

The other group will discuss "Death With Dignity and The Living Will." This will deal with the current trends of having lives extended by artificial means long after all hope of recovery is gone.

The group will be led by the Rev. John Flucke, United Church of Christ pastor, former president of both the Southern California and Los Angeles Councils of Churches.

Japanese paintings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Museum of Art has acquired five important Japanese paintings of the Edo period (1615-1868).

George Kuwayama, senior curator of Far Eastern art, says the paintings are from the most creative, varied and prolific periods in Japanese art.

The paintings were purchased with funds donated by Frederick Weisman and Associates. "The biggest Japanese population of the United States is in Los Angeles," said museum trustee Weisman. "My hope is that with this gift interest will be stimulated in the community."

Saccharine, a synthetic sweetening agent, was discovered in 1879.

SAINT SWEEP San Dimas quarterback Don Hargett (17) dashes around left end in first quarter action Friday night at Bonita High. Saints clinched first Hacienda League grid title ever with 20-3 victory over Ontario, and will open 2A playoff action at home next Friday night

Saints clinch first title ever

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

San Dimas High nailed down its first-ever Hacienda League football title Friday night at Bonita, disposing of Ontario 20-3 behind a murderous rushing attack.

The final score of the contest was a bit misleading, as San Dimas had two long touchdown runs by Perry Aris called back, and also turned the ball over five times on fumbles to halt other drives.

Even so, Saint coach Bob Baiz was pleased with the win.

"Ontario played us tough, they have some good talent," Baiz said. "They proved they are a much better team than their final record (3-6) would indicate. Of course, those two touchdowns being called back and our fumbles early in the game kept the score down."

The Saints, who finished Hacienda play with a perfect 7-0 slate, went into the game with the Jaguars as huge favorites, but nearly were the victims of a big upset.

Progress Bulletin
Sports
Pomona, California ■ Saturday, November 13, 1976

Ontario, given the ball no less than four times in the first quarter on Saint fumbles, finally cashed in one of those miscues for a 26-yard field goal by Fernando Ramirez late in that opening quarter.

Ramirez' boot came as a result of a fumble recovery by Ralph Alcala and a 17-yard run by Bill Haselrig. The Saint defense held at their own 11, but on fourth down Ramirez connected to put the Jags on top.

A Saint fumble recovery, by Steve Coulter, finally seemed to get the hosts fired up early in the second period. They drove 66 yards for a go-ahead touchdown, and never again were threatened.

Key plays in that scoring drive were runs of 28 and 20 yards by fullback Bob Pleasant and halfback Aris respectively. Aris did the scoring honors, taking it in from the eight, with Sonny La Fargue adding the PAT kick.

Pleasant got off the longest run of the night on the Saints' next possession, racing 71 yards to the Ontario end zone later in the second quarter to make it 14-3 in San Dimas' favor.

The TD for the senior fullback was his 14th rushing score of the year, tieing Wayne Moses' school record. Pleasant, along with Aris, had big nights as the Saints amassed 296 yards on the ground.

Pleasant raced for 194 yards on only 16 carries, while Aris had 85 yards on only nine totes, and had those two long TD scampers called back due to rules infractions by his mates.

The Saints added their final score early in the final quarter, with Aris blasting 15 yards up the middle for the TD, the final play of an 11-play, 83-yard march. A Don Hargett pass for two points failed.

Ontario, which finished with 155 yards in total offense compared to the Saints' 296, was paced by workhorse fullback Tommy Jefferson. The sophomore netted 88 yards on 22 carries.

Neither team passed the football well, the wet field making it difficult to throw. San Dimas did not complete a pass in three attempts, while Ontario was two-for-seven for 30 yards but had two passes picked off.

The first of those interceptions, by Fred Brubaker, ended an Ontario scoring threat late in the first half. The second, by Aris, came on the final play of the night.

Baiz announced after the game that the Saints will play their CIF playoff opener next Friday night at 8 p.m. at Bonita High. The CIF office will decide Sunday afternoon who the Saints' opponent will be.

Giants look for CIF berth

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Ganesha High had to come from behind twice in the fourth quarter Friday night to down host Upland, 27-22, and remain in contention for a CIF playoff berth.

The Giants finished their San Antonio League season in third place with a 5-2 record, but lost their two pre-league contests for a lackluster 5-4 overall mark. They will have to wait until the CIF office makes up its playoff pairings Sunday to see whether that office grants the SAL three postseason spots.

But they certainly did themselves no harm with their spirited effort Friday night, overcoming Upland leads three times during the game.

Ganesha scored 20 points and Upland tallied eight in a wild fourth quarter that was climaxed when Floyd Eddings of the Giants dove one yard for a touchdown with 31 seconds left after coach Garry Norvell had used his final time out.

The Giants scored that TD less than three minutes after the game Highlanders had taken the lead for the third time on a 30-yard run by Paul Lindsey and a two-point pass from quarterback Steve Davenport to Doug Lindsey, Paul's brother.

That put the Scots ahead 22-21 with just 3:22 remaining in the game, but the Giants began their next series on their own 42-yard line and drove to Eddings' score on just nine plays.

The first play of that series was extremely fortunate for Ganesha. Halfback Bennie Gooden fumbled the ball about five yards in front of the line of scrimmage, but his momentum carried him forward to where the loose ball landed and he fell on it for not only a recovery but a first down.

The Highlanders, who finished the year with a 2-5 league mark and a 2-7 overall record, took a 14-7 lead into the fourth quarter.

But Eddings, who rushed for 100 yards on 15 carries, scored on a 29-yard run five plays into the final period. He pushed two defenders aside at about the 20 and sped the rest of the way unthreatened for the score. He then ran for a two-point conversion, giving the Giants a 15-14 lead with 10:18 to play.

Upland failed to move the ball on its next series and had to punt from its own 27. But Ganesha's John Melton, a 6-foot-2, 195-pound defensive tackle, broke through to block Davenport's kick, scooped up the ball and ran it back to the five.

Madrigal scored on a keeper from the three two plays later and missed on the PAT kick, leaving Ganesha ahead, 21-14, with 7:02 remaining.

But Upland was far from done. The Scots drove 69 yards for a touchdown on their next series, with Paul Lindsey crossing the goal line on a determined 30-yard run. Lindsey was the game's leading rusher with 113 yards on 21 carries for the night.

Since Upland coach Bob Holycross wanted a tie no more than Norvell, the Scots went for two points and made it. Davenport rolled to his right while Doug Lindsey just stepped into the end zone, spun around and went down on one knee. Davenport hit him perfectly to give Upland its last lead of the game, 22-21.

Each team scored following a turnover in the first half. Ganesha's Earl James recovered a misdirected Upland pitchout at the Highlander 23 late in the first quarter, leading two-yard keeper by Madrigal with 1:55 left in the period. Madrigal's kick made it 7-0.

With two minutes left in the first half and Madrigal throwing long, Upland's Dwayne Davis picked off the pass at his own 48 and returned it to Ganesha's 43.

After two short runs by Paul Lindsey, Davenport tossed an arcing pass to Doug Lindsey for a 36-yard TD. Davenport added the PAT kick for a 7-7 halftime score.

Davenport completed eight of 15 passes for 122 yards. He was intercepted once, but that was on the last play of the game.

Madrigal hit on five of 13 aerials for 81 yards and one interception. Gooden rushed for 75 yards on 16 tries, giving the Giants 214 yards on the ground.

Ganesha ran 56 plays for 295 yards to Upland's 49 for 246. The Giants earned 15 first downs to the Scots' 11.

Pacers meet, fall to Jabbar, Lakers

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES — Back in the familiar confines of the fabulous Forum, the Lakers had enough to put away the visiting Indiana Pacers, 117-106, Friday night.

It wasn't a particularly well played game on either side, but the Lakers had the usual superlative performance from Kareem Abdul Jabbar and that was the difference.

Jabbar scored 34 points, 17 rebounds and three blocked shots. Lucius Allen had a great first half (22 points in 20 minutes played) and a bad second half (six points in 17 min.).

But, barring trade, the future was on display in the persons of Kermit Washington and rookie Earl Tatum. Washington, who shows signs of developing rapidly toward the power forward the Lakers need so badly, scored 10 points and had 11 rebounds in 23 minutes. He also picked up five fouls and that is something that he will have to improve on.

Tatum flashed dazzling quickness and abundent raw ability. In 28 minutes, he scored 14 points and stole the ball six times.

"Tatum has great basketball instinct and that's something you can't coach," said coach Jerry West. "We wanted him to watch a couple of games from the bench and I think it helped him. He's a great kid and he's going to be an excellent player."

The game was the first of a four-game homestand for the Lakers (5-6) and the fifth of a seven-game road trip for the Pacers. It was the second game of a four-games-in-four-nights schedule for the Indianans who sometimes looked as though it were the second in one night.

Forward Billy Knight , a second-round draft choice of the Lakers in 1974, topped the visitors with 29 points. "The only thing wrong with him is he's wearing the wrong color uniform," joked West.

The Lakers coach remains dissatisfied with his team's passing. "It's what we do worst collectively," he said in response to a question. "Did I think it was better tonight? No."

The Lakers host Cleveland Sunday (7 p.m.), Golden State next Friday and the New York Nets a week from Sunday.

Cards' Gray may play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mel Gray, the fleet wide receiver of the St. Louis Cardinals may see action against the Los Angeles Rams after all.

Gray suffered a broken nose and underwent surgery two weeks ago. He wasn't scheduled to play in Los Angeles, but a team spokesman said the speedster from Missouri would fly to Los Angeles and be in uniform for the game.

The Cardinals came to the Southern California area early and have been practicing in Riverside.

Earthquakes rehire coach

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The San Jose Earthquakes of the North American Soccer League on Friday signed Coach Gabbo Gavric to a two-year contract.

Gavric coached the Earthquakes this past season and for parts of the 1974 and 1975 seasons.

CCAA honors Dennis Sherow

Dennis Sherow, who led Cal Poly Pomona to the 1976 NCAA Division II baseball championship, will be honored tonight at the halftime of the football game against Cal Poly San Luis Obispo.

He will receive the California Collegiate Athletic Association Athlete of the Year award by CCAA Commissioner Lew Comer.

Sherow, who was drafted by the Montreal Expos on the second round of the June free agent draft, has been playing for the Expos' Florida Instructional League team.

He led Poly to the title with a .396 average, 108 hits, 12 home runs, 10 triples and 22 stolen bases.

Only Finley drafts Allen

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland A's were the only team to select veteran first baseman Dick Allen of Philadelphia Friday at a special free-agent draft conducted by major league baseball.

Allen became eligible for the draft because he signed his 1976 contract with the Phillies after the basic agreement between baseball and the Players Association was signed in July. He declared for the free-agent option last week and the special draft was held by telephonic hookup with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's Manhattan offices.

Because only one team selected him, Allen is now eligible to be signed by any of the 26 major league clubs.

The first 17 clubs drafting passed on Allen. Then Oakland, picking No. 18, selected him before the remaining teams also passed.

After the 1976 season, the Phillies said they did not plan to have Allen back with the club next year.

Allen, 34, batted .269 with 15 home runs and 49 RBIs in 85 games with the Phillies last season. In 13 major league seasons, he has hit 346 homers.

Morgan runs for 350

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Walnut High's Kevin Morgan ran for 350 yards as the Mustangs blanked Bonita High, 27-0, Friday night at Nogales High.

The Mustangs finished Hacienda play at 6-1 to place second, a game behind HL champ San Dimas. The victory gives Walnut an almost certain shot at the CIF playoff.

Morgan sped 72 yards the first time he got his hands on the ball as Walnut jumped out to a 7-0 lead. He added TD runs of 68 and three yards. He was no match for the Bonita defense as Morgan racked up the 350 yards on 28 totes in three full quarters of action. The 350 yards brings his season total to 1,452 ground yards on 211 carries.

Morgan was a busy man in the first half as he carried the ball 22 times for 263 total yards and two touchdowns. He lost 25 more yards on two Walnut penalties.

"Morgan turned in another super performance for us tonight," noted Walnut's Ken Gunn. "He might have more carries than San Dimas' Bob Pleasant but I think he's a better runner."

While Morgan ran the Bonita defense ragged, quarterback Kevin Loggins hit on eight of 13 passes for 104 yards and backup quarterback Steve Green added 72 yards. Green connected on five of nine aerial strikes.

Gunn commented, "We played a super game against Bonita tonight. They're a good football team and they never give up. They keep coming at you even when they're behind by several touchdowns."

Bonita's offense, directed by Kevin Coggins, had several chances of punching into the Mustangs' end zone. However, the Bearcat attack bogged down and they coughed up the football after failing to achieve first downs on fourth and short yardage.

Bonita missed key opportunies from Walnut's 12, 19 and 11 yard lines. But the Walnut defense was equal to the task as they stopped Bonita cold on the fourth down plays.

Coggins, chased by the Walnut linemen, completed only 10 of 34 passes for 142 yards. Kieth Brandt flagged four passes for 71 yards.

Bonita's ground game was shut off by the Walnut defense as the Bearcats gained 126 ground yards.

"Our defense really came to play tonight against Bonita," noted Gunn. "It was our best defensive effort in the last three weeks."

Walnut with its total yardage of 526 yards finished the season with 2,656 total yards to their opponents' 1,936. Walnut picked up 26 first downs in picking up the 526 yards against Bonita's defense.

The Mustangs kept the score down as they hurt themselves in the first half with 105 yards of penalties. Several times Bonita was saved by a Mustang mistake and the referee's yellow flag handkerchief.

Twelve players no better than 11

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (AP) — Twelve players weren't better than 11 in a local high school football championship.

Films of last Friday's game, in which Caledonia beat LaCrescent 16-15, showed Caledonia had 12 men on defense for 2½ periods before being penalized for having too many men on the field.

The 12-man defense gave up all of LaCrescent's points. The regulation 11 shut out the losers the rest of the way.

Keystone Pioneer sets mark

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The favored mare Keystone Pioneer captured the $109,800 American Trotting Classic Friday night at Hollywood Park in world record time of 2:123-5 seconds for 1⅛ miles.

With Billy Houghton driving, the only mare in the field took the lead turning into the back stretch and stood off challenges from her eight male foes to win by 1¼ lengths at Hollywood Park.

Savoir, winner of this classic the past two years, finished second with the French trotter Equileo, owned by actor Alain Delon of Paris, third.

Ten trotters went to the starting gate but when Aladdin Hill failed to come up for his start there was a recall and he was scratched.

Despite rains on Thursday night, the track was fast for the featured trot.

Keystone Pioneer, owned jointly by Patricia L. Bochner and Dorothy B. Houghton of Stamford, Conn., the latter the driver's wife, bettered the previous record of 2:13 2-5 set by Earl Laird in 1966 and equalled by Dayan in 1970.

Pride Of Carlisle went to the front first, clocking a 28-second first quarter with Songflori second, Savoir third and Keystone Pioneer fourth.

Houghton then urged his 4-year-old mare to a lead which she never relinquished.

Keystone Pioneer, the 3-5 favorite of the crowd of 14,150, paid $3.20, $2.80, $2.60. Savoir, driven by Jim Dennis, paid $4.60 and $3.40 and Equileo, with Bernard Foger driving, paid $3.80.

Savoir finished 1¼ lengths ahead of the third place finisher, who was one length ahead of Dream of Glory.

Keystone Pioneer scored her ninth consecutive victory and earned $49,410 with $21,960 going for second and $16,470 for third.

The winner boosted her career earnings to $425,836. A world traveler, Keystone Pioneer campaigned early this year at Yonkers in New York and then was taken to Sweden and Germany.

Battle of the Polys goes tonight

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

The annual football battle of the Cal Polys returns to Pomona tonight with the usual high emotion accompanying both camps.

Cal Poly Pomona will host sister school Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff with the winner taking the championship in the reduced California Collegiate Athletic Association.

Since both Polys defeated Cal State Northridge — the third and only other football member of the CCAA — the title is strictly up for grabs tonight.

Even if there was no championship, both teams would be fired up anyway as coaches don't need to say much to their troops for this annual battle.

SLO, which has had one of the strongest Division II programs in the nation under the coaching of Joe Harper, wants to continue its domination of Pomona.

Naturally, Pomona is hungry for its first ever victory over the Mustangs.

Tonight's contest is the ninth in the series and the best Pomona has come up with was a 14-14 tie here two years ago in front of the largest crowd—8,500—to ever crowd into Kellogg Field.

SLO returned to its dominating ways last year in its home arena in a 44-6 whipping of the Broncos in a strange game in which Pomona actually gained more yards.

So the Mustangs come here with a big 7-0-1 edge in the series. Pomona is anxious to get that first big win and has been thinking about tonight's game ever since last year's humiliating score.

"It shapes up as a typical battle of the Polys," Vinci said about tonight's clash. "It means it should be another great game to watch."

SLO (4-1-1) needs a win tonight to keep alive any hopes for a berth in the NCAA Division II playoffs while Pomona (3-4-1) still feels it has an outside chance for an invitation by winning both tonight and next week's finale against Puget Sound.

The Broncos have won three straight over nationally-ranked Northern Arizona, USIU and Northridge. Vinci feels the difference can be attributed to cutting down on turnovers.

In their first five games, the Broncs had nine passes intercepted and lost 10 fumbles. In the last three wins, they have had only one interception and one lost fumble.

Obviously, Vinci is hoping for a mistake-free game tonight.

"Among our goals is to avoid turning over the football with pass interceptions and fumbles," he said.

However, the Broncs will be going with an inexperienced quarterback tonight in sophomore Sammy Ross, who has been in only seven plays this season.

Ross will be the man tonight because starter Leo Costa was lost for the season last week in the win over Northridge.

"It's going to be tough going into the game without Costa but Ross has looked great in practice," Vinci said.

Even though both teams own impressive offensive statistics, Vinci feels the key to tonight's game is whether his team can move the ball against the Mustangs.

"Our defense can play with their offense," Vinci said. "Our concern is whether our offense can score against them."

Claremonters defeat Poly

A women's swim team representing Scripps, Claremont Men's and Harvey Mudd colleges defeated Cal Poly Pomona, 45-34, at Voit Pool Friday afternoon.

Scripps freshmen Shannon Daley and Christine Albercht led the way. Daley won the 100 individual medlay, 100 butterfly, 100 breaststroke and was on the winning 200 medlay relay team. Albercht was also on the relay team and won the 100 backstroke and 50 freestyle.

Divers Katie Mack and Dana Patrick also helped the new team.

Fontana edges Chaffey, 15-14

By MARK GRIP

FONTANA — Chaffey High missed an outright Citrus Belt League title by one point Friday night in Fontana.

The visiting Tigers were beaten by Fontana, 15-14, on Rod McMillan's two-point conversion and wind up in a tri-championship.

Chaffey and Fontana were co-champs last year and this year the two will share the crown with Eisenhower, a 20-7 winner over Pacific Friday night.

Chaffey went into the game as the league's only undefeated team but after dropping the finale is 4-1 and 6-3 overall.

The loss also snaps the Tigers' five-game winning streak as they will now move into CIF 4-A playoff action next week.

Fontana had to play catch-up ball most of the evening overcoming deficits of 7-0 and 14-7. The Steeler defense came up with a big play to preserve the win in the last minute of play.

Trailing 15-14, Chaffey's Alex Olive recovered a Steeler fumble on the Fontana 46 yard line with two minutes left in the game.

Two plays later John Gable's aerial was picked off by Steeler defensive back Ron Carter on his own 20 and he returned it to his 41 with one minute to play.

Chaffey received the ball once more on downs with two seconds left but didn't get a play off before the gun.

Chaffey scored the only points of the first half on Frank Cohn's one-yard run at 4:29 of the first period. Bill Pomerenke added the conversion kick.

Fontana was equal to the task with 3:42 left in the third quarter on Mike Fox's four-yard run with Dan Farris adding the extra point.

The Tigers took the lead at 11:25 of the final stanza on an unusual pass play from Gable to running back Frank Fernandez.

Gable faded to pass and then fired the ball underhanded to Fernandez at the line of scrimmage (the nine) and the "bowling ball" back scooted untouched for the score with Pomerenke kicking the PAT.

Fontana took the lead for good with 5:15 to play as running back Gary Tate hurdled over from the two. McMillan then squeezed between two Tigers barely reaching the end zone for the tying and go-ahead points.

Gable hit on 13 of 23 passes for 128 yards and a touchdown while Fernandez rolled 11 times for 107 yards.

Tate led the Steelers with 107 yards on 17 totes. Fohi quarterback Craig Dickinson threw only twice, both during the fourth quarter drive, hitting both for a total of 36 yards. Dickinson led the Steeler wishbone T offense as a runner.

Angels raise prices for 1977 campaign

ANAHEIM — The California Angels today announced a slight increase in some ticket prices for the 1977 season.

Field and club level box seats will be raised 50 cents from $4.00 to $4.50. Terrace level box seats will be increased from $3.50 to $4.00 and view level reserved seats will be raised from $2.50 to $3.00.

All general admission ticket prices will remain the same as last year — $1.50 for adults and $1 for children.

"We have tried to avoid raising our prices," said club President Arthur E. (Red) Patterson, "but continued increases in operational costs have simply made it impossible for us to do so.

"Angels baseball is still the best sports buy in California. Our club maintains the lowest ticket price structure of any club in the American League," added Patterson.

A recent survey of ticket prices for major professional sports disclosed the average ticket price in professional football was $8.89; for hockey, $7.71; for basketball, $6.12; for tennis, $5.13 and for baseball, $3.45.

The Angels average ticket price, based on a capacity crowd, would be $3.56.

Ticket Manager Carl Gordon announced the Angels are now accepting applications for 1977 season tickets. Fans interested in obtaining complete season ticket information are invited to call (714) 634-2000 or (213) 625-1123.

Ontario Christian's hopes hurt in loss

Ontario Christian High's CIF 1A playoff hopes were somewhat shattered, Friday night at OCHS, when the visiting Lutheran Lions scored a fourth quarter touchdown to come back and devour the Knights, 17-14.

The Knights finished Olympic League play with a 3-1-2 record, while L.A. Lutheran was crowned as loop champion with a perfect 6-0 mark, and had an 8-1 overall record.

About the only playoff chances that the Knights have now would be if L.A. Baptist (3-2) could defeat Whittier Christian (3-1-1) in today's action at St. Paul's High in Santa Fe Springs.

The Knights were leading in the fourth frame, 14-10, when the Lions took possession on their own 33-yard line.

Lutheran quarterback Willie Phillips, who has a lot of speed when he gets into the open field, then took control of the series of downs.

Phillips ran for nine and four yards on a pair of plays and then cut to the left sideline, made a fake, and darted back to the center of the field, while evading would-be tacklers and scored on the 54-yard burst.

Phillips, who is more or less an all-purpose player, added the extra point.

The Lions held the Knights on the initial drive of the game at the Lutheran 11-yard line. The Lions then came roaring back to score, as they went 89 yards on just nine plays.

A key 23-yard scamper by Andre Love preceding a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty sparked the set of downs.

Lutheran scored on a three-yard run by Mike Taylor on a handoff straight up the middle. The PAT was made by Phillips.

After missing another golden opportunity to score, the Knights finally mounted a 33-yard scoring series on 10 straight running plays. Tailback Doug Dirkse's seven-yard touchdown knotted the score.

L.A. Lutheran wound up with 242 total offensive yards to the Knights' 147. Love was the leading ground-gainer with 86 yards on seven rushes.

The Lions had taken a 10-7 lead when Phillips put the foot into a 32-yard field goal. Ontario Christian excited the partisan crowd when QB Hank Bouwman found tight end Pete Verhoeven open and connected a 28-yard scoring strike to him.

"If I had to pick a key player in the game it would have to be Willie Phillips," said a pleased Lutheran coach Doc Holliday. "Phillips' field goal and last run (the 54-yarder) were the key to this game. Ontario Christian was excellent competition for us."

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Vitas Gerulaitis of Howard Beach, N.Y. beat Venezuela's top-ranked Humphrey Hose 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 Friday in a second-round singles match of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis tournament.

Earlier, U.S. ace Dick Stockton of Dallas outplayed Venezuela's Jorge Andrew, 6-2, 6-4, 9-7.

The triumphs gave the United States two of the three victories it needs to win the three-day competition being held at the Altamira Tennis Club.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons suspended forward Marvin Barnes indefinitely Friday "for continuous and repeated acts of conduct detrimental to the team," a spokesman for the National Basketball Association club said.

The suspension, Barnes' second since joining the Pistons earlier this fall following the American Basketball Association draft, came after he skipped practice Tuesday, missed Wednesday's game with Cleveland, did not appear for practice Thursday and failed to show up for a scheduled physical examination in Ann Arbor, Mich. Friday.

LONDON (AP) — Terry Holladay, the 20-year-old California left-hander, made an impressive Wightman Cup debut Friday night with a 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 victory over Britain's Glynis Coles, as the United States took a 3-1 lead in the seven-match series.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Wimbledon Champion Bjorn Borg was upset by American Brian Gottfried and U.S. Open king Jimmy Connors scored an impressive straight set victory in quarter-final action of the $150,000 Stockholm Open Tennis Tournament Friday.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks Friday activated 6-foot-6 forward Glenn McDonald, the Boston Celtics' No. 1 draft choice in 1974 who was cut by the National Basketball Association champions last month.

McDonald, who had been working out with the Bucks for two weeks, replaces three-year veteran forward Kevin Restani, expected to be sidelined at least 10 days because of a broken rib. Restani was placed on the injured list and must sit out at least five games.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Hawley, Canada's $4 million man, surpassed the one-year money-winning record Friday at Aqueduct by riding Moonlight Jig to victory in the fifth race.

The 27-year-old jockey, scheduled for five mounts, started the day $5,588 short of the $4,252,060 set by Laffit Pincay Jr., in 1974.

When the day was done, Hawley had earned $10,440, boosting his yearly purses earned to $4,255,912. Angel Cordero Jr., is the only other jockey to top the $4 million mark.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kialoa II held a slim advantage over Ragtime Friday as the two sleek racing yachts headed for the finish line in the 1,032-mile Los Angeles-to- Mazatlan race.

It was reported that Kialoa, on the last leg of the race, held a lead of just one mile over Ragtime, the 62-foot New Zealand-built sloop owned by Bill Pasquini and Bill White of the Long Beach Yacht Club.

Kialoa, Jim Kilroy's 79-foot ketch, is the favorite to take the elapsed-time honors for the race.

Rain stops Baja race

ENSENADA, Mex. (AP) — Torrential rains washed out the start of the SCORE Baja 1,000 kilometer race Friday, and drivers are to meet Saturday morning to decide when the race will begin.

Some three inches of rain fell within an eight-hour period early Friday, and the start of the race was rescheduled from 6:30 a.m. PST until 10 a.m.

But officials, who had moved the race's starting line from two miles east of here to Ojos Negros, 21 miles east of town, finally declared the course unsafe and postponed the race.

Torrents of water which made the streets of Ensenada impassable caused the move to Ojos Negros. The 235 racing vehicles had earlier been moved out of the the city, since water had risen to three feet in the impound area.

Officials said at least 10 blocks in the city were inundated, with water from two to six feet deep in the streets.

There were no reports of injuries or deaths because of the flooding, officials said.

Romans win on late FG

By TIM CLARK

Junior Matt Rundle capped a brilliant 88-yard drive by calmly booting a 27-yard field goal to give the underdog Royal Oak Romans a season-ending 9-7 victory over Alta Loma Friday night at Chaffey College, with 31 seconds left in the game.

The stunning loss will probably kill Alta Loma's CIF hopes, evidence being several Brave players falling to their knees in tears at the final gun, realizing that their season had just gone down the tube.

Alta Loma, Royal Oak and Bonita are all tied for third place in the Hacienda League standings at 4-3.

Jeff Strycula, the Hacienda's leading passer, finally unwound in the fourth period after the Brave defense had done a pretty steady job (10 sacks!) in bottling up the explosive junior through the first 36 minutes of the game.

Facing an almost impossible situation following a Brave punt that rolled dead at his own two-yard-line, Strycula took control with only 3:51 remaining in the contest.

Moving 88 yards in 11 plays, Strycula completed four of six passes, good for 84 of the total yards! The big play of the drive came on a third-and-17 situation at the Roman 28, when Strycula uncorked a 54-yard bomb to Fred Elias (three receptions for 74 yards).

Rundle's field goal, in fact, was his third straight perfect kick, as on his four preceding attempts, both squads were found guilty of off-setting penalties.

Royal Oak's first score came at only the 5:03 mark of the final period, when Strycula tossed a nine-yard scoring pass to running back Rick Garcia. When Alta Loma's Jerry Barba sacked Strycula on the two-point PAT attempt, it seemed that the party was over for the visitors.

Alta Loma's lone score came by thanks to its rugged defense, which caused Chris Lancaster to cough up the ball at his own one-yard line, with Jeff Holladay recovering the pigskin in the end zone.

Strycula finishes the year with 964 yards passing, connecting on 56 of 99 passes (56.5 per cent). No other quarterback in the Hacienda completed 50 per cent of his passes this year. Lancaster, with 57 yards rushing, winds up with 770 yards on the ground, good for fourth place in the season statistics behind Kevin Morgan of Walnut, Robert Pleasant of San Dimas and Thomas Jefferson of Ontario.

NHL reveals TV plans

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's Game-of-the-Week will be televised on Monday nights beginning Jan. 3, NHL Vice President Don V. Ruck announced today.

"We think we have an excellent line-up," said Ruck, "one that will give our viewers important and meaningful games as the teams fight for Stanley Cup playoff spots."

The NHL Network games will be televised in NHL cities plus other major markets throughout the United States.

Marv Albert, veteran hockey broadcaster, will serve as anchorman for the telecasts. Albert's broadcast partner will be selected from one of the two teams involved each week. All games, with the exception of the NHL All-Star game and the final game of the season, will begin at 8 p.m., EST.

The All-Star game in Vancouver Jan. 25 will begin at 9 p.m., EST, and the Mar. 28 game will start at 7 p.m., EST.

The telecasts will begin when Montreal meets the Philadelphia Flyers.

Cowens hoping to relax

BOSTON (AP) — Right now the most important thing to Dave Cowens is relaxation, and the star center says he just doesn't know when—or if—he'll return to the Celtics.

"I can't say I'll be back. I really don't know. I've got to think this over," the 28-year-old Cowens told the Boston Globe on Friday.

"Who knows, I might get the urge to return and play basketball the way I should play it, not the way I've been playing it this year," he said in a copyrighted interview in the Boston Herald American.

Cowens' announcement that he was taking an indefinite leave of absence "for personal reasons," shocked the basketball world. The 6-foot-8 two-time Most Valuable Player who earns $200,000 a year says he didn't feel he was earning his salary.

"I just wasn't making a contribution or helping the team, I have no motivation or enthusiasm. It just got to a point where I felt guilty taking my salary from the Celtics."

His decision to leave apparently was ignited by the games with the Wshington Bullets last Friday and Saturday. Cowens fouled out of both contests. He played 33 minutes in each, had 20 rebounds and 27 points.

Cowens, who has had trouble regaining the 10 to 15 pounds to bring him up to his normal playing weight of 225, also has a chronic back ailment. But the announcement of his leave specified that it was not for physical reasons.

"I know a lot of people will think I'm a fool, but I don't think I've done anything wrong. All I want right now is to do all the things I haven't been able to do over the last 10 years," he said.

"I'm just a human being and that's what I want to continue as. I've never considered myself a superstar or someone special. That's the label other people place on me."

Cowens, who has devoted a great deal of time to running basketball camps, says he's going to "get in my camper and just drive.

"I'm also going to continue my basketball camps and now I'll have more freedom. I really enjoy the camps most of all because it provides me an opportunity to work with youngsters and try to help them out. That is very important to me."

JC titles on line tonight

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

The South Coast and Mission Conference grid titles will be at stake tonight in two crucial junior college clashes involving local teams.

Mt. San Antonio College, needing a win to keep its fading SCC title hopes alive, hosts Orange Coast at 7:30 p.m. Citrus is in the same position in the Mission Conference, as the Owls entertain league leader Saddleback, also at 7:30 p.m.

The valley's third JC squad, Chaffey, will be at home also, hosting Southwestern.

With only two games remaining in the regular season, counting tonight, MSAC and Citrus face must-win situations the rest of the way.

The Mounties go into this evening's tilt with Orange Coast with a 2-1-1 SCC ledger, a full game behind conference-leading Fullerton (4-1), which has a bye this week. A MSAC loss to the visiting Pirates (2-2 in conference, 4-4 on the year) would automatically give Fullerton the SCC title and a berth in the Avocado Bowl.

Orange Coast is back down to earth this fall after going 12-0 in 1975 and being ranked first in the nation. Even so, the Pirates have been blown out of only one game this year (30-0 to Fullerton) and should give MSAC a battle.

It will be Homecoming for the Mounties tonight, which maybe will fire up the locals. They were demoralized by Fullerton, 33-7, last week. Orange Coast is coming off a 21-17 loss to Cerritos.

"Orange Coast is not the super team they were a year ago, but they do have good talent and an outstanding coach," MSAC coach Mal Eaton said. "They are a better team than their 4-4 record would indicate. We will have to rebound from our loss to Fullerton or else it could be a long night for us."

Orange Coast's strength this season has been its defense, led by sophomore linebacker Rhett Tucker. Pirate mentor feels the key to tonight's game is his team's ability to stop Mountie quarterback Brian Bethke.

"Bethke is the best veer quarterback in JC football," Tucker stated. "He's equally dangerous as a runner and a passer. Our defense will have its hands full containing him."

While the Mounties go with a veteran backfield of halfback Mike Hill, fullback Dana Hutchinson and QB Bethke tonight, the Pirates' have a lot of inexperience in their offensive attack.

Two freshmen, Faye Weathers and Dennis Boswell, will go at the running back slots. Larry Hall, a frosh out of Estancia High, may also be in the Pirate backfield as signal caller. The regular OCC starter, Jim Conley, is suffering from an ankle injury and may not be able to start.

In that key game in the Mission Conference tonight at Owl Stadium in Azusa, the host Owls will have to find a way to dent an awesome Saddleback defensive unit.

The Gauchos, 5-0 in Mission outings, have not surrendered a point in the last 18 quarters of football and have given up only one touchdown in five league games.

Citrus, meanwhile, has shown a high-powered offense but has had trouble punching the ball across the goalline of late. That problem limited the Owls to a 14-14 tie at Southwestern last Saturday, and forced them into a must-win situation tonight.

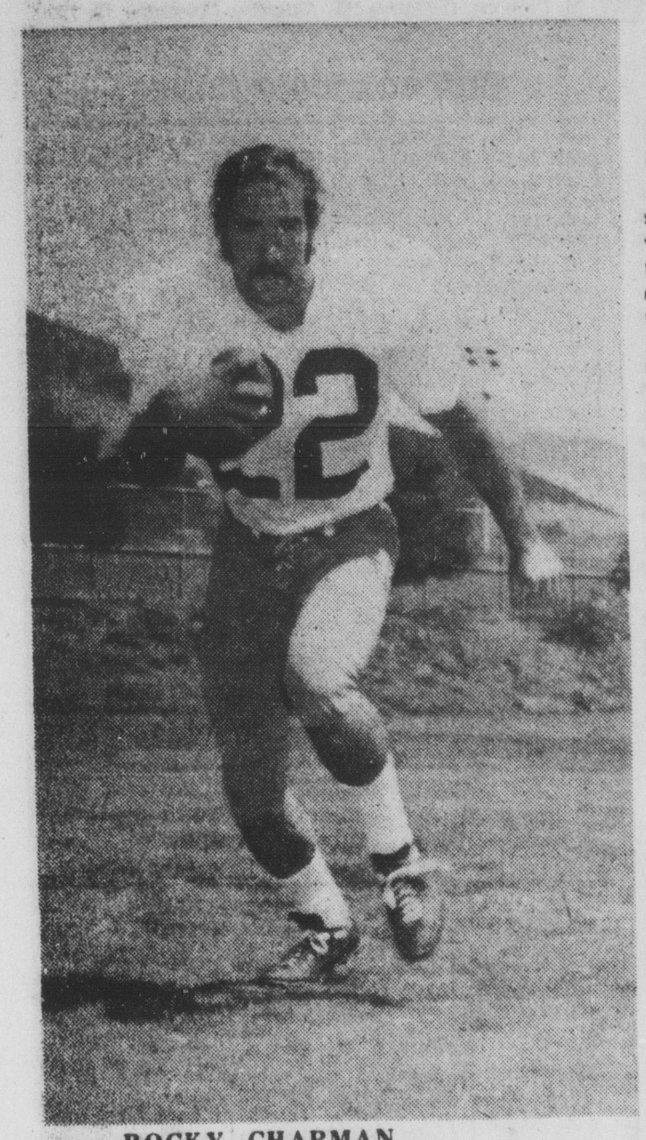
Quarterback Dale Bunn, one of the most exciting offensive players in the Mission Conference, will test that touted Saddleback defense tonight, along with backfield mates Obie Graves and Raymond Butler. Graves is the leading rushing in the loop.

Saddleback uses a ball-control type of offense, using the rushing talents of fullback Chuck Van Liew and halfback Greg Speicher.

The Gauchos, under rookie coach Ken Swearingen, have also found a dependable quarterback in freshman Billy Yancy.

If the Mounties should win tonight, they will stay in the running for a berth in the Avocado Bowl, which will go Saturday, Nov. 27 at Cerritos College. The SCC opponent will be the already crowned champion of the Southern Cal Conference, Santa Monica.

Tonight's winner between Saddleback and Citrus figures to cop the M.C. title and earn a berth in the Mission Bowl, to be played Nov. 27 at the home field of the Mission champion. The opponent in that Bowl will be the winner of the Western States Conference, which will probably be Santa Barbara.



ROCKY CHAPMAN . . .

Polys clash at Kellogg Field

Pomona played an exceptional defensive game last week in holding Northridge to 121 yards total offense. The Broncs have allowed only 93.6 yards per game through the air but that statistic doesn't mean much against SLO anyway, since the Mustangs are mainly a ball-control type of team.

SLO is the CCAA's top offensive team with 328.2 yards per game while Pomona is second with 285.4.

SLO junior Bob Trudeau, a product of West Covina High, is the CCAA's top rusher with 427 yards on 102 carries while Upland High graduate Rocky Chapman is fifth with 297 yards on 65 plays.

Bob Ansari, a transfer from UC Riverside, is the Mustangs' quarterback. He leads the conference in total offense with 120.7 yards per game and receiver Jimmy Childs of La Puente is the top scorer with five touchdowns.

Pomona has its own impressive stats. Wide receiver Teddy Myles tops the CCAA in passes caught with 31 for 381 yards and tailback Mark Sanders is second to Trudeau with 520 yards on 112 carries.

"We're an improved team over last year but so is San Luis Obispo," Vinci warns. "Their defense is better and so is their offense with Ansari."

Not to be outdone, Harper said, "Pomona is the most physically gifted team we will face this season. The Broncos have better size, strength and speed than Nevada Las Vegas."

EAGLE ROCK — Time is running out on La Verne College.

The Leopards' pursuit of Redlands ends next week whether or not the Leos are ready. Tonight, they'll carry their 2-1 SCIAC record (4-3 overall) into what shapes up as a close contest at Occidental. (7:30 p.m.)

The Tigers (1-2 in the conference and 3-3 overall) have the most potent aerial attack in the league. Oxy is averaging 258 yards a game via the air and 398.8 both passing and running.

In other games, Pomona-Pitzer (0-3 and 2-5) takes on first place Redlands (3-0 and 7-1) in a rare afternoon game (1:30 p.m.) at Alumni Field.

In another night game, Claremont-Mudd (2-1 and 2-4) is at Whittier (1-2 and 5-3) also at 7:30 p.m.

At Oxy, La Verne will not only be facing the conference's top offensive team, but the Tigers also lead in team defense.

In six league games, Occidental has allowed an average of 262.8 yards per contest. The Leos are third in each having averaged 371.9 yards a game on offense while giving up 273.4 yards per game on defense.

But the people worrying La Verne coach Roland Ortmayer the most are quarterback Tom Hamilton and wide receiver Rick Fry.

Hamilton has been noting short of sensational in his last two games. Against Claremont-Mudd and Whittier, he completed 47 of 71 passes for 725 yards and five touchdowns!

Last week Fry caught 15 passes good for 303 yards and two TDs.

"Hamilton is an excellent quarterback and Fry is a great receiver," said Ortmayer. "I think Fry caught 12 or 13 passes against us last year.

"Oxy is not going to be easy. They have a new coach (Bill McQueary) and we're assuming their whole football program is improved."

Last year the Leopards won easily, 41-19. But since then, not only the coaching staff but the entire team has had many personnel changes.

Oxy's losses this year have been to Redlands (16-14) and Claremont-Mudd (31-14). The win was over Whittier (21-0).

"I saw Oxy play Redlands," said Ortmayer, "and Redlands barely eked out a win."

Worst of all, La Verne is hurting in its defensive line as it faces the high-scoring Tigers. Middle guard Dave Poling (knee) is out for the season.

Defensive end Ron Kimball and tackle Jose Echeverria also have knee injuries and their status is not known. On the plus side, defensive end Honnie VanderKallen, who has missed two games, will return to action tonight.

At Pomona-Pitzer, the Sagehens take on the team (Redlands) that is fifth-ranked nationally in NAIA Division II. Last year the Bulldogs walloped the 'Hens 52-0 at Redlands.

P-P also is hurting. The Sagehens list defensive end Randy Roddy, linebacker Tom Glasheen, tackle Jack Clark, safety Brian Miller and defensive back Don Reinke as "uncertain." Running back Steve Ahearn has a broken ankle and is out for the season. Wide receiver Dick richardson is doubtful.

At Whittier, C-M is facing a team that is an enigma to its own coach. The Poets won four of their first five games and lost the one by a single point. But since conference play started, they have lost two of three and have been blanked twice. The Stags lost three, won two and were stopped 29-7 last week.

USC tries Washington

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Washington is a little like Purdue," Southern California Coach John Robinson said. "They can run and they're very physical.

"They always have a chance of an upset because they can control the football."

Robinson's third-ranked Trojans, who host Washington today, beat Purdue 31-13 earlier this season. But that Boilermaker team did not look the same as the one that ambushed Michigan, the nation's top-ranked team at the time, 16-14 last weekend.

Although Robinson's Trojans will understandably be looking ahead to their Nov. 20 showdown with UCLA for the Pac-8 title, they'll probably be thinking about Washington's similiarity to Purdue, and remembering what Purdue did to Michigan's national championship hopes.

Washington features three good runners in Ron Rowland, Robin Earl and freshman Joe Steele, who's been alternating with Rowland at tailback this fall.

Steele missed the Huskies' 7-0 loss to California last Saturday with a bruised thigh muscle, but is expected to return to action against the Trojans.

USC, 7-1 overall and 5-0 in Pacific-8 play, goes into the contest favored by three thouchdowns.

The game against the Huskies, who are 3-2 in conference play and 4-5 overall, means little to the Trojans as far as the Pac-8 race is concerned.

Even should USC lose to the Huskies, the Trojans can still go to the Rose Bowl with a victory over UCLA.

Southern California may be without its top offensive weapon, tailback Ricky Bell, against Washington, but the Trojans apparently have enough depth and variety in their offense to at least partially make up for Bell's absence.

Bell, who suffered a sprained ankle two weeks ago, watched from the sidelines last Saturday as reserve tailback Charles White ran for 136 yards and two scores on 23 carries in USC's 48-24 triumph over Stanford.

Trojan quarterback Vince Evans, a poor passer last season, has come on strong to add another dimension to the Trojan offense with his fine passing this fall.

Evans, who completed only 35 passes and had nine picked off last year, has completed 64 of 118 this season for 942 yards and eight touchdowns. He's also had just three of his throws intercepted. His performance against Stanford, which included a school record-tying four touchdown passes, prompted Robinson to say of his quarterback: "He was brilliant."

Fertig's Beavers host Bruins today

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A year ago, two young assistant football coaches, Craig Fertig of Southern Cal and Terry Donahue of UCLA, were the finalists for the head coaching position at Oregon State.

Fertig got the job and Donahue was unhappy.

"I was really terribly disappointed when Craig got the job," Donahue said. "But I feel pretty good about the way things worked out."

Shortly after Fertig took over at Oregon State, Donahue's boss, Dick Vermeil, left Westwood for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, and Donahue took over the Bruins.

Today, Donahue brings his second-ranked, 8-0-1, squad to Corvallis to face Fertig's beleaguered Beavers, who are 1-8 and mired in seventh place in the Pacific-8 Conference.

The showdown with Southern Cal for the Rose Bowl is just a week away, and, predictably, Donahue is warning his team not to look past the Beavers, whose only victory was a 10-9 upset over California.

Fertig says this may be the best UCLA he can remember, and he's been either playing or coaching against the Bruins since 1962.

"They are big, they are strong, and they can run," he said. "The Bruins compare with last year's club. I think the only difference is they are better on defense than they were last year."

Still, Fertig refuses to go into the game expecting to lose, despite his team's obvious underdog status.

"The odds against a team going undefeated are very slim, and somewhere something can happen," he said. "I've never approached a game not believing we could win. I don't now."

"Our big problem is to keep from looking ahead," Donahue said. "But the fact that OSU beat Cal when Cal was healthy is something for all of us to remember."

"Craig Fertig is an ex-Trojan and (Oregon State assistant) Tony Kopay is an ex-Bruin and I'm sure they would like nothing better than to beat the Bruins," he said.

That would mean stopping the nation's number two rushing offense, which is averaging 362 yards per game on the ground. The Bruins also lead the Pac-8 in team defense, giving up an average of 271 yards.

Avocado Bowl ducats on sale

NORWALK — Tickets for the second annual Avocado Bowl football clash between the South Coast Conference champion and the Southern Cal Conference titlist are now on sale at Cerritos College's student center box office.

The Avocado Bowl is slated to go Saturday, Nov. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Falcon Stadium. Reserved seats are priced at $3.50 with general admission ducats going for $2.50.

For further information, contact the Cerritos College athletic department at (213) 860-2451, ext. 236.

Soccer loop to be formed

Frits Rosenveldt, Chaffey College soccer coach, plans to form a soccer league for men and women, primarily those who have never played soccer or have not played recently.

Registration, open to anyone over 20, will be held at Colony Park in Ontario Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Registration fee is $10. There will be separate teams for men and women.

Further information may be obtained by calling Rosenveldt at 983-8902, evenings after 8 p.m.

Don Lugo finishes with perfect mark

Don Lugo High's football team defeated Montclair's freshmen 8-6 Thursday afternoon on the Cavalier home turf.

The victory for Don Lugo gives the Chino school a perfect 9-0 season, as it extended its overall winning streak to 21 games. The win also clinched the San Antonio League freshmen title for coach John Monger's team, its third consecutive league championship.

The Q's jumped off to an 8-0 lead when quarterback Bob Malan plunged in for a touchdown from the one-yard line and Manuel Villalobos ran for the two-point conversion.

Montclair narrowed Don Lugo's lead to 8-6 in the fourth quarter but fell two points short as they missed their try for a two-point conversion.

The Chino school will have sophomores next season and will compete as a free-lance entry in the CIF 1A ranks. Games have already been scheduled with Webb, La Verne Lutheran and Orange Lutheran.

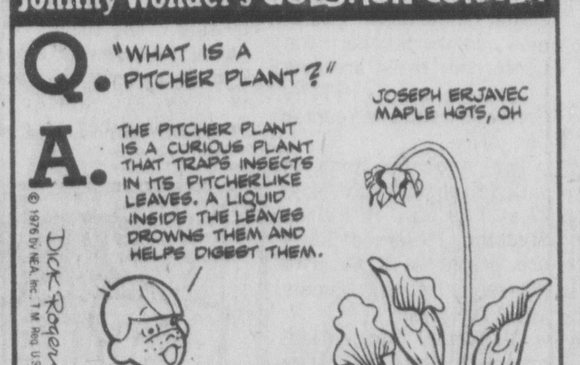
JOHNNY WONDER

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER



Everyone expects insects to eat plants. But did you know that there are plants that eat insects? One of these is the pitcher plant.

This curious plant is found in bogs and swamps in many parts of the world.

The leaves of the pitcher plant are shaped like brightly-colored vases, or pitchers, that catch rain water. The plant gives out a sweet nectar that attracts passing insects.

The inside of the pitcher plant leaf is smooth and has downward pointing hairs. When an unwitting insect enters the treacherous pitcher to eat the nectar, it is unable to climb out.

It slides down the smooth wall and falls into the digestive "borth" at the bottom, and is digested by the plant.

Insects are not the only food of the pitcher plant. Like other green plants, its leaves manufacture food for the plant.

This odd plant traps insects in order to supply itself with nitrogen which is lacking in the soil where it grows.

Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

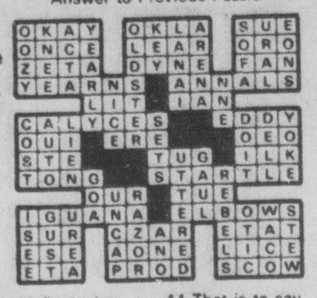
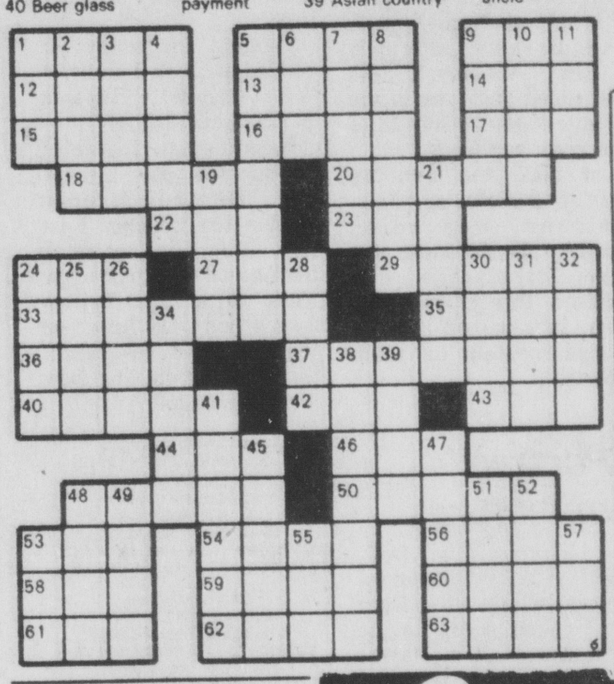
Answer to Previous Puzzle





What's going on around here...

New flotilla commander

Jerry Hampel, 1708 Grier St., Pomona, will be the new commander of Flotilla 11-7, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, El Monte. He replaces William C. Edwards who was recently named division captain.

Hampel is currently flotilla vice-commander. He is certified as a courtesy motorboat examiner, instructor, and boat master. He has completed several advanced training courses, including administration, search and rescue, seamanship, communications, and patrols.

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary has three major programs — search and rescue operations; public education; and the courtesy motorboat safety examinations.

Film on Scotland

The Pomona Forum will present Bill Madsen's color film, "A New Look at Scotland," Monday at 7:45 p.m. at the Pomona District Auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave.

Some of the key scenes include Glasgow on the Clyde River, the Glengoyne Distillery, Isle of Skye, Loch Ness, the Aberdeen sheep dog trials, Macbeth's famed Glamis Castle, Edinburgh, and the military tattoo with its dancers and pipers.

Bill Madsen, a graduate of Boston College, was a cryptographer in U.S. Air Force Intelligence in World War II.

Pomona Catholic open house

Pomona Catholic High School will host its annual open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

The afternoon will begin with a welcome and general information session in the school auditorium. Parents will then follow their daughters' schedules, meeting with each teacher for 10 minutes. The afternoon is being organized and hosted by students, under direction of Patricia Leavens.

Home economics students, guided by Sister Mary Bertilia, have baked and will serve refreshments. Students are invited to attend the open house with their parents.

Almanac

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, Nov. 13, the 318th day of 1976. There are 48 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1956, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that segregation of the races on public buses was unconstitutional.

On this date —

In 1794, President George Washington sent troops into Pennsylvania to suppress an uprising by frontiersmen — the so-called Whiskey Rebellion.

In 1834, California adopted a state constitution.

In 1918, the Republic of Austria was proclaimed.

In 1941, in World War II, the British aircraft carrier, "Ark Royal," was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean. Only 18 of the crew survived.

In 1942, the two-day naval Battle of Guadalcanal was being fought. The Japanese lost two battleships, one cruiser, three destroyers, two submarines and 11 cargo vessels or transports.

In 1970, West Germany and Poland agreed on a treaty fixing the Oder-Neisse line as a border.

Ten years ago: Israeli forces swept two miles into Jordan and attacked three towns as jets fought overhead.

Five years ago: A crewman on an Air Canada jetliner used a fire ax to knock out a hijacker and end nearly seven hours of flying back and forth over the U.S. and Canada.

One year ago: The World Health Organization announced that Asia was free of smallpox for the first time in history.

Today's birthdays: Actress Jean Seberg is 38. Actor Alexander Scourby is 63.

Thought for today: It revolts me, but, I do it! — W.S. Gilbert, English playwright, 1836-1911.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, General George Washington, reached Fort Lee, N.J. after crossing the Hudson river from New York to escape British forces and was informed that he could not expect much help from the New Jersey militia.

Portrait miniatures

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — A collection of American miniatures from the colonial period to the Civil War is on display at the Smithsonian National Collection of Fine Arts through Jan. 9.

Titled "Portrait Miniatures from Private Collections," the group includes 125 pictures.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO SELL REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE NO. EA P-12319

Estate of EMELINA RITA PAGLIUSO, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, subject to confirmation by the above entitled Court, on November 15, 1976, at 2:00 p.m. or thereafter within the time allowed by law, the undersigned, as Executor of the Will of EMELINA RITA PAGLIUSO, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest and best bidder on the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, all right, title, and interest of the deceased, at the time of her death, and all right, title and interest that the estate has acquired in addition to that of decedent at the time of her death, in the real property described as follows:

Lots 33 and 34 in Block 63 of Lordsburg, in the City of La Verne, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 1a, pages 9 to 14 inclusive of Miscellaneous Records in the office of the County Recorder of said County.

The property is commonly referred to as 2459 E. 2nd Street, La Verne, California.

The sale is subject to current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way, and easements of record.

The property is to be sold on an "as is" basis, except as to title.

Bids or offers are invited for this property and must be in writing and will be received at the office of LAW OFFICES OF JOHN MORAN, attorneys for said Executor, at 1192 North White Avenue, Pomona, California 91766, or may be filed with the clerk of the Superior Court or delivered to LAW OFFICES OF JOHN MORAN personally, at any time after first publication of this notice and before making said sale.

The terms and conditions of sale are cash in lawful money of the United States of America or part cash and part credit, the terms of such credit to be acceptable to the Executor and to the Court.

10 percent of the amount bid to accompany the offer by certified check, and the balance to be paid on confirmation of sale by the Superior Court. Taxes, rents, operating and maintenance expenses and premiums on insurance acceptable to the purchaser shall be prorated as of the date of confirmation of sale. Examination of title, recording of conveyance, transfer taxes and any title insurance policy shall be at the expense of the seller.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids prior to entry of an order confirming sale.

Facelift for 'Grand Old Lady'

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona,

Unfortunately for most of us we were born too late to have enjoyed the rare privilege of being able to go grocery shopping without first taking the precaution to carry nitroglycerine pills along with us to prevent heart failure caused by what the trip was going to cost us. But I assure you, if we were still able to do our shopping at The Basket Grocery, in the Union Block, as did Pomonans in 1908, there would be far fewer basket cases in Pomona today. And for further proof of what a boon The Basket Grocery was to the food budgets of thrifty Pomona housewives, you have only to check this price listing in an advertisement which appeared in an August, 1908, issue of The Pomona Progress:

—1 pound Coffee . . . 15 cents
—1 pound Candy . . . 10 cents
—1 bottle French Mustard . . . 10 cents
—1 bottle Pickles . . . 10 cents
—1 pound Royal Baking Powder . . . 40 cents
—50 pounds Flour . . . $1.60
—6 bars Naptha Soap . . . 25 cents
—12 large size cans Milk . . . 95 cents
—17 pounds Sugar . . . $1.00

Yes, there it was in undeniable print — 73 pounds of groceries plus one bottle of mustard, one bottle of pickles, 12 cans of milk and 6 bars of soap, all for only $4.65. And lucky it was for Pomona housewives that grocery stores made deliveries in 1908. Otherwise it would have taken those poor women at least three trips just to get their purchases out to the horse and buggies waiting at the Union Block hitching post.

English tea set china treasure

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

QUESTION: We inherited this lovely old flowing blue tea set from a relative last year. Although several pieces have some minor damage, the appraisal value was just under one thousand dollars. We know the set was brought from England in 1888, but we have been unable to learn anything about the maker since the mark isn't shown in any reference books at our library. The hallmark include the words "Ironstone, Chusan, and J. Clementson," in addition to a bird resembling a phoenix bird. Can you tell me anything about this mark? Mrs. C.J.

ANSWER: The marks indicate that your tea set was made in England sometime during the third quarter of the last century, and the pattern is "Chusan."

In 1832 at Hanley, The Syndenham Works operated by Reed & Clementson were producing dinnerware for the American market. Shortly thereafter, Reed left the firm and the name became Joseph Clementson. In 1865, Clementson purchased the Bell Works from William Ridgway, and catered to the British and colonial trade as well. A part of the large operation was known as "The Phoenix Works," their trademark being the phoenix bird which appears on pieces of your tea set. Clementson retired from the plant in 1867, leaving the operation to his four sons — who called their firm Clementson Bros.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH

For more than a quarter of a century, philatelists have been collecting stamps issued by the United Nations. Ironically, these stamps cannot be used on letters from John Jones in Dallas to Aunt Martha in Kansas City. They're only for use on official mail dispatched from UN Headquarters in New York or from the UN European office in Geneva, Switzerland.

There is one exception. The stamps may be used on private correspondence sent through the UN Post Office and are valid only at the UN Post Office.

The idea of establishing a United Nations Postal Administration originally came from Dr. Jose Arce, head of the Argentine delegation to the United Nations in 1947. It was he who placed before the General Assembly, on Aug. 28 of that year, a draft resolution which eventually led to the signing of an agreement between the UN and the U.S. Post Office Department on March 28, 1951.

The first UN postage stamps went on sale on United Nations Day, Oct. 24, 1951. All were in the definitive and air mail series. In 1952 the first commemorative issues were released and it has been the UN Postal Administration's practice to issue an average of five commemoratives each year.

By 1968, the success of the UNPA in New York was encouraging enough to make it worthwhile to negotiate an agreement with the Swiss government for the issue and sale of UN stamps in Swiss denominations. The agreement was signed for stamps from the Geneva office of the UN in 1969.

From 1951 until the present, more than 954 million stamps and nearly 24 million pieces of postal stationery have been printed for the UN. The printing has been done by firms in Austria, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Federal Republic of Germany, Greece, Japan, Netherlands, Spain, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom and the United States. The stamps have been designed by artists from a panel of some 800 professionals in more than 30 countries who participate in a world competition for each issue.

To honor the 25th anniversary of UN stamps in October, 1976, the Postal Administration issued two new adhesives which differed from all previous stamps since they were printed in sheets of 20 stamps instead of 50 and of two different designs.

The 13-cents (black, yellow, brown and blue) and 31-cents (green, black, yellow and brown) feature a perforated sheet of 20 stamps with the text on one stamp "United Nations Postal Administration 1951-1976" seen under a magnifying glass. At the top right of each stamp is the UN seal and at the bottom is the wording "United Nations." The designer was Henry Bencsath of the United States.

A special 40-page souvenir folder was released to coincide with the 25th anniversary stamp.

CHESS LORE

One of the most glorious and yet piteous of tales is the story of the serf-genius-chessplayer Mir Sultan Khan, who was born in Punjab, India in 1905.

The strongest player of traditional Indian chess in the Punjab at age 21, he won the all India Championship two years later.

In 1929, Sultan Khan was brought to England by his owner the diplomat Colonel Nawab Sir Umar Hayat Kahn. In that same year he became the chess champion of England, though he had been playing westernchess for only four years!

This triumph was repeated again in 1932 and 1933, though he suffered from the greatest handicap a chessplayer can have: he was illiterate.

An incredible incident occured in 1933 when Sir Umar entertained the Capablanca and Akiba Rubinstein, was "taken back" to India by Sir Umar in December of 1933.

Mir Sultan Khan died of tuberculosis in Sargodha, Pakistan in 1966.

The Biltmore lobby—with its hand-painted cathedral ceiling.

Bernard's gourmet seafood restaurant is a new addition to hotel.

A $16.5 million facelift for a 'Grand Old Lady'

The Grand Old Lady of S. Olive Street is undergoing a $16.5 million facelift.

This is the stately, triple-wing Biltmore Hotel, for 53 years a landmark and a symbol of gracious living in downtown Los Angeles. The sweeping restoration and remodeling of the 1,072-room hostelry is the largest major overhaul since the building of the Biltmore Annex in 1928. The hotel is carrying on business as usual while the work is going on.

Characteristic of the hotel are the vaulted ceilings, carved cornices, deep rugs and wrought-iron railings and chandeliers. The ornate lobby received painstaking restoration which faithfully preserved the famous Italian-Spanish Renaissance architecture. A new addition is Bernard's, a gourmet, fresh seafood restaurant, just off the main lobby. It has oak-paneled walls and hand-painted beamed ceilings and is equipped with live trees and plants and Mies van der Rohe furniture.

Overseeing the multimillion dollar refurbishing are the Biltmore's new owners, Phyllis Lambert and Gene Summers, architects and partners. They also own Ridgeway, Ltd., a Newport Beach real estate and construction firm which is general contractor for the project, and 515 Limited, the company that operates the hotel.

"We're in the somewhat unique and enviable position of being involved in all phases of the project — planning, design, construction and management," Summers said.

When the Biltmore opened Oct. 1, 1923, it was the largest hotel west of Chicago and hailed by some as the finest in the country. It was designed by Schultze & Weaver, also architects for the Waldorf-Astoria, the Park Lane and the Pierre in New York City. Summers and Mrs. Lambert bought the hotel from Corrigan Properties of Dallas, Tex., for $5 million last spring and immediately embarked on a renovation program.

The first stage included an expansion of the kitchen staff and facilities and the cleaning and painting of the handsome facade. Summers said the 500 newly remodeled rooms on the fifth, sixth and eighth floors "dramatically illustrate that we have taken a gutsy position in decorating." He pointed to the specially designed furniture, color schemes, prints and sculpture of contemporary artist Jim Dine as well as plants from the hotel's greenhouse as "visual experiences." Most hotels today, he said, "don't offend but they don't impress, either. We want a hotel that is not only pleasant but a memorable experience."

The Biltmore's original artwork, which forms an integral part of the architectural design, has made the hotel's public rooms nationally famous. It was created by Italian artist Giovanni Smeraldi.

Other elements of the renovation include transformation of other floors, the creation of an arcade of fine shops along the hotel's famous Galeria, and the addition of a new bar and fast-food restaurant. The "new look" even extends to the hotel's 450-person staff, which has been equipped with new uniforms designed by motion picture designer Bill Jobe.

General manager John McKennon said, "In essence, this renovation is designed to preserve the hotel's artistic and historical heritage, to modernize its facilities, and to restore its reputation for fine service and outstanding food."

When the 18-month facelift is complete, the little old lady of S. Olive Street will once again be the grand dame of earlier days.

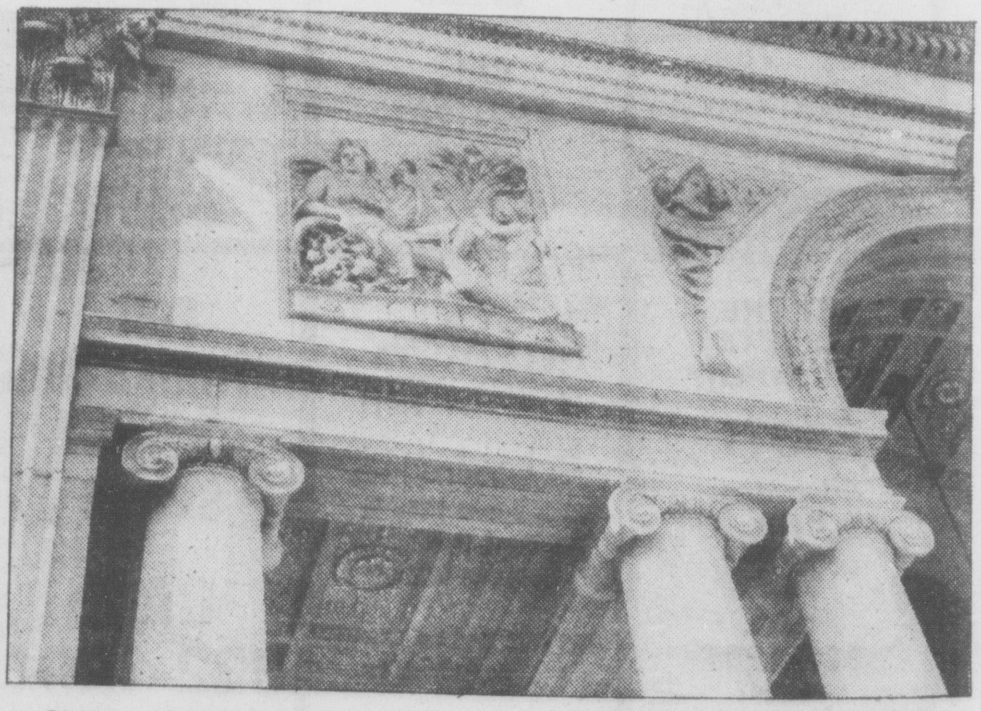
ON THE COVER

Gazing down on Los Angeles' Pershing Square like a stately dowager, the 53-year-old Biltmore Hotel is an impressive landmark in downtown Los Angeles. Today the 1,072-room hotel is undergoing a lavish remodeling and refurbishing project that will take 18 months and cost $16.5 million. Business is going on as usual during the renovations.



Classic columns and handsome entablature welcome hotel guests.

Complete line of men's wear

Ken Pierce is in a position to know what the well-dressed man in town should wear.

Pierce, co-owner of The Rack at Second Street and Harvard Avenue in Claremont, offers a complete line of men's wear from casual to dress.

The store has racks full of shirts, slacks, suits and fancy sweaters. Brand names such as Harris, Levi, Lee, Arrow and Enro are available to customers.

Also, Corbin, Majer and Champion slacks plus Buford, Damon and Lord Jeff sweaters may be found at The Rack.

Pierce explains that customers always can find whatever they want at the store because a knowledgeable employe is prepared to serve them.

And The Rack has been involved in upgrading Claremont, claims Pierce, with the facade conforming to the Village area. "We've also been recognized nationally by Men's Wear magazine which printed an article on the store."

Owners of The Rack — Pierce, Richard Bennitt and George Bennitt — recently bought a second men's clothing store in Redlands.

The Claremont store has been operating at its present location since 1972. Before that, The Rack was located at 147 Harvard Ave.

Store hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

In Claremont's Village area, the Rack at Second Street and Harvard Avenue, has attractive clothing for men for all occasions.

The Rack offers a complete line of men's wear.

Family sees 2 generations on court

By AMY GUSMAN
Claremont

Being chosen as Homecoming Queen is a definite honor, but for Claremont's new queen, Karen Ann Huffman, it is even more so.

"Me? I'm Homecoming Queen?" wails Karen, "How could they pick me? I'm a geek!"

"Little Huffy" as Karen is known, was chosen by popular vote on Friday, Nov. 5 from a court of five candidates, Terri Ducey, Karen Frampton, Judi Underhill and Janet Stark. Janet Strathern, Claremont's ASF exchange student from South Africa, served as honorary princess.

The 5-foot, brown-haired, green-eyed young lady attributes her luck (as she calls it) to Chuck Culbertson, who wore his lucky rugby shirt on the evening of her crowning and also presented her with a carefully lettered sign reading "Go Get 'em Huffy!!" For extra confidence, Karen had slept with her "Lucky Monkey" the night before the Homecoming game, a good-luck stuffed-animal that had worked wonders for a friend.

Karen was escorted onto the football field by her father, Robert Huffman, and Karen claims that most of the time by his side was spent with her eyes closed. "I watched Sid come up to me and flex his muscles" she recalls. "But thats all I saw". Sid Robinson ASB vice president, dressed up as Superman to choose the Queen. "When Sid walked away I knew I didn't make it" she adds. Karen was so sure that she would not be chosen that she had told her mother earlier in the week that another girl had won, so that Karen's mom would not get her hopes up. Karen aptly describes her mother's reaction when Karen's name was finally announced: "She had a coronary!" The event was extra special for Mrs. Huffman because she had been a Homecoming Princess at Claremont High School in 1953.

Varsity Cheer (she is head cheerleader), Senior Women's Club, Mountaineering Club, Spanish Club, Senior Class Council and a 3.8 grade average head Karen's list of accomplishments during her four years at Claremont. Yet, she has still found time for friendships and memories that she will always cherish. "I've learned so much and made so many friends, and had such unforgettable times," Karen smiles. She appreciates those who have guided her throughout high school; counselor Larry Ganzell, secretary Lee Bailey and Rally Squad advisor Drue Lawlor ("mom" as Karen calls her).

The past four years are very special to Karen and she says she will miss everyone and everything when she graduates in the spring. "I'll miss the closeness of my friends most of all," she adds.

For Karen, being chosen as Homecoming Queen is not only an honor but a very special going away present as well.

Celebrity crowns Bonita High queen

By KAREN JOHNSON
Bonita Correspondent

Jodi Kershaw has been named the 1976-77 homecoming queen at Bonita High School.

Miss Sue Malone, last year's queen, presided over the activities until she handed over the crown. Local television personality Chris Nelson was on hand to help crown the queen. He has appeared in segments of Marcus Welby, Lucas Tanner, the Six Million Dollar Man, Adam 12, The Mary Tyler Moore Show and Sons and Daughters television shows.

The queen's court includes five other senior girls, Judy Edwards, Kathy Howell, Holly Morgan, and Debbie Russi. Miss Helle Nissum, a foreign exchange student from Denmark, reigns as honorary princess by invitation of the senior class.

Miss Kershaw is presently a varsity songleader. She plans to attend college in Florida and major in biology.

Miss Edwards is currently a student leader in girls P.E. Her junior year she was a member of the drill team.

Miss Howell was selected as a basketball princess during her freshman year and was a junior varsity cheerleader.

Miss Morgan was a varsity cheerleader last year and was chosen as basketball princess her junior year.

Miss Russi was a varsity songleader last year and a basketball princess her sophomore year.

Miss Nissum's interests include soccer and gymnastics. She also enjoys dancing.

"A Night With The Stars" was the theme of the Homecoming. Following the football game was the annual Homecoming dance where Queen Joni reigned for the night.

S Club to sponsor benefit car wash

The S Club of Alta Loma High School will hold a car wash at the B & B Gulf Station, corner of Foothill Boulevard and San Antonio Avenue in Upland on Nov. 20. Charge for cars will be $1 and for vans and trucks, $1.50.

Proceeds will go toward expenses in various service projects.

During the year, the girls make tray favors and deserts for the Upland Convalescent Hospital, Alta Loma Manor, and Cal Kursall Hospital.

Advisor for the S Club is Mrs. Betty Butts.

Students to compete in math

Five students and an adviser from Alta Loma High School will go to the Occidental College mathematics field day today to participate in contests and tour the Eagle Rock campus.

Kathy Urquhart, adviser, and the students will participate in five separate events. Robert Thorne will compete in in the "chalk talk derby," Edmund Capparelli and Jeff Anderson will compete in the "leap frog relay," and John Rickey and Alice Hall will compete in the "mad hatter marathons."

A.L. sophs slate dance

The sophomore class at Alta Loma High School will sponsor its school dance in the boys' gym Nov. 20 from 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The band for the dance will be Bobbidazzler.

On Nov. 18, the band will play for the students during lunch hour to spur interest for the dance. Students will be able to listen to the music in front of the gym during lunch.

The money earned from the dance will go to sophmore activities and the junior-senior prom next year.

PC holds annual parent open house

By SUSAN BERGMANN
Pomona Catholic

The National Honor Society-California Scholarship Federation at Pomona Catholic High School held a careers assembly on Wednesday. Pat Leavens, moderator of the clubs, and the officers, Elenor Taylor, Mary Radocinski, Cindy Engkraf, and Monique Tristant, asked for suggestions earlier this year. They narrowed the suggestions to five choices. Navy Chief Parker and Army Sergeant Brown from the Armed Forces talked about opportunities for women and showed two films. Claire Sadourin came from the United Health Careers Institute Inc. to speak about Emergency Medical Techniques. Gary Koonce, a Mechanical Engineer at Cal Poly, came to speak about engineering. Dr. Lewis, an audiologist at Cal State Los Angeles spoke about special education, and Marvin Gore, a professor at MSAC told about computer services and data programming.

NHS-CSF is also organizing an open house for the parents on Sunday, Nov. 14, from 2-4 o'clock. First, Sister Susan, principal, will hold a short assembly, then the parents will go through their daughter's schedules.

Exchange program presents show

By MICHAEL SUDIN
Garey High School

Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Garey High School cafeteria, a presentation will be given on how interested freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors may go abroad as foreign exchange students. Mr. Muscatel, the regional director for I.C.X. (International Cultural Exchange), will explain the program presented by I.C.X.

This program will be joined with the existing American Field Service (A.F.S.) club at Garey High so that students desiring to go abroad may more easily. The existing program through A.F.S. has extreme qualifications which makes it almost impossible for the average student to exchange.

The only qualification set forth by I.C.X. is that the perspective exchange student have the money for the trip.

Any interested students and parents are invited to come Wednesday. Refreshments will be served.

Key Club to meet

Montclair High School Key Club will hold its annual alumni meeting Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. in Room 43.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Chuck Saucer at 624-5325.

TAMMY SUMBOT, 17, and a senior at San Dimas High has been chosen as the school's 1976 Homecoming Queen. She has been a member of the Saint's drill team for four years and is now serving as the captain. Princesses on the homecoming court were Roseann Blackschleger, Laura Fields, Dawn Lavers and Janet McDonald. Tammy was crowned by 1975 queen Leticia Benivides.

Ganesha drama slates "Town"

By MILISSA CLESCERI
Ganesha Correspondent

"Our Town", a play by Thornton Wilder, will be presented Nov. 18, 19, and 20 by the Ganesha High School Drama department in the District Auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave., at 8 p.m. Drama coach Fran Van Horn is the director.

There is no scenery in the play. The actors pantomime the scenery and props. The stage manager acts as a narrator to describe the settings.

Cindy Pye will play the part of Emily. Janie Brandenburg and Steve Pardee are cast as her parents, and Ed Mello is her brother, Wally Webb.

Jay Hesselgrave plays her husband, George Gibbs. Carla Fisher and Nick Ruggiero are his parents and Virginia Salazar plays his sister, Rebecca. Irene Brandenburg is cast as the stage manager.

Others in the cast are Carrie Flamme as Professor Willard, Letty Sierra as Mrs. Soams, Cecilia Brandenburg as Simone Stimson, the alcoholic choral director, Eric Sanders as Constable Warren, Richard Haluschalk as Howie Newsome, Larry Walker as Joe Crowell, and Lisa Gustafsom and Kitty Hutt as women among the dead.

Andrea Du Rant student directs.

Tickets cost $1.25 for students with an ASB card, $1.50 for students without an ASB card, and $1.75 for adults. They can be purchased from cast members at the door.

Roving disco livens parties

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you have $500 and understanding neighbors, you can bring the pelvic gyrations and power-driven boogie of the disco phenomenon right into your own living room, jive-talking deejay and all.

Yes, mobile-disco has finally arrived, although most Americans may not have known they were waiting for it.

Two examples of the innate American ability to capitalize on trends, Wayne Russo and Jim Hurlbut, have come up with a relatively low-risk means of grabbing a hunk of the $4 billion disco industry for themselves.

"One per cent of it would be all right with us," Rosso says. "One-half of one per cent would be all right with us," Hurlbut adds.

Former sales representatives for a record company, Rosso and Hurlbut decided one year ago that they'd had enough of "schlepping records," as Rosso put it. Recognizing the disco revival as the financial steamroller it proved to be, they put together two mobile disco units equipped with flashing lights and a vast array of disco sounds, at an initial cost of $50,000.

"We look like a discoteque," Rosso says. "We actually recreated the entire mood, feel, lighting, special effects — everything.

"We are," he adds with a flourish, "in show business. We're like the Rolling Stones on tour."

They haven't been able to keep up with the demand for their services, and after just a few months in business, "our Nazi accountant tells us we're in the black," Rosso says.

The inventive pair have dubbed their enterprise "Let's Go Disco," and have a pool of disc jockeys who can "give you Big Band, Glenn Miller-type stuff, if you want that, or our guys can mix it up, give you top-40, disco, oldies, the whole thing," Rosso says.

And like their stationary counterparts across the country, mobile disco deejays alter the moods and behavior of the dancers with subtle changes in the format.

ABBA

Swedish rock group waiting

By STAN MIESES

The Swedish rock and roll group, Abba, dropped into town this week, and we got a chance to get the Scandinavian perspective on the scene. Abba has never performed in the United States, but despite that, they have still managed five or six big AM hits and a decent Best Hits album — and their faces are still not known. Shame. Good faces in this group. High cheekbones and firm jaws, big eyesand wide mouths. The two women, Anni-Frid (Frida) and Agnetha (Anna) are perfect Nordic types. They're all married — Frida to Benny and Anna to Bjorn. Why don't they come and play in the U.S.? They speak perfect English, (they're very popular in England) — so why don't they play here? Benny told us simply: "In Sweden we are number one. In Engaland we are number one. If we came here now, we wouuld not be number one. We can afford to wait." He leaned back in the limousine, and looked through the sunlight roof. "You know, New TYorkers never look up," he said, surveying the skyscraper scenery. "Do you mind if I do.?"

* * *

It's only been a few weeks, but Stevie Wonder's double-record "Songs in the Key of Life" has zoomed past all the other hot properties on the charts, including Peter Frampton's, and is easily the nation's favorite disk. Two years have passed since Stevie's last album, and the countless postponements of this release have whetted a voracious appetite: the $11.98 list record shipped "platinum," and to date more than 1.4 million copies have been sold.

In the two years, we've heard a number of Stevie Wonder imitators gain inflated status on the charts with their derivative sound, but Stevie's current domination of the record-buying public and the radio airwaves is testimony that his sincerity and lyrical strength cannot be matched.

"Actually," Stevie told us, "this album is not so much 'Stevie Wonder' as it is Steveland Morris — that's my real name. 'Stevie Wonder' is only a vehicle to say what I feel."

"Songs In The Key Of Life' is certainly the most ambitious recording he's attempted to date: it contains 17 new compositions on two long playing records plus four on an extended play single, and a fat lyric booklet that's meant to be studied.

He has continued down the road of self-exploration, which he so eloquently began on "Innervisions," released in 1974, and in "Songs" he has reached a power and range that's universally impressive. His stylistic dexterity is singular in pop music. He can play jazz, hard r&b, Spanish, gospel and rock and roll. He threads them together on "Songs" under his heading of "love mentalism."

"There's a feeling in these songs I wish to express to the world, and that is: this is where I am, and there's no looking back," he said. "It took me a long time to complete this record, I know, but I don't care. I gave it my all. I needed the time to find the picture I wanted to paint. I waited until I was satisfied."

To reduce crime, cut heroin cost: report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government-funded study suggests that federal drug officials experiment with ways of lowering heroin prices to see if that would reduce crimes by addicts supporting expensive habits.

The 1,000-page report, "Drug Use and Crime," says narcotics law enforcement could be relaxed or that free heroin could be distributed in a limited area as an experiment. But it concludes that nationwide heroin maintenance to pacify addicts "clearly ... is an intolerable policy for reducing crime."

The study was performed by 24 persons outside the government under a $219,000 contract with the National Institute on Drug Abuse. The institute said the report is under review and that none of the recommendations has been accepted.

Whereabouts of 800 Americans sought

MIA talks with N. Vietnam open

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and Vietnamese diplomats opened talks Friday on the question of 800 Americans still missing in action from the war in Vietnam and Vietnamese demands for reconstruction aid.

The negotiations also seek to find a basis for normalizing relations between the two countries, but no concrete progress is expected before President-elect Jimmy Carter takes office in January.

Neither the American representative, Samuel R. Gammon, nor his Vietnamese counterpart, Tran Hoan, spoke to reporters after their two-hour meeting. They are the No. 2 men at their embassies here and met in a building in suburban Neuilly that is believed to be the residence of the Vietnamese ambassador.

Statements were issued later by the U.S. Embassy, the State Department in Washington and the Vietnamese Embassy.

State Department spokesman Robert Funseth said the initial meeting was a "substantive discussion" in a correct atmosphere but it produced no change in America's decision to veto Vietnam's application for membership in the United Nations.

He was asked it the reaffirmation of the expected veto meant there had been no progress on the question of the Americans missing in action (MIA) and replied, "That's a fair statement."

Vietnam's application for U.N. membership is scheduled to come to a vote next week in the U.N. Security Council where America, as one of the five permanent members, has the veto power.

The U.S. Embassy statement said issues of interest to both countries were raised at the meeting, with the question of MIAs "our primary concern."

18 men still missing in sea; 1 dead, 14 saved

Rescue ships leave stormy disaster scene

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eighteen crewmen from a sunken lumber ship were still missing in chilly, storm-whipped Pacific Ocean waters Friday as the last of three rescue vessels left the disaster scene.

One crew member was known dead and 14 had been rescued by the time the freighter Wisteria headed for Japan with some of the survivors, the Coast Guard said.

Another ship that had been the first to arrive on the scene after the Carnelian-1 sank in stormy weather Thursday was driven off earlier by the rough weather. A Japanese ship that reached the area Friday morning left in the afternoon without explanation, the Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard cutter en route from Alaska is not expected to reach the shipwreck site until today.

"It's still raining and storming," Coast Guard spokesman Larry Clark said in San Francisco, where the search is being coordinated. "The winds are picking up, there's more spray and rain and visibility is deteriorating."

Another Coast Guard spokesman, Ed Conlon, said aircraft would continue circling the area until darkness, three hours after nightfall in San Francisco. A Coast Guard plane will resume the search this morning, and the cutter Mellon is expected to arrive early this afternoon.

Until then, no other vessels are known to be available for rescue operations, Conlon said.

The Panamanian-registered ship Hunter picked up two crew members and spotted the body of another, kept afloat by a life jacket, before leaving the scene.

The Wisteria plucked eight of the shipwrecked seamen to safety before dawn and four more after daybreak. The Coast Guard said at one point that the ship's captain had been rescued but reported later that he was not among the known survivors.

But Speedway Corp. must also voice approval

Ontario officials extend Expo 81 pact

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

Ontario City Council extended the contract with Expo 81 Corp for 120 days in a special session Friday night, but approval is contingent upon approval by the Ontario Motor Speedway Corp. board and clarification of language regarding a $7 million loan for purchase of the speedway.

The council voted 3-1, overriding the objections of Faye Dastrup who favored only a 30-day extension of the contract between the city, Expo 81 Corp. and the OMS board which expired Nov. 5. Mrs. Dastrup argued that she wanted more commitment from the City of Los Angeles and at least a matching financial contribution of $10,000 from Los Angeles.

She also argued that the council and OMS board could "examine other alternatives in saving the speedway" than the proposed world fair. She failed to point out, however, that until the Expo 81 Corp. approached the city regarding the international exposition, the city and speedway corporation had failed to come up with any other alternatives and bankruptcy procedures and foreclosure by the bondholders would begin in the spring of 1977 without the proposal for the world fair.

All members of the council agreed that the Expo 81 Corp. could not use the speedway site as collateral for obtaining the $7 million loan from Allen and Co. The bonding firm headquartered in Boston and New York currently has a contract with Expo 81 Corp. that calls for the speedway to be used as security for the loan to obtain the speedway from the bondholders.

Samuel Crowe, city attorney, said that Allen and Co., according to the provisions of the contract, has the right to place a lien on the speedway. Allen and Co. will obtain a first trust deed on the site in return for the $7 million, he added.

"It is my understanding that that was not your concept of your agreement with Expo 81," Crowe said. "The property was not to be used for security in obtaining the loan . . . If for some reason the money was not repaid, it (the speedway) could be acquired by Allen and Co."

This would violate the provision of the agreement with the city and speedway corporation that the site would revert to the city no later than December 31, 1982.

Councilman Homer Briggs said that the council must consider the interests of the city and the speedway, and on that basis could not grant Allen and Co. a deed to the speedway.

Storm hits Southland, floods city in Mexico

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thunderstorms dumped inches of rain in Southern California and Northern Mexico on Friday, flooding homes and streets, knocking down power lines, collapsing ceilings and delaying an auto race, authorities said.

Torrential rains flooded a 40-block area of Ensenada, Mexico, forcing evacuation of more than 100 persons, mostly children, said Gen. Gonzalo Acosta Fernandez, director of public security in Ensenada, the starting point for the Baja 1000 auto race. No deaths or injuries were reported.

The race, which was to have begun Friday morning, was delayed at least until today when drivers were scheduled to decide whether to begin the race.

The storm, with heavy showers at times, poured .48 inch of rain on the Los Angeles Civic Center and lit the sky with flashes of lightning.

Los Angeles firemen evacuated 33 elderly patients from the Beverlywood Guest Home early Friday when rain soaked through its ceiling, causing plaster to fall.

Unsuspecting morning motorists splashed into the torrential downpours at full speed, and a rash of accidents resulted. In some cases, accidents closed freeways, further complicating traffic.

About 1,000 homes in Van Nuys lost power for 45 minutes when the storm knocked out a power line. About 500 customers also lost utility service for an hour in North Hollywood and West Los Angeles.

15 hurt in battle sparked by racial incidents

3 die in bloody riot at Georgia prison

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Black and white inmates fought a brief bloody battle Friday at Georgia's top security prison, killing three prisoners and injuring 15 others, authorities said.

Normal routines were resumed at the prison later Friday, officials said, but about a dozen state troopers remained on duty outside the prison in case of further trouble.

About 80 inmates used crudely fashioned knives and clubs in the disturbance that apparently was sparked by racial incidents of a day or two earlier, said state Corrections Commissioner Allen Ault.

"A group of whites set upon a group of blacks," he told reporters outside the prison. "I don't know whether they just wanted blacks or if there was someone specific they wanted."

The prisoners killed in the fighting, all blacks, were identified as Willie Frank Madison, 27, of Lincolnton, Ga., serving six years for burglary and escape convictions; Johnny Lee McPherson, 29, of Rockmart, Ga., serving a life term for robbery, assault with intent to murder and possession of a deadly weapon, and James Langford Carter, 29, of Decatur, Ga., serving 10 years for convictions of rape and violation of the Georgia Firearms Act.

Five injured prisoners were taken by ambulance to a hospital in Augusta, 125 miles away, and another was flown there later by helicopter.

No guards were injured in the incident, said Sara Passmore of the Department of Offender Rehabilitation.

The disturbance broke out as about 500 prisoners were leaving the cell block for morning work details, she said.

The 39-year-old prison contains about 3,000 inmates, two-thirds of them black.

Mrs. Passmore said that the violence apparently had been planned and that questioning of prisoners indicated it stemmed from racial incidents of a day or two earlier.

A white inmate had complained to fellow whites that he had been attacked by blacks at the prison, and then whites had beaten a black inmate, she said prisoners told officers.

Corrections officials were not made aware of the incidents until Friday, she said.

Friday's fighting "lasted some 15 minutes until officers were able to line up the inmates against the institution fence," she said.

"It was a matter of inmates against inmates; the officers did not have to use force against the inmates," she said.

Guards later confiscated "all types of contraband, lots of homemade knives, metal objects, clubs, even locks wrapped in socks used to hit prisoners," Mrs. Passmore said.

Hoover 'memo' tells of Oswald threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover wrote a memorandum which said Lee Harvey Oswald told Cuban officials he intended to assassinate President John F. Kennedy, the Washington Post reported in Saturday's editions.

The newspaper said the memo has been discovered by the Justice Department, which refused any comment on the report.

The Post quoted informed sources as saying that Hoover, in the memo, attributed the information about Oswald to a highly reliable informant who claimed he was told it personally by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The newspaper reported that the memo said Castro reportedly was advised by officials of the Cuban embassy in Mexico City that they met with Oswald before Nov. 22, 1963, the date of Kennedy's assassination in Dallas.

Carter inauguration: formal but 'modest'

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter has ordered a modest, "people-oriented" inauguration but he still plans to wear a top hat, ride in a parade through Washington and attend a formal inaugural ball on Jan. 20, a press aide said Friday.

Carter reviewed inauguration plans Friday at his home with directors of his inauguration committee. He also discussed transition plans and White House staffing with Hamilton Jordan and Jack H. Watson, Jr., amid reports of a rivalry between the two top aides.

Jordan, Carter's campaign director, and Watson, head of the staff directing the transition from the Ford to the Carter administration, also denied at a news conference in nearby Americus Friday afternoon that they were competing with each other for Carter's attention.

Rex Granum, an assistant press secretary, told reporters that "several hundred thousand invitations" would be mailed out for the inaugural ceremonies but he said he did not know for what events the invitations could be used.

'Obviously they can't have several hundred thousand physically at the swearing in," he observed.

"We want to take away some of the aspects of a coronation," Granum said at a briefing that preceded the Jordan-Watson news conference. But he conceded that Carter would appear in formal attire, including a top hat.

Despite the number of invitations, he said, "the main direction ... is setting a tone that is more modest" than previous inaugural ceremonies.

The inauguration traditionally involves the actual swearing-in ceremony on the east side of the Capitol, overlooking what is normally a parking lot, a parade along Pennsylva.ia Avenue and a series of inaugural balls to which party faithful are invited and for which they pay.

Normally there is seating for less than 100,000 at invitational events but not all of those invited can always attend.

Granum said fees will be levied for some events "but the plan is to keep them in the range of the ordinary citizen."

Ex-Pomona police chief faces new charges of embezzlement

New charges of embezzlement and theft have been filed in Colorado against James W. Richards, whose brief stint as police chief of Pomona ended with his dismissal last September.

The additional charges, like the nine original counts filed against him by Arvada, Colo., officials, concern alleged thefts and embezzlement of funds from the Arvada Police Department while Richards was its chief.

Richards left the Arvad department to become Pomona's chief last August. He was suspended without pay after the original charges were filed Sept. 7, and was discharged Sept. 20.

The 25 additional felony and misdemeanor counts brought to 34 the total separate offenses filed against the 43-year-old former Ventura County Sheriff's Department captain. The new counts hiked the total amount allegedly misappropriated by Richards from $3,445 to $5,365.

The new charges were filed at a hearing in Golden, Colo., the county seat of Jefferson County, Thursday morning. District Judge Joseph P. Lewis allowed Richards to remain free on $10,000 bail pending the next hearing Dec. 20.

At Thursday's hearing, Richards' attorney, Charles Hoppin, withdrew from the case, telling Lewis that he feared a possible conflict of interests due to the fact that he is also representing a district attorney's investigator in an unrelated civil action. That DA's investigator, John Kiekbush, was the chief investigator in the probe of the Richards case.

Among the latest charges against Richards are those which alleged that he kept funds returned by an officer who had drawn money to attend a seminar on homicide in Oklahoma; that he kept a department shotgun when he left to take the Pomona job; and that he used $483 advanced to him to attend a law enforcement conference in California to go to Pomona instead and seek the job as chief.

When he left his new $32,000-a-year job in Pomona, Richards stated that he is innocent of any wrongdoing and expected to be exonerated in court.

'SNOW WHITE'S BURIAL — A casket containing the body of an unidentified infant girl is carried to a grave in Dallas, Tex., Friday by Walter Baldree, who is accompanied by his wife. The Baldrees found the body in a trash can while searching for cans. They claimed the body after efforts to find the mother failed. Mrs. Baldree hocked her diamond ring to pay for the services and a cemetery donated the casket and grave. A marker will bear the name 'Snow White' which Mrs. Baldree named the child.

From Claremont Council

Sharing of revenue gets 'cool' reception

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Two students working on their master's thesis at the Claremont Graduate School have received little encouragement on their revenue-sharing proposal from the Claremont City Council.

Steven D. Rudman and Duane J. Ruffner think that citizens should have a greater opportunity in suggesting how federal revenue sharing funds are spent.

They submitted their proposal to the council Tuesday night and council members said they would rather have the citizenry turn out for hearings on the city's $4 million budget than for revenue sharing which amounts to only $150,000.

Rudman told the council that "ideally, we would like to devise an experimental model for the January 1977 hearing on revenue sharing that would encourage and provide for genuine citizen involvement."

Rudman said that he and Ruffner chose Claremont for their project "because it may be an ideal locale for resident participation."

When Rudman said that "obviously, revenue sharing has not been a major source of funding for services for the less fortunate and the aged," council members quickly replied that the city's dial-a-ride taxicab service and the Oakmont day care center are funded through federal revenue sharing.

Councilman Richard Newton said that citizen participation is evident if the interest is strong enough.

He said that he would like to work within the present structure of council and commissions.

"Claremont is very vocal, but they are not here when we discuss the city budget," commented Councilwoman Eleanor Cohen. "I would like to see that interest beefed up."

The men were advised to contact the Horizons committee which worked during the Claremont Bicentennial celebration.

In other matters this week, the council decided to sell a small plot of land west of the Rosemount tract and north of a 10-lot proposed tract along the Thompson Creek Flood Control Channel for a minimum asking price of $13,000 an acre.

The city has decided that the land is not easily usable as a park.

The council has accepted a recommendation from the city Human Resources Commission that county health department personnel be available on a weekly basis at the city's Senior Citizens Information and Referral Center.

Discarded dead infant is 'adopted' by family

DALLAS (AP) — The marker on the grave of the unidentified baby, whose body was found in a trash bin, will read simply "Snow White."

But "this baby now has a family who cares for her," says Mrs. Walter Baldree. She said she hocked her diamond ring to help pay for the baby's funeral.

Baldree, 40, an unemployed cabinet maker, and his wife found the baby's body while they were looking through trash bins in the apartment complex where they live. They were looking for aluminum cans they could sell.

The couple claimed the infant's body Monday, after 48 hours had passed without authorities identifying the mother. The Baldrees wanted to avoid having the city give the baby a pauper's burial, said a spokesman for the Dallas County medical examiner.

Tests are being made to determine whether the baby was stillborn or had died in the plastic bag in which it was found.

"It's hard for people to understand," Mrs. Baldree said, "that things can be replaced, clothing can be replaced, but human life can't. And this baby now has a family who cares for her."

The Baldrees have two daughters.

Purse snatcher strikes

An 86-year-old Claremont woman was knocked down and robbed of her purse Thursday evening as she was walking to her apartment in a retirement complex at 650 W. Harrison Ave., police reported.

The victim, Ruby G. Demoulin, was struck from behind by a man who leaped from bushes as she passed. He then wrenched her purse from her and ran in a southerly direction.

The woman's attacker was described as black, about 20, 5 feet 11 weighing 160 pounds. He wore dark clothing.

Market holdup foiled

Two men, one armed with a short-barrelled revolver, abandoned their effort to hold up the 7-Eleven Market at 795 N. Indian Hill Blvd. in Pomona Thursday night when the employe informed them he was unable to open the store safe.

The pair fled out the front door after taking nothing from the market. The armed man, who spoke broken English, was described as Latin, 18 to 20, 5 feet 8 weighing 140 pounds. He had long, stringy hair, a scar under one eye and wore a brown coat with a fur collar.

Pomonan, 23, ruled guilty in Valley murder

Cleveland Lyle Clark was found guilty of first-degree murder Friday by a Pomona Superior Court jury in the March 8 shooting of a downtown Pomona bartender.

Clark, 23, of Pomona, had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity in the killing of William Hyland, 30, in the Belinda Terrace bar.

The jury will reconvene Tuesday to consider the sanity phase of the case.

During the trial, Clark testified that he was under "the control of voices" the night he left the bar after being refused service and returned minutes later with a shotgun used to kill Hyland.

His companion that evening, Evelyn Miriam Terrell, 34, told the jury that Clark waved the patrons of the tavern out the back door of the business, then ordered the victim to place his head on the bar, proceeded to place the shotgun against the victim's head and pulled the trigger.

According to testimony the slaying followed a night of bar hopping by Clark and Mrs. Terrell, during which Clark was ejected from one establishment after consuming five drinks.

The couple then went to the Belinda Terrace, where Hyland refused to serve Clark because he had had enough to drink.

Mrs. Terrell herself was charged with murder at one time in the case. That charge was later dismissed, however, and she subsequently plead quilty to being an accessory after the fact and was given probation after spending three months in Patton State Hospital.

After the shooting Clark and Mrs. Terrell went to the residence of friends, where Clark got drunk. The pair were arrested when they left the residence later that night.

During the trial Clark admitted he felt outraged at having been refused service and felt that the bartender was prejudiced. Clark is black and Hyland was white.

He claimed that during the killing he had "flashes" of other times during his life when he was insulted and degraded by others.

Although now convicted of murder in the first degree, Clark does not face capital punishment since the prosecution did claim that "special circumstances" required for capital cases existed.

Hearst attorneys plan for detailed security

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Attorneys seeking bail for Patricia Hearst promised Friday to submit a detailed security plan that would allow the convicted heiress to live in relative safety with her family.

"The court obviously is very much concerned about her safety," said U.S. District Judge William H. Orrick during a 90-minute hearing on defense motions for bail pending appeal and for a new trial.

"Before I rule (on the bail motion), I want to review any plan for security," Orrick said.

The judge, who last September sentenced Miss Hearst to seven years in prison for bank robbery, did not indicate when he would rule on the new trial motion. The defense claimed the retrial was in order because the prosecution had suppressed some evidence beneficial to the defedant.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey said later that a security plan using federal marshals, or marshals and private guards, would be given Orrick early next week, with a ruling expected soon after.

The attorney said the plan was needed because of numerous threats against Miss Hearst for her reported willingness to testify against former companions in the Symbionese Liberation Army.

If Miss Hearst, 22, were granted bail, she still would not go free immediately. She faces state charges of robbery, kidnaping and assault related to a Los Angeles sporting goods store shooting incident.

Bail in that case has been set at $500,000 — a figure the defense says it will try to have reduced. She faces trial on those charges Jan. 10.

Skoog said that the 120-day extension would allow them "ample opportunity to evaluate the Allen and Co. contract from an economic standpoint." He noted that he did have reservations about amending the agreement with the city because it would change the basic applications before the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Bureau of International Expositions, possibly jeopardizing approval from these two bodies for federal and international recognition.

Bill Welsh, vice president of Expo 81 Corp., reminded the council that any agreement with Allen and Co. would still require approval of the council before becoming effective. Expo 81 Corp. is not empowered with the right to finalize an agreement such as this without council consent.

The city attorney suggested that there be specific language in the granting of the extension because the extension becomes part of the agreement. He also noted that the OMS Corp. board is legally required to concur before the action is final.

Mrs. Dastrup still objected to the longer extension, saying "I need more assurance that this indeed will be a Los Angeles fair . . . I would be more comfortable with extending the agreement if Los Angeles was supporting it."

The OMS Corp. board will meet at 4 p.m. Monday in Ontario City Hall conference room. George Mim Mack, Charles Cummins and Charles Milhiser of that board attended the Friday night council meeting.

Crowe will prepare a resolution for adoption by the council at its Tuesday night meeting.

CANCER FORUMS PLANNED

Hesta Damon, left, in-service education director at Glendora Community Hospital, Dr. Norvelle Harris, pathologist, and Ronald Porter, hospital administrator, discuss with Ruth Stevens, right, nuclear medicine department supervisor, the operation of a machine used to make X-ray images after the injection of radio-active material in a patient. The group will participate in public forums on cancer shceduled next week.

Valley residents will get chance to learn more about cancer

A rare opportunity to talk with physicians about the various types of cancer, its incidence and control, will be offered valley residents next week.

The series of programs is being offered through a cooperative venture by six community hospitals, the American Cancer Society and the Los Angeles County-USC Comprehensive Cancer Center's oncology consultant program.

Dr. Norvelle Harris, professional education chairman of the American Cancer Society's Northeast Los Angeles County Unit, has initiated the series of free public forums.

Dr. Harris said the concerted effort to update and improve the level of cancer awareness in the community is the best weapon against cancer.

Hospitals participating in the educational program are Foothill Presbyterian, Glendora Community, Inter-Community of Covina, Queen of the Valley and West Covina.

In addition to the public sessions, a concomitant program will continue through the week for physicians and nurses.

The principal speaker at several of the sessions will be a nationally known oncologist, Dr. Richard A. Bohannon of San Francisco.

The public will be able to hear Dr. Bohannon on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Foothill Presbyterian Hospital, Glendora. His talk will be entitled "The Patient's Role in Cancer Control."

Dr. Bohannon will speak again at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Marchant Park Recreation Building, 425 E. Juanita Ave., San Dimas, discussing "Melanoma, the Modern Black Plague and What You Can Do About It."

Also planned Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the San Dimas Community Hospital, will be a panel on "Lung Cancer, the Smoker's Scourge." Panelists will include Dr. Harris, Dr. H.D. Elshire, and other local physicians.

At 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dr. Bohannon will talk at the West Covina Hospital. His topic will be "Breast Cancer, Where We Are."

The program planned for Thursday at 7:30 p.m. will be a panel on "The Unmentionable Invader — Colon and Rectal Cancer." The program at Glendora Community Hospital will feature Dr. Harris, a pathologist, Dr. J. Douglas Smith, an oncologist, and Dr. P. Atil, a surgeon.

Younger eyes governor's race in '78

By BOB SWETNAM
PB Staff Writer

State Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger is definitely eyeing the upcoming gubernatorial election in 1978 as a possible challenger to Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., he revealed Friday in a visit to Pomona.

When asked if he planned to seek the Republican nomination for governor, Younger responded, "It's obviously something I should be thinking about."

First elected to statewide office in 1970 as attorney general, Younger had previously been district attorney for Los Angeles County.

He has been a frequent critic of many of the faults of the criminal justice system which he feels "often favors the rights of the accused over the rights of the victims in a crime."

Younger revealed he had a very good chance to win the governor's race because "I am probably potentially the strongest candidate for governor.

"I received more votes in the 1974 elections than any other Republican candidate in the nation," he said.

When asked if he thought the Republican party could mount an effective campaign against the state's popular governor, Edmund G. Brown Jr., Younger responded, "California voters are very independant and I think the honeymoon with the governor is over."

Younger explained that a choice between himself and the present governor "would be a clear cut decision on the issues."

In the event that Younger decides not to run for the governor's office, he did say he will seek another term as attorney general.

"This is one of the best and most rewarding jobs there is anywhere in public service," he said.

"We have one of the finest and most sophisticated criminal justice systems in the world. And I am a fortunate man. I really enjoy what I'm doing."

On other issues, Younger was frank.

"I was very concerned during the turbulent 1960s with this idea of 'do your own thing.' Individual responsibility was talked about as though it was outdated.

"If those types of philosophies had been followed to their inevitable conclusion it would have led to anarchy. Luckily the pendulum swung the other way," Younger said.

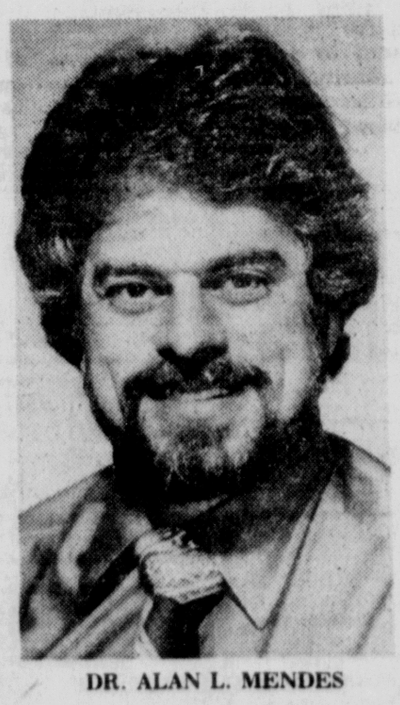
"People are now beginning to realize that prisons are made to protect the 'good' guys from the 'bad' guys."

When asked if he felt the tide had been turned in the battle against crime, Younger responded, "Things are getting worse more slowly. It is an improvement and sometime soon the crime rates are going to come down.

"This is due to the public's changing attitude towards crime. They are scared and they want to see something done to make the streets safe to walk at night.

"It is starting to be reflected in the courts, in the legislatures, and even in the press, that people will not stand for any more crime."

DR. STEPHEN PECK



DR. ALAN L. MENDES

Two join medical staff at hospital

Two doctors have joined the medical staff of Park Avenue Hospital, Pomona.

They are Dr. Stephen H. Peck, orthopedic surgeon and Dr. Alan L. Menkes, internist.

Both doctors have most recently been in practice in Florida.

Dr. Menkes graduated from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine in Philadelphia, Pa., where he was employed as a clinical medical technologist for the training of blood bank personnel. He completed his internship at Zieger Botsford Osteopathic Hospital and did his residency in internal medicine at Osteopathic General Hospital in North Miami Beach.

Dr. Menkes entered private practice of internal medicine in North Miami Beach and held the position of senior attending physician of the department of internal medicine and as an associate in the division of nuclear medicine there.

Until moving to Pomona, Dr. Menkes was in private practice in Hallandale, Fla., and on the staffs of three area hospitals.

Dr. Peck, a native of Korea, attended Vincennes University in Indiana where he received his certification in Medical Technology of American College of Clinical Pathology at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Vincennes, Ind.

He was director of the Clinical Laboratory at Mount Clemons General Hospital, Mount Clemons, Mich., before entering the Kansas City College of Osteopathic Medicine in 1965.

After his graduation, Dr. Peck served his internship at the Rocky Mountain Hospital in Denver, Colo. He was in general practice in Seattle, Wash., for two years.

Dr. Peck then went to Sun Coast Hospital in Largo, Fla., for orthopedic and traumatic surgery residency from 1972 to 1976. He moved to Pomona in July.

One YTS ward pleads guilty

Accused of taking part in escape

By TONY AULT
PB Staff Writer

One of seven Youth Training School wards accused of taking part in the Sept. 21 riot and mass escape at the Chino institotion that left two security guards injured has pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon in Chino Municipal Court.

Jordon Flagg, 21, entered guilty pleas to two counts of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do great bodily injury, one count of false imprisonment, and one count of escape.

He was ordered to appear Dec. 3 in West Valley Superior Court for probation hearing and sentencing.

Flagg was accused of overpowering one security guard after feigning illness in a holding cell and later attacking a second guard.

This precipitated a mass escape by himself and 11 other inmates and a riot in several living units. All the wards were later apprehended.

Flagg pleaded guilty to assaulting Officer Urban Standiford three weeks before the riot and assaulting Officer Tapiri Tabisuri moments before the riot.

He also pleaded guilty to the false imprisonment of Officer Gary Cauble, who was most seriously injured during the incident. All the offenses carry state prison terms.

The guilty pleas were made by Flagg with the understanding that a charge of attempted murder would be dismissed, said officials.

The other six inmates accused of attacking guards on Sept. 21 are scheduled to appear Monday in the Chino court for further preliminary hearings.

NEW POLICE FACILITY

Chino police dispatcher Carol Ulrick mans the new sophisticated dispatch and security control center in the Chino Police Department building on Central Avenue and Chino Avenue. The control center features closed circuit television in nearly every room in the building and the parking lot. Police moved into the new station earlier this week.

Brown appoints five women

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. has appointed women to fill five judicial posts, including one held by a dead judge who was reelected last Tuesday.

Brown's action Monday means that women have been named to 24 of the 153 judgeships filled by the Democratic governor since he took office in 1975.

Chino police catch two young suspects

Chino police have accused two youths with kidnaping, robbing and stealing the car of an Ontario resident in Chino Wednesday night.

One youth lives in Montclair and the second is a runaway from Rubidoux. They weren't identified because of their ages.

Officers said they arrested the Montclair suspect at his home and the second youth at his mother's Chino home following a day-long investigation.

A series of composite sketches by the victim, David Holland, 21, matched the Rubidoux runaway, said investigators. The youth was known to have a friend in Montclair.

Holland was driving on the freeway Wednesday night when flagged down by two youths near Ramona Avenue, said police. The youths produced a handgun and directed Holland to drive in an easterly direction.

They took his wallet before forcing Holland from his pickup. The robbers then drove towards Riverside. The victim's truck wasn't located, said police.

Pomona mayor will discuss city's progress

Pomona Mayor Ray Lepire will discuss Pomona's progress during 1976 and look ahead to the new year Thursday, Nov. 18, when he is guest speaker at a breakfast sponsored by the Pomona Jaycees.

The breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. at the Pomona Elks Lodge.

Cost is $3 for a complete breakfast.

Space is limited and reservations may be made by calling the Pomona Chamber of Commerce at 622-1256 or 623-3016.

Dairy held up

Scott's Dairy at 1043 E. Philadelphia St. in Pomona was robbed Thursday night by a man wearing a woman's wig, police reported.

William A. Delaney, 18, said the man approached, told him he had a pistol in a cloth bag he carried and demanded money. After getting cash, the man fled southbound.

Valley churches

Temple Sholom of Ontario

Temple Sholom of Ontario will celebrate ORT Sabbath, Friday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. Rabbi A. Yisroel Klein will officiate and the guest speaker will be Mrs. Ferrel Salen, past president.

The Oneg Shabbath social hour will be hosted by members of the East Valley Women's ORT organization.

Saturday, Nov. 20, the traditional service will begin at 9 a.m. At 10 a.m. Rabbi Klein will discuss the Torah portion.

Sunday, Nov. 21, the religious school will meet at 10 a.m. The Sunday lecture series will feature Dr. Sidney Blumner whose subject will be, "Economic Prospects After the Election." A coffee social hour will precede the lecture.

Temple Sholom is a family oriented conservative congregation catering to the religious, educational and social needs of the Jewish Community.

It conducts a weekday Hebrew School which prepares the student for Bar/Bar Mitzvah. The Sunday religious school has classes starting with kindergarten through confirmation. Temple Sholom is located at 963 W. Sixth St., Ontario. For information please call 983-9661.

Valley Community Drive-in

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday the film "Red River of Life" will be shown at the Valley Community Drive-In Church.

Produced by the Moody Institute of Science, the film presents a story of the heart, the red blood cell and circulatory system. It also shows the first pictures ever made of the interior of an actual beating heart. The public is invited to attend, admission is free. An offering will be received during the program.

Christ Lutheran Church

For the 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church in Chino, the Chi Rho's, a guitar and singing group composed of three couples, will provide special music.

The musicians also are the youth group leaders at the church.

At 1 p.m. the same day, there is to be a youth barbecue. An afternoon of games concluding with Bible study is planned.

Grace Baptist Church

Eleventh Street Baptist

"CORRIE: Behind the Scenes with THE HIDING PLACE," a movie, will be shown at Eleventh Street Baptist Church in Upland Sunday at 6 p.m.

United Church of Christ

The Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational, Claremont, will observe Christian Stewardship Sunday with a dedication of the 1977 pledges in the 10 a.m. worship service.

Northminster Presbyterian

Northminster Presbyterian Church of Diamond Bar is celebrating St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 21, at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Following the service there will be Scottish shortbread, strong tea and a bagpiper, Dwayne Douglas.

St. Andrew's Day is an annual Scottish Holiday. Andrew, one of the 12 desciples, is revered in Scotland as a national religious symbol and the only Presbyterian saint. Visitors are welcome to join us on this religious holiday.

Bethel Baptist Church

"CORRIE: Behind the Scenes with THE HIDING PLACE," a new movie from World Wide Pictures, will be shown at Bethel Baptist Church, Pomona, Sunday at 6 p.m.

THE HIDING PLACE, a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experiences of Corrie ten Boom, who with her father, sister, and brother, provided refuge for countless Jewish families. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Boom's activities were discovered, and they were sent to prisons and concentration camps.

L.V. Church of Brethren

La Verne College Sunday will be observed at the Sunday 10:30 a.m. worship service at the La Verne Church of the Brethren.

College students will take part in various aspects of the service. Music will be presented by a brass quartet and a women's vocal quartet.

The offertory will be by Randy Miller on guitar. A skit written and performed by La Verne college students will be enacted during the service.

Church members will invite Brethren College students into their homes for a meal following the service.

Valley Unitarian Society

"Big Problems and the Creative Stance" will be the subject of Dr. Stanley Waldrop, guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. Sunday service of the Unitarian Society of Pomona Valley, Montclair.

Dr. Waldrop is a professor of psychology at Chaffey College and a marriage and family counselor.

Claremont Presbyterian

The congregation at Claremont Presbyterian Church has elected new church officers for three year terms, beginning next January.

They are George Bailey, John Bobo, Ann McIntyre, Larry Robertson and Merrill Smith, elder-trustees; Gloria Aluzas, Emma Burt, Frances Creighton, Benjamin Fuente, Dorothy Harris, Ray Ross and Marian Thum, deacons; and Harland Goodrich, treasurer.

The Rev. E. Eugene Nuff, executive presbyter of San Gabriel Presbytery, will be speaker Sunday at the 10 a.m. service.

Three new Pilgrim soloists selected

The pilgrim congregational Church reports three new church soloists have been selected for the Pilgrim Quartet.

They are Nancy Emery, soprano; Mary Heyler, contralto and Clark Mallory, tenor. Mrs. Emery is a graduate of Lawrence College and is working for her master's degree at Claremont Colleges. Miss Heyler is a senior at Cal Poly, Pomona, where she serves as soloist with the concert choir and in the opera workshops. She has been engaged to sing in opera in Arizona next spring. Mallory is finishing his master's degree at Cal State Fullerton. Besides singing, he plays all keyed instruments, the flute and viola.

The senior member of the quartet is Richard Arhlen, baritone, in his 24th year at this church. Frank Cummings is the minister of music.

Camp Farthest Out meets

Mrs. Vivian Williams of San Dimas, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Pomona Valley Camp Farthest Out Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 13, in the East Lounge of Claremont Manor, Claremont.

Mrs. Williams has two groups meeting in her home each week for Bible study, prayer, and healing, and she also does much private work with the sick. Her subject for the meeting will be "Attaining Wholeness."

All are welcome.

Missouri Synod district chief heads new group

The Rev. Paul Jacobs, president of the California-Nevada District of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, was called to serve as presiding bishop of the newly formed Pacific Regional Synod of the Association of Evangelical Lutheran Churches (AELC), at its constituting convention in San Francisco.

Mr. Jacobs has served as district president within the Missouri Synod for 17 years, but is among eight district presidents who oppose the current direction of that church body. Five of those eight have resigned from office in recent months. Mr. Jacobs must now choose between his existing call from the Missouri Synod or the new call from the Pacific Regional Synod.

Acknowledging the convention's action, President Jacobs stated to the assembly, "I will give your call my prayerful consideration. When you have struggled with the possibility of death you get a new understanding of what faith is. I commit everything in the faithful hands of the Lord.

"This assembly is the beginning of a new day for the evangelical spirit in the Lutheran Church. What we have witnessed is the power of the orignizational structure opposing the power of the Gospel. God Himself will supply the wisdom and the strength we need," he said.

TV film offers real story of Jesus?

ROME (AP) — "I'm not trying to convert anyone," says Franco Zeffirelli of his latest and certainly most controversial work, a television epic on the life of Christ portrayed as "Jewish from head to toe."

With an ecumenical cast and Christian and Jewish religious advisers, Zeffirelli and crew have spent $12 million in what is billed as an attempt to strip away the legend and separate the man Jesus from the myth.

"I'm offering what we think is the real story," said the Italian director, who shot to international fame with his "Taming of the Shrew" and "Romeo and Juliet."

Entitled "The Life of Jesus," Zeffirelli's epic will be televised next year in the United States (NBC), Britain and Italy as starters, serialized in six episodes concluding on Easter Sunday.

Zeffirelli hopes his epic breaks new ground in portrayals of Christ as seen in the more than a dozen films made on his life ranging from "King of Kings" to "Jesus Christ Superstar."

This new version, for instance, pictures the Virgin Mary, played by Olivia Hussey, suffering labor pains. It also shows a graphic, bloody crucifixion scene.

Training session for phone campaign

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Pomona will have a training session Sunday at 7 p.m. on the "Here's Life America" telephone campaign.

They will be calling 1,500 homes for the next three weeks in connection with radio and television campaigns.

Church coordinators are Bill Koch, Mrs. Dora Schultze, Mary Garnmeister and Paula Peterson.

Tax returns

Forty-three per cent of the 86,245,000 citizens who filed income tax returns in 1976 paid for professional help in filling out their forms.

Saga of world's oldest Hebrew Bible

JERUSALEM (AP) — Like the message it carries, the world's oldest complete Hebrew Bible has survived invasions, fire, pogroms and the passing of centuries.

For more than 1,000 years, Jews have guarded the "aleppo crown" codex, ransoming it from Gentile conquerors, hiding it from maurauders and finally smuggling it from Syria to Israel.

Some of the parchment pages are badly faded and about a quarter of it was damaged by fire during an anti-Jewish riot 28 years ago.

The Hebrew University in Jerusalem recently published a facsimile edition of the codex. The publication, of value to Jewish and Christian scholars alike, is the fruit of a $130,000, four-year research program.

The 600-page reproductions, printed by the university's press, cost $400 a copy.

"We have scrolls of parts of the Old Testament which predate the codex," says Prof. Moshe Goshen-Gottstein, who headed the research, "but this is the oldest Old Testament we have. Older ones have vanished in antiquity."

Unlike a scroll, which is printed on only one side, a codex is a manuscript bound like a book, with writing on both sides of the page, Goshen-Gottstein explained in an interview.

He said, "Ritual demands that the Hebrew Bible, unlike secular books, be spelled and read absolutely correctly. The aleppo crown was the first manuscript ever to include instructions on all the correct spellings and readings."

The codex was written at the beginning of the 10th century by the master scribe Aharon Ben Asher, working in Tiberias by the Sea of Galiwe. He fills the margins with notes on spelling and cryptic signs to guide future generations of scribes and worshippers.

The sacred volume was carried to Jerusalem, center of the Jewish world, where it became famous throughout the Middle East.

In the 11th century, Jerusalem was sacked by the crusaders, then by the Arab Seljuks. The Jews of the city were massacred and their possessions burned and looted.

Ben Asher's Bible was seized and carried off, apparently to Cairo. There it was held for ransom to the Jewish community.

"There is a basic principle in the Jewish religion that people and books must be ransomed," said Goshen-Gottstein. So the Jews raised the money — no one knows how much — and bought the book for the Jewish library of Cairo.

But new troubles beset the Middle East. Christian crusaders again battled Moslems, and the heathen Mongols threatened from the east.

In the 14th century, the volume was taken to the Syrian city of Aleppo. There it received its present name — the "aleppo crown" — and became enshrined in the main synagogue of the large Jewish community.

The fame of the codex spread. Scholars came from as far as Poland to study it. After the reformation in the 1500s, Christians also began to realize the manuscript's worth.

The Bible was stored in a special vault behind the ark of the synagogue, with an elaborate, multi-keyed lock. Only when all the leading rabbis of Aleppo assembled could it be opened.

Folk legends grew up about the magic powers of the codex. Touching it could cure disease, and women sought its power for the birth of sons.

Gethsemane youth dept. to sponsor outreach program

The New Gethsemane Church of God in Christ youth department will sponsor an "International Christian Outreach" at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Amos Dixon of Kenya who will give a brief overview of his nation, presently one of Africa's most stable black nations.

He will tell how Christian missionary efforts have caused a significant rise in the number of christians, particularly among young people. He will cover the educational system and the need for international concern.

This follows the presentation last Sunday on Haite, presented by Dorothy Webster Exume, a long time missionary.

Mr. Dixon is associated with Melodyland of Anaheim and plans to complete further theological studies prior to returning to Kenya. He is accompanied in the United States by his wife and three children.

Prayer vigils to give thanks

Members of the Diamond Bar Congregational Church will have a special time of prayer and thanksgiving starting Nov. 24 at 8 a.m. and ending Nov. 25 at 8 a.m.

They will participate in individual hour-long prayer vigils at the church.

On Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m., there will be a Thanksgiving service to include music by soloists and the choir. Hymns and liturgy will be in the early American pilgrim tradition.

Film on Jesus

"The crucifixion was a shattering, gruesome act, offensive to human life. And we have pictured it so," the director said.

To tell his story, Zeffirelli cast some of the world's leading film stars as disciples and in other supporting roles. They include Lord Laurence Olivier as Nicodemus, Rod Steiger as Pontius Pilate, Anne Bancroft as Mary Magdalene, Peter Ustinov as Herod the Great.

But for Christ, Zeffirelli cast a relatively unknown British actor, Robert Powell, who jumped from the rock musical "Tommy" and "Mahler" to the role.

Zeffirelli emphasizes that his version is an attempt to weave an historical tapestry, not simply a Christian legend, and therefore depicts Christ as Jewish, something obviously known but not always stressed.

Christianity was invented long after his death," the director said.

Christ was born and died an Orthodox Jew," said producer Vincenzo Labella, who produced another religious epic for TV on the Life of Moses.

Zeffirelli's Christ is pictured as a victim of the Jewish establishment because he threatened the status quo, although actually put to death by the Romans.

Zeffirelli said the two rabbis who served as advisers had no complaints with the version, although some Roman Catholics have objected to the scene of Mary in labor. Zeffirelli is a Roman Catholic.

The man who played Christ, 31-year-old Powell, said he hopes they were successful in touching on areas ignored in previous versions.

"Christ did not go up elegantly onto the cross. He went up in pain. I hope we got this across."

The TV viewer will find the version as spectacular as the film company hopes it is innovative.

For the temple of Jerusalem, for instance, the company spent some $600,000 alone to convert an ancient fortress in Monastir, Tunisia.

TV sets

TV sets are now more popular than telephones or automobiles, according to RCA Corp. There are 364 million televisions in the world, compared with 360 million telephones and 300 million cars and trucks.

Valley churches

Good Shepherd Lutheran

Six children from the Miracle Ranch Orphanage near Ensenada, Mexico, will present a program Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Claremont.

The children will be joined by their directors, Tony and Edna Hernandez.

Seventh-day Adventist

Dan E. Dirksen and Dan Dirksen Jr., representatives for the "Faith for Today" television program, will present a program today at 4:30 p.m. at the Pomona Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The program will include both music and a sermon.

Trinity marks Methodists' 100 years

The Trinity United Methodist Church will host a special service Sunday at 7 p.m. as part of a year-long celebration marking Methodism's 100 years in Pomona.

Affiliated Methodist churches in Pomona and Claremont will participate. The churches and ministers include Westmont United Methodist, the Rev. Antonio Flores; Covenant United Methodist, the Rev. Q. E. Henricks; Philadelphia Street United Methodist, the Rev. Richard McPherson; and Claremont United Methodist, the Rev. James Dallas.

The Rev. David Edwards, pastor of the host church, and John Black, minister of visitation, arranged the program.

Members will present stories of their own churches. They include Jerry Snyder, Westmont, Leighton Jones, Philadelphia Street, Lois Seifert, Claremont, Dorothy Grumbein, Covenant and Virginia Siler, Trinity.

Combined choirs from all the churches will join in singing the anthem, "Oh, Love How Deep."

A social hour will follow the service in the fellowship hall.

3 back from workshop in Kansas

The Rev. Leland Wilson, La Verne, Mrs. Ernest Ikenberry, La Verne, and Mrs. Judy Woodruff, Pomona, have returned from McPherson College, McPherson, Kan., where they participated in the second annual Class Agent workshop.

Class Agents represent their graduating classes as contact persons for class news. This information is gathered and printed in a class letter written by the Agent and sent to each member. News about the college is also included in the letter.

McPherson College also implements an annual spring telethon and each Class Agent assists in coordinating the telethon center in one of five geographical areas. Forty McPherson College graduating classes are represented by Class Agents.

2 adult study groups to meet

Two adult study groups will meet Sunday at 10:10 a.m. at the United Methodist Church, Claremont between worship services.

Speaking at one will be C. Dean Freudenberger, professor of International Studies and Missions at the Claremont School of Theology and a specialist on the subject of hunger. His topic will be "Volcanoes: The Environmental Context of Hunger."

The other group will discuss "Death With Dignity and The Living Will." This will deal with the current trends of having lives extended by artificial means long after all hope of recovery is gone.

The group will be led by the Rev. John Flucke, United Church of Christ pastor, former president of both the Southern California and Los Angeles Councils of Churches.

Japanese paintings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Museum of Art has acquired five important Japanese paintings of the Edo period (1615-1868).

George Kuwayama, senior curator of Far Eastern art, says the paintings are from the most creative, varied and prolific periods in Japanese art.

The paintings were purchased with funds donated by Frederick Weisman and Associates. "The biggest Japanese population of the United States is in Los Angeles," said museum trustee Weisman. "My hope is that with this gift interest will be stimulated in the community."

Saccharine, a synthetic sweetening agent, was discovered in 1879.

SAINT SWEEP San Dimas quarterback Don Hargett (17) dashes around left end in first quarter action Friday night at Bonita High. Saints clinched first Hacienda League grid title ever with 20-3 victory over Ontario, and will open 2A playoff action at home next Friday night

Saints clinch first title ever

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

San Dimas High nailed down its first-ever Hacienda League football title Friday night at Bonita, disposing of Ontario 20-3 behind a murderous rushing attack.

The final score of the contest was a bit misleading, as San Dimas had two long touchdown runs by Perry Aris called back, and also turned the ball over five times on fumbles to halt other drives.

Even so, Saint coach Bob Baiz was pleased with the win.

"Ontario played us tough, they have some good talent," Baiz said. "They proved they are a much better team than their final record (3-6) would indicate. Of course, those two touchdowns being called back and our fumbles early in the game kept the score down."

The Saints, who finished Hacienda play with a perfect 7-0 slate, went into the game with the Jaguars as huge favorites, but nearly were the victims of a big upset.

Progress Bulletin
Sports
Pomona, California ■ Saturday, November 13, 1976

Ontario, given the ball no less than four times in the first quarter on Saint fumbles, finally cashed in one of those miscues for a 26-yard field goal by Fernando Ramirez late in that opening quarter.

Ramirez' boot came as a result of a fumble recovery by Ralph Alcala and a 17-yard run by Bill Haselrig. The Saint defense held at their own 11, but on fourth down Ramirez connected to put the Jags on top.

A Saint fumble recovery, by Steve Coulter, finally seemed to get the hosts fired up early in the second period. They drove 66 yards for a go-ahead touchdown, and never again were threatened.

Key plays in that scoring drive were runs of 28 and 20 yards by fullback Bob Pleasant and halfback Aris respectively. Aris did the scoring honors, taking it in from the eight, with Sonny La Fargue adding the PAT kick.

Pleasant got off the longest run of the night on the Saints' next possession, racing 71 yards to the Ontario end zone later in the second quarter to make it 14-3 in San Dimas' favor.

The TD for the senior fullback was his 14th rushing score of the year, tieing Wayne Moses' school record. Pleasant, along with Aris, had big nights as the Saints amassed 296 yards on the ground.

Pleasant raced for 194 yards on only 16 carries, while Aris had 85 yards on only nine totes, and had those two long TD scampers called back due to rules infractions by his mates.

The Saints added their final score early in the final quarter, with Aris blasting 15 yards up the middle for the TD, the final play of an 11-play, 83-yard march. A Don Hargett pass for two points failed.

Ontario, which finished with 155 yards in total offense compared to the Saints' 296, was paced by workhorse fullback Tommy Jefferson. The sophomore netted 88 yards on 22 carries.

Neither team passed the football well, the wet field making it difficult to throw. San Dimas did not complete a pass in three attempts, while Ontario was two-for-seven for 30 yards but had two passes picked off.

The first of those interceptions, by Fred Brubaker, ended an Ontario scoring threat late in the first half. The second, by Aris, came on the final play of the night.

Baiz announced after the game that the Saints will play their CIF playoff opener next Friday night at 8 p.m. at Bonita High. The CIF office will decide Sunday afternoon who the Saints' opponent will be.

Giants look for CIF berth

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Ganesha High had to come from behind twice in the fourth quarter Friday night to down host Upland, 27-22, and remain in contention for a CIF playoff berth.

The Giants finished their San Antonio League season in third place with a 5-2 record, but lost their two pre-league contests for a lackluster 5-4 overall mark. They will have to wait until the CIF office makes up its playoff pairings Sunday to see whether that office grants the SAL three postseason spots.

But they certainly did themselves no harm with their spirited effort Friday night, overcoming Upland leads three times during the game.

Ganesha scored 20 points and Upland tallied eight in a wild fourth quarter that was climaxed when Floyd Eddings of the Giants dove one yard for a touchdown with 31 seconds left after coach Garry Norvell had used his final time out.

The Giants scored that TD less than three minutes after the game Highlanders had taken the lead for the third time on a 30-yard run by Paul Lindsey and a two-point pass from quarterback Steve Davenport to Doug Lindsey, Paul's brother.

That put the Scots ahead 22-21 with just 3:22 remaining in the game, but the Giants began their next series on their own 42-yard line and drove to Eddings' score on just nine plays.

The first play of that series was extremely fortunate for Ganesha. Halfback Bennie Gooden fumbled the ball about five yards in front of the line of scrimmage, but his momentum carried him forward to where the loose ball landed and he fell on it for not only a recovery but a first down.

The Highlanders, who finished the year with a 2-5 league mark and a 2-7 overall record, took a 14-7 lead into the fourth quarter.

But Eddings, who rushed for 100 yards on 15 carries, scored on a 29-yard run five plays into the final period. He pushed two defenders aside at about the 20 and sped the rest of the way unthreatened for the score. He then ran for a two-point conversion, giving the Giants a 15-14 lead with 10:18 to play.

Upland failed to move the ball on its next series and had to punt from its own 27. But Ganesha's John Melton, a 6-foot-2, 195-pound defensive tackle, broke through to block Davenport's kick, scooped up the ball and ran it back to the five.

Madrigal scored on a keeper from the three two plays later and missed on the PAT kick, leaving Ganesha ahead, 21-14, with 7:02 remaining.

But Upland was far from done. The Scots drove 69 yards for a touchdown on their next series, with Paul Lindsey crossing the goal line on a determined 30-yard run. Lindsey was the game's leading rusher with 113 yards on 21 carries for the night.

Since Upland coach Bob Holycross wanted a tie no more than Norvell, the Scots went for two points and made it. Davenport rolled to his right while Doug Lindsey just stepped into the end zone, spun around and went down on one knee. Davenport hit him perfectly to give Upland its last lead of the game, 22-21.

Each team scored following a turnover in the first half. Ganesha's Earl James recovered a misdirected Upland pitchout at the Highlander 23 late in the first quarter, leading two-yard keeper by Madrigal with 1:55 left in the period. Madrigal's kick made it 7-0.

With two minutes left in the first half and Madrigal throwing long, Upland's Dwayne Davis picked off the pass at his own 48 and returned it to Ganesha's 43.

After two short runs by Paul Lindsey, Davenport tossed an arcing pass to Doug Lindsey for a 36-yard TD. Davenport added the PAT kick for a 7-7 halftime score.

Davenport completed eight of 15 passes for 122 yards. He was intercepted once, but that was on the last play of the game.

Madrigal hit on five of 13 aerials for 81 yards and one interception. Gooden rushed for 75 yards on 16 tries, giving the Giants 214 yards on the ground.

Ganesha ran 56 plays for 295 yards to Upland's 49 for 246. The Giants earned 15 first downs to the Scots' 11.

Pacers meet, fall to Jabbar, Lakers

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES — Back in the familiar confines of the fabulous Forum, the Lakers had enough to put away the visiting Indiana Pacers, 117-106, Friday night.

It wasn't a particularly well played game on either side, but the Lakers had the usual superlative performance from Kareem Abdul Jabbar and that was the difference.

Jabbar scored 34 points, 17 rebounds and three blocked shots. Lucius Allen had a great first half (22 points in 20 minutes played) and a bad second half (six points in 17 min.).

But, barring trade, the future was on display in the persons of Kermit Washington and rookie Earl Tatum. Washington, who shows signs of developing rapidly toward the power forward the Lakers need so badly, scored 10 points and had 11 rebounds in 23 minutes. He also picked up five fouls and that is something that he will have to improve on.

Tatum flashed dazzling quickness and abundent raw ability. In 28 minutes, he scored 14 points and stole the ball six times.

"Tatum has great basketball instinct and that's something you can't coach," said coach Jerry West. "We wanted him to watch a couple of games from the bench and I think it helped him. He's a great kid and he's going to be an excellent player."

The game was the first of a four-game homestand for the Lakers (5-6) and the fifth of a seven-game road trip for the Pacers. It was the second game of a four-games-in-four-nights schedule for the Indianans who sometimes looked as though it were the second in one night.

Forward Billy Knight, a second-round draft choice of the Lakers in 1974, topped the visitors with 29 points. "The only thing wrong with him is he's wearing the wrong color uniform," joked West.

The Lakers coach remains dissatisfied with his team's passing. "It's what we do worst collectively," he said in response to a question. "Did I think it was better tonight? No."

The Lakers host Cleveland Sunday (7 p.m.), Golden State next Friday and the New York Nets a week from Sunday.

CCAA honors Dennis Sherow

Dennis Sherow, who led Cal Poly Pomona to the 1976 NCAA Division II baseball championship, will be honored tonight at the halftime of the football game against Cal Poly San Luis Obispo.

He will receive the California Collegiate Athletic Association Athlete of the Year award by CCAA Commissioner Lew Comer.

Sherow, who was drafted by the Montreal Expos on the second round of the June free agent draft, has been playing for the Expos' Florida Instructional League team.

He led Poly to the title with a .396 average, 108 hits, 12 home runs, 10 triples and 22 stolen bases.

Only Finley drafts Allen

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland A's were the only team to select veteran first baseman Dick Allen of Philadelphia Friday at a special free-agent draft conducted by major league baseball.

Allen became eligible for the draft because he signed his 1976 contract with the Phillies after the basic agreement between baseball and the Players Association was signed in July. He declared for the free-agent option last week and the special draft was held by telephonic hookup with Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's Manhattan offices.

Because only one team selected him, Allen is now eligible to be signed by any of the 26 major league clubs.

The first 17 clubs drafting passed on Allen. Then Oakland, picking No. 18, selected him before the remaining teams also passed.

After the 1976 season, the Phillies said they did not plan to have Allen back with the club next year.

Allen, 34, batted .269 with 15 home runs and 49 RBIs in 85 games with the Phillies last season. In 13 major league seasons, he has hit 346 homers.

Morgan runs for 350

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Walnut High's Kevin Morgan ran for 350 yards as the Mustangs blanked Bonita High, 27-0, Friday night at Nogales High.

The Mustangs finished Hacienda play at 6-1 to place second, a game behind HL champ San Dimas. The victory gives Walnut an almost certain shot at the CIF playoff.

Morgan sped 72 yards the first time he got his hands on the ball as Walnut jumped out to a 7-0 lead. He added TD runs of 68 and three yards. He was no match for the Bonita defense as Morgan racked up the 350 yards on 28 totes in three full quarters of action. The 350 yards brings his season total to 1,452 ground yards on 211 carries.

Morgan was a busy man in the first half as he carried the ball 22 times for 263 total yards and two touchdowns. He lost 25 more yards on two Walnut penalties.

"Morgan turned in another super performance for us tonight," noted Walnut's Ken Gunn. "He might have more carries than San Dimas' Bob Pleasant but I think he's a better runner."

While Morgan ran the Bonita defense ragged, quarterback Kevin Loggins hit on eight of 13 passes for 104 yards and backup quarterback Steve Green added 72 yards. Green connected on five of nine aerial strikes.

Gunn commented, "We played a super game against Bonita tonight. They're a good football team and they never give up. They keep coming at you even when they're behind by several touchdowns."

Bonita's offense, directed by Kevin Coggins, had several chances of punching into the Mustangs' end zone. However, the Bearcat attack bogged down and they coughed up the football after failing to achieve first downs on fourth and short yardage.

Bonita missed key opportunies from Walnut's 12, 19 and 11 yard lines. But the Walnut defense was equal to the task as they stopped Bonita cold on the fourth down plays.

Coggins, chased by the Walnut linemen, completed only 10 of 34 passes for 142 yards. Kieth Brandt flagged four passes for 71 yards.

Bonita's ground game was shut off by the Walnut defense as the Bearcats gained 126 ground yards.

"Our defense really came to play tonight against Bonita," noted Gunn. "It was our best defensive effort in the last three weeks."

Walnut with its total yardage of 526 yards finished the season with 2,656 total yards to their opponents' 1,936. Walnut picked up 26 first downs in picking up the 526 yards against Bonita's defense.

The Mustangs kept the score down as they hurt themselves in the first half with 105 yards of penalties. Several times Bonita was saved by a Mustang mistake and the referee's yellow flag handkerchief.

Twelve players no better than 11

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (AP) — Twelve players weren't better than 11 in a local high school football championship.

Films of last Friday's game, in which Caledonia beat LaCrescent 16-15, showed Caledonia had 12 men on defense for 2½ periods before being penalized for having too many men on the field.

The 12-man defense gave up all of LaCrescent's points. The regulation 11 shut out the losers the rest of the way.

Keystone Pioneer sets mark

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The favored mare Keystone Pioneer captured the $109,800 American Trotting Classic Friday night at Hollywood Park in world record time of 2:12 3-5 seconds for 1⅛ miles.

With Billy Houghton driving, the only mare in the field took the lead turning into the back stretch and stood off challenges from her eight male foes to win by 1¼ lengths at Hollywood Park.

Savoir, winner of this classic the past two years, finished second with the French trotter Equileo, owned by actor Alain Delon of Paris, third.

Ten trotters went to the starting gate but when Aladdin Hill failed to come up for his start there was a recall and he was scratched.

Despite rains on Thursday night, the track was fast for the featured trot.

Keystone Pioneer, owned jointly by Patricia L. Bochner and Dorothy B. Houghton of Stamford, Conn., the latter the driver's wife, bettered the previous record of 2:13 2-5 set by Earl Laird in 1966 and equalled by Dayan in 1970.

Pride Of Carlisle went to the front first, clocking a 28-second first quarter with Songflori second, Savoir third and Keystone Pioneer fourth.

Houghton then urged his 4-year-old mare to a lead which she never relinquished.

Keystone Pioneer, the 3-5 favorite of the crowd of 14,150, paid $3.20, $2.80, $2.60. Savoir, driven by Jim Dennis, paid $4.60 and $3.40 and Equileo, with Bernard Foger driving, paid $3.80.

Savoir finished 1¼ lengths ahead of the third place finisher, who was one length ahead of Dream of Glory.

Keystone Pioneer scored her ninth consecutive victory and earned $49,410 with $21,960 going for second and $16,470 for third.

The winner boosted her career earnings to $425,836. A world traveler, Keystone Pioneer campaigned early this year at Yonkers in New York and then was taken to Sweden and Germany.

Cards' Gray may play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mel Gray, the fleet wide receiver of the St. Louis Cardinals may see action against the Los Angeles Rams after all.

Gray suffered a broken nose and underwent surgery two weeks ago. He wasn't scheduled to play in Los Angeles, but a team spokesman said the speedster from Missouri would fly to Los Angeles and be in uniform for the game.

The Cardinals came to the Southern California area early and have been practicing in Riverside.

Earthquakes rehire coach

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The San Jose Earthquakes of the North American Soccer League on Friday signed Coach Gabbo Gavric to a two-year contract.

Gavric coached the Earthquakes this past season and for parts of the 1974 and 1975 seasons.

Battle of the Polys goes tonight

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

The annual football battle of the Cal Polys returns to Pomona tonight with the usual high emotion accompanying both camps.

Cal Poly Pomona will host sister school Cal Poly San Luis Obispo in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff with the winner taking the championship in the reduced California Collegiate Athletic Association.

Since both Polys defeated Cal State Northridge — the third and only other football member of the CCAA — the title is strictly up for grabs tonight.

Even if there was no championship, both teams would be fired up anyway as coaches don't need to say much to their troops for this annual battle.

SLO, which has had one of the strongest Division II programs in the nation under the coaching of Joe Harper, wants to continue its domination of Pomona.

Naturally, Pomona is hungry for its first ever victory over the Mustangs.

Tonight's contest is the ninth in the series and the best Pomona has come up with was a 14-14 tie here two years ago in front of the largest crowd—8,500—to ever crowd into Kellogg Field.

SLO returned to its dominating ways last year in its home arena in a 44-6 whipping of the Broncos in a strange game in which Pomona actually gained more yards.

So the Mustangs come here with a big 7-0-1 edge in the series. Pomona is anxious to get that first big win and has been thinking about tonight's game ever since last year's humiliating score.

"It shapes up as a typical battle of the Polys," Vinci said about tonight's clash. "It means it should be another great game to watch."

SLO (4-1-1) needs a win tonight to keep alive any hopes for a berth in the NCAA Division II playoffs while Pomona (3-4-1) still feels it has an outside chance for an invitation by winning both tonight and next week's finale against Puget Sound.

The Broncos have won three straight over nationally-ranked Northern Arizona, USIU and Northridge. Vinci feels the difference can be attributed to cutting down on turnovers.

In their first five games, the Broncs had nine passes intercepted and lost 10 fumbles. In the last three wins, they have had only one interception and one lost fumble.

Obviously, Vinci is hoping for a mistake-free game tonight.

"Among our goals is to avoid turning over the football with pass interceptions and fumbles," he said.

However, the Broncs will be going with an inexperienced quarterback tonight in sophomore Sammy Ross, who has been in only seven plays this season.

Ross will be the man tonight because starter Leo Costa was lost for the season last week in the win over Northridge.

"It's going to be tough going into the game without Costa but Ross has looked great in practice," Vinci said.

Even though both teams own impressive offensive statistics, Vinci feels the key to tonight's game is whether his team can move the ball against the Mustangs.

"Our defense can play with their offense," Vinci said. "Our concern is whether our offense can score against them."

A women's swim team representing Scripps, Claremont Men's and Harvey Mudd colleges defeated Cal Poly Pomona, 45-34, at Voit Pool Friday afternoon.

Scripps freshmen Shannon Daley and Christine Albercht led the way. Daley won the 100 individual medley, 100 butterfly, 100 breaststroke and was on the winning 200 medley relay team. Albercht was also on the relay team and won the 100 backstroke and 50 freestyle.

Divers Katie Mack and Dana Patrick also helped the new team.

Fontana edges Chaffey, 15-14

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

FONTANA — Chaffey High missed an outright Citrus Belt League title by one point Friday night in Fontana.

The visiting Tigers were beaten by Fontana, 15-14, on Rod McMillan's two-point conversion and wind up in a tri-championship.

Chaffey and Fontana were co-champs last year and this year the two will share the crown with Eisenhower, a 20-7 winner over Pacific Friday night.

Chaffey went into the game as the league's only undefeated team but after dropping the finale is 4-1 and 6-3 overall.

The loss also snaps the Tigers' five-game winning streak as they will now move into CIF 4-A playoff action next week.

Fontana had to play catch-up ball most of the evening overcoming deficits of 7-0 and 14-7. The Steeler defense came up with a big play to preserve the win in the last minute of play.

Trailing 15-14, Chaffey's Alex Olive recovered a Steeler fumble on the Fontana 46 yard line with two minutes left in the game.

Two plays later John Gable's aerial was picked off by Steeler defensive back Ron Carter on his own 20 and he returned it to his 41 with one minute to play.

Chaffey received the ball once more on downs with two seconds left but didn't get a play off before the gun.

Chaffey scored the only points of the first half on Frank Cohn's one-yard run at 4:29 of the first period. Bill Pomerenke added the conversion kick.

Fontana was equal to the task with 3:42 left in the third quarter on Mike Fox's four-yard run with Dan Farris adding the extra point.

The Tigers took the lead at 11:25 of the final stanza on an unusual pass play from Gable to running back Frank Fernandez.

Gable faded to pass and then fired the ball underhanded to Fernandez at the line of scrimmage (the nine) and the "bowling ball" back scooted untouched for the score with Pomerenke kicking the PAT.

Fontana took the lead for good with 5:15 to play as running back Gary Tate hurdled over from the two. McMillan then squeezed between two Tigers barely reaching the end zone for the tying and go-ahead points.

Gable hit on 13 of 23 passes for 128 yards and a touchdown while Fernandez rolled 11 times for 107 yards.

Tate led the Steelers with 107 yards on 17 totes. Fohi quarterback Craig Dickinson threw only twice, both during the fourth quarter drive, hitting both for a total of 36 yards. Dickinson led the Steeler wishbone T offense as a runner.

Angels raise prices for 1977 campaign

ANAHEIM — The California Angels today announced a slight increase in some ticket prices for the 1977 season.

Field and club level box seats will be raised 50 cents from $4.00 to $4.50. Terrace level box seats will be increased from $3.50 to $4.00 and view level reserved seats will be raised from $2.50 to $3.00.

All general admission ticket prices will remain the same as last year — $1.50 for adults and $1 for children.

"We have tried to avoid raising our prices," said club President Arthur E. (Red) Patterson, "but continued increases in operational costs have simply made it impossible for us to do so.

"Angels baseball is still the best sports buy in California. Our club maintains the lowest ticket price structure of any club in the American League," added Patterson.

A recent survey of ticket prices for major professional sports disclosed the average ticket price in professional football was $8.89; for hockey, $7.71; for basketball, $6.12; for tennis, $5.13 and for baseball, $3.45.

The Angels average ticket price, based on a capacity crowd, would be $3.56.

Ticket Manager Carl Gordon announced the Angels are now accepting applications for 1977 season tickets. Fans interested in obtaining complete season ticket information are invited to call (714) 634-2000 or (213) 625-1123.

Romans win on late FG

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

Junior Matt Rundle capped a brilliant 88-yard drive by calmly booting a 27-yard field goal to give the underdog Royal Oak Romans a season-ending 9-7 victory over Alta Loma Friday night at Chaffey College, with 31 seconds left in the game.

The stunning loss will probably kill Alta Loma's CIF hopes, evidence being several Brave players falling to their knees in tears at the final gun, realizing that their season had just gone down the tube.

Alta Loma, Royal Oak and Bonita are all tied for third place in the Hacienda League standings at 4-3.

Jeff Strycula, the Hacienda's leading passer, finally unwound in the fourth period after the Brave defense had done a pretty steady job (10 sacks!) in bottling up the explosive junior through the first 36 minutes of the game.

Facing an almost impossible situation following a Brave punt that rolled dead at his own two-yard-line, Strycula took control with only 3:51 remaining in the contest.

Moving 88 yards in 11 plays, Strycula completed four of six passes, good for 84 of the total yards! The big play of the drive came on a third-and-17 situation at the Roman 28, when Strycula uncorked a 54-yard bomb to Fred Elias (three receptions for 74 yards).

Rundle's field goal, in fact, was his third straight perfect kick, as on his four preceding attempts, both squads were found guilty of off-setting penalties.

Royal Oak's first score came at only the 5:03 mark of the final period, when Strycula tossed a nine-yard scoring pass to running back Rick Garcia. When Alta Loma's Jerry Barba sacked Strycula on the two-point PAT attempt, it seemed that the party was over for the visitors.

Alta Loma's lone score came by thanks to its rugged defense, which caused Chris Lancaster to cough up the ball at his own one-yard line, with Jeff Holladay recovering the pigskin in the end zone.

Strycula finishes the year with 964 yards passing, connecting on 56 of 99 passes (56.5 per cent). No other quarterback in the Hacienda completed 50 per cent of his passes this year. Lancaster, with 57 yards rushing, winds up with 770 yards on the ground, good for fourth place in the season statistics behind Kevin Morgan of Walnut, Robert Pleasant of San Dimas and Thomas Jefferson of Ontario.

Orange Coast beats MSAC

Orange Coast College defeated Mt. San Antonio, 14-8, in a South Coast Conference water polo match at the Mountie pool Friday afternoon to give MSAC an 1-10 SCC record.

Dave Correa scored four goals for the Mounties while goalie Scott Schulze had 12 saves.

Ontario Christian's hopes hurt in loss

By BRENT SHYER

Ontario Christian High's CIF 1A playoff hopes were somewhat shattered, Friday night at OCHS, when the visiting Lutheran Lions scored a fourth quarter touchdown to come back and devour the Knights, 17-14.

The Knights finished Olympic League play with a 3-1-2 record, while L.A. Lutheran was crowned as loop champion with a perfect 6-0 mark, and had an 8-1 overall record.

About the only playoff chances that the Knights have now would be if L.A. Baptist (3-2) could defeat Whittier Christian (3-1-1) in today's action at St. Paul's High in Santa Fe Springs.

The Knights were leading in the fourth frame, 14-10, when the Lions took possession on their own 33-yard line.

Lutheran quarterback Willie Phillips, who has a lot of speed when he gets into the open field, then took control of the series of downs.

Phillips ran for nine and four yards on a pair of plays and then cut to the left sideline, made a fake, and darted back to the center of the field, while evading would-be tacklers and scored on the 54-yard burst.

Phillips, who is more or less an all-purpose player, added the extra point.

The Lions held the Knights on the initial drive of the game at the Lutheran 11-yard line. The Lions then came roaring back to score, as they went 89 yards on just nine plays.

A key 23-yard scamper by Andre Love preceding a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty sparked the set of downs.

Lutheran scored on a three-yard run by Mike Taylor on a handoff straight up the middle. The PAT was made by Phillips.

After missing another golden opportunity to score, the Knights finally mounted a 33-yard scoring series on 10 straight running plays. Tailback Doug Dirkse's seven-yard touchdown knotted the score.

L.A. Lutheran wound up with 242 total offensive yards to the Knights' 147. Love was the leading ground-gainer with 86 yards on seven rushes.

The Lions had taken a 10-7 lead when Phillips put the foot into a 32-yard field goal. Ontario Christian excited the partisan crowd when QB Hank Bouwman found tight end Pete Verhoeven open and connected a 28-yard scoring strike to him.

"If I had to pick a key player in the game it would have to be Willie Phillips," said a pleased Lutheran coach Doc Holliday. "Phillips' field goal and last run (the 54-yarder) were the key to this game. Ontario Christian was excellent competition for us."

Rain stops Baja race

ENSENADA, Mex. (AP) — Torrential rains washed out the start of the SCORE Baja 1,000 kilometer race Friday, and drivers are to meet Saturday morning to decide when the race will begin.

Some three inches of rain fell within an eight-hour period early Friday, and the start of the race was rescheduled from 6:30 a.m. PST until 10 a.m.

But officials, who had moved the race's starting line from two miles east of here to Ojos Negros, 21 miles east of town, finally declared the course unsafe and postponed the race.

Torrents of water which made the streets of Ensenada impassable caused the move to Ojos Negros. The 235 racing vehicles had earlier been moved out of the the city, since water had risen to three feet in the impound area.

Officials said at least 10 blocks in the city were inundated, with water from two to six feet deep in the streets.

There were no reports of injuries or deaths because of the flooding, officials said.

Sports briefs

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Vitas Gerulaitis of Howard Beach, N.Y. beat Venezuela's top-ranked Humphrey Hose 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 Friday in a second-round singles match of the American Zone Davis Cup tennis tournament.

Earlier, U.S. ace Dick Stockton of Dallas outplayed Venezuela's Jorge Andrew, 6-2, 6-4, 9-7.

The triumphs gave the United States two of the three victories it needs to win the three-day competition being held at the Altamira Tennis Club.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons suspended forward Marvin Barnes indefinitely Friday "for continuous and repeated acts of conduct detrimental to the team," a spokesman for the National Basketball Association club said.

The suspension, Barnes' second since joining the Pistons earlier this fall following the American Basketball Association draft, came after he skipped practice Tuesday, missed Wednesday's game with Cleveland, did not appear for practice Thursday and failed to show up for a scheduled physical examination in Ann Arbor, Mich. Friday.

LONDON (AP) — Terry Holladay, the 20-year-old California left-hander, made an impressive Wightman Cup debut Friday night with a 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 victory over Britain's Glynis Coles, as the United States took a 3-1 lead in the seven-match series.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Wimbledon Champion Bjorn Borg was upset by American Brian Gottfried and U.S. Open king Jimmy Connors scored an impressive straight set victory in quarter-final action of the $150,000 Stockholm Open Tennis Tournament Friday.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks Friday activated 6-foot-6 forward Glenn McDonald, the Boston Celtics' No. 1 draft choice in 1974 who was cut by the National Basketball Association champions last month.

McDonald, who had been working out with the Bucks for two weeks, replaces three-year veteran forward Kevin Restani, expected to be sidelined at least 10 days because of a broken rib. Restani was placed on the injured list and must sit out at least five games.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Hawley, Canada's $4 million man, surpassed the one-year money-winning record Friday at Aqueduct by riding Moonlight Jig to victory in the fifth race.

The 27-year-old jockey, scheduled for five mounts, started the day $5,588 short of the $4,252,060 set by Laffit Pincay Jr., in 1974.

When the day was done, Hawley had earned $10,440, boosting his yearly purses earned to $4,255,912. Angel Cordero Jr., is the only other jockey to top the $4 million mark.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kialoa II held a slim advantage over Ragtime Friday as the two sleek racing yachts headed for the finish line in the 1,032-mile Los Angeles-to- Mazatlan race.

It was reported that Kialoa, on the last leg of the race, held a lead of just one mile over Ragtime, the 62-foot New Zealand-built sloop owned by Bill Pasquini and Bill White of the Long Beach Yacht Club.

Kialoa, Jim Kilroy's 79-foot ketch, is the favorite to take the elapsed-time honors for the race.

NHL reveals TV plans

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's Game-of-the-Week will be televised on Monday nights beginning Jan. 3, NHL Vice President Don V. Ruck announced today.

"We think we have an excellent line-up," said Ruck, "one that will give our viewers important and meaningful games as the teams fight for Stanley Cup playoff spots."

The NHL Network games will be televised in NHL cities plus other major markets throughout the United States.

Marv Albert, veteran hockey broadcaster, will serve as anchorman for the telecasts. Albert's broadcast partner will be selected from one of the two teams involved each week. All games, with the exception of the NHL All-Star game and the final game of the season, will begin at 8 p.m., EST.

The All-Star game in Vancouver Jan. 25 will begin at 9 p.m., EST, and the Mar. 28 game will start at 7 p.m., EST.

The telecasts will begin when Montreal meets the Philadelphia Flyers.

Cowens hoping to relax

BOSTON (AP) — Right now the most important thing to Dave Cowens is relaxation, and the star center says he just doesn't know when—or if—he'll return to the Celtics.

"I can't say I'll be back. I really don't know. I've got to think this over," the 28-year-old Cowens told the Boston Globe on Friday.

"Who knows, I might get the urge to return and play basketball the way I should play it, not the way I've been playing it this year," he said in a copyrighted interview in the Boston Herald American.

Cowens' announcement that he was taking an indefinite leave of absence "for personal reasons," shocked the basketball world. The 6-foot-8 two-time Most Valuable Player who earns $200,000 a year says he didn't feel he was earning his salary.

"I just wasn't making a contribution or helping the team. I have no motivation or enthusiasm. It just got to a point where I felt guilty taking my salary from the Celtics."

His decision to leave apparently was ignited by the games with the Wshington Bullets last Friday and Saturday. Cowens fouled out of both contests. He played 33 minutes in each, had 20 rebounds and 27 points.

Cowens, who has had trouble regaining the 10 to 15 pounds to bring him up to his normal playing weight of 225, also has a chronic back ailment. But the announcement of his leave specified that it was not for physical reasons.

"I know a lot of people will think I'm a fool, but I don't think I've done anything wrong. All I want right now is to do all the things I haven't been able to do over the last 10 years," he said.

"I'm just a human being and that's what I want to continue as. I've never considered myself a superstar or someone special. That's the label other people place on me."

Cowens, who has devoted a great deal of time to running basketball camps, says he's going to "get in my camper and just drive.

"I'm also going to continue my basketball camps and now I'll have more freedom. I really enjoy the camps most of all because it provides me an opportunity to work with youngsters and try to help them out. That is very important to me."

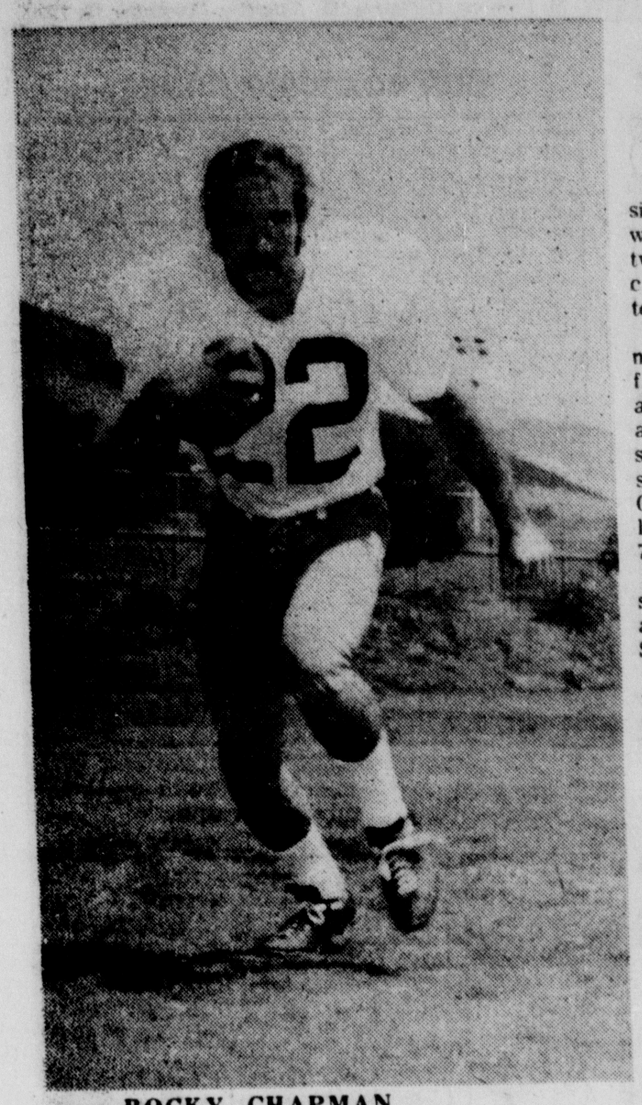
JC titles on line tonight



ROCKY CHAPMAN . . .

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

The South Coast and Mission Conference grid titles will be at stake tonight in two crucial junior college clashes involving local teams.

Mt. San Antonio College, needing a win to keep its fading SCC title hopes alive, hosts Orange Coast at 7:30 p.m. Citrus is in the same position in the Mission Conference, as the Owls entertain league leader Saddleback, also at 7:30 p.m.

The valley's third JC squad, Chaffey, will be at home also, hosting Southwestern.

With only two games remaining in the regular season, counting tonight, MSAC and Citrus face must-win situations the rest of the way.

The Mounties go into this evening's tilt with Orange Coast with a 2-1-1 SCC ledger, a full game behind conference-leading Fullerton (4-1), which has a bye this week. A MSAC loss to the visiting Pirates (2-2 in conference, 4-4 on the year) would automatically give Fullerton the SCC title and a berth in the Avocado Bowl.

Orange Coast is back down to earth this fall after going 12-0 in 1975 and being ranked first in the nation. Even so, the Pirates have been blown out of only one game this year (30-0 to Fullerton) and should give MSAC a battle.

It will be Homecoming for the Mounties tonight, which maybe will fire up the locals. They were demoralized by Fullerton, 33-7, last week. Orange Coast is coming off a 21-17 loss to Cerritos.

"Orange Coast is not the super team they were a year ago, but they do have good talent and an outstanding coach," MSAC coach Mal Eaton said. "They are a better team than their 4-4 record would indicate. We will have to rebound from our loss to Fullerton or else it could be a long night for us."

Orange Coast's strength this season has been its defense, led by sophomore linebacker Rhett Tucker. Pirate mentor feels the key to tonight's game is his team's ability to stop Mountie quarterback Brian Bethke.

"Bethke is the best veer quarterback in JC football," Tucker stated. "He's equally dangerous as a runner and a passer. Our defense will have its hands full containing him."

While the Mounties go with a veteran backfield of halfback Mike Hill, fullback Dana Hutchinson and QB Bethke tonight, the Pirates' have a lot of inexperience in their offensive attack.

Two freshmen, Faye Weathers and Dennis Boswell, will go at the running back slots. Larry Hall, a frosh out of Estancia High, may also be in the Pirate backfield as signal caller. The regular OCC starter, Jim Conley, is suffering from an ankle injury and may not be able to start.

In that key game in the Mission Conference tonight at Owl Stadium in Azusa, the host Owls will have to find a way to dent an awesome Saddleback defensive unit.

The Gauchos, 5-0 in Mission outings, have not surrendered a point in the last 18 quarters of football and have given up only one touchdown in five league games.

Citrus, meanwhile, has shown a high-powered offense but has had trouble punching the ball across the goalline of late. That problem limited the Owls to a 14-14 tie at Southwestern last Saturday, and forced them into a must-win situation tonight.

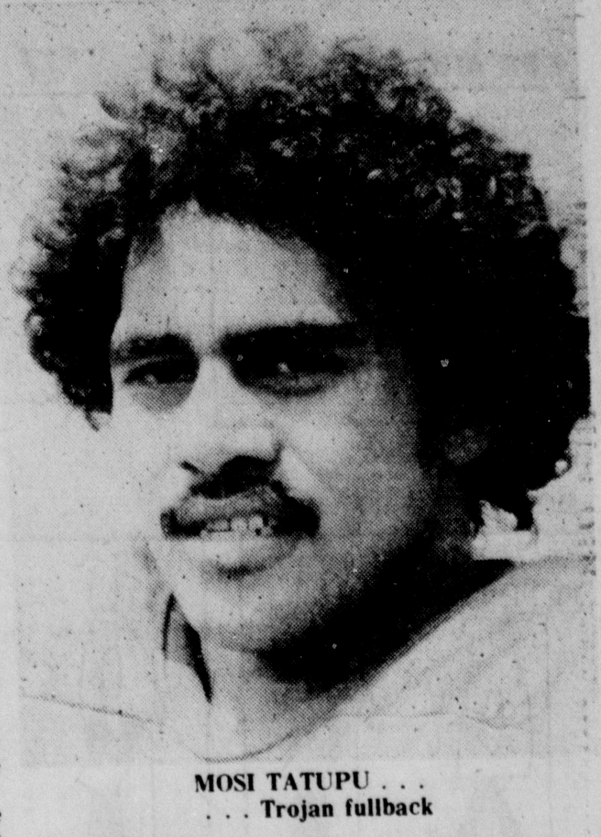
Quarterback Dale Bunn, one of the most exciting offensive players in the Mission Conference, will test that touted Saddleback defense tonight, along with backfield mates Obie Graves and Raymond Butler. Graves is the leading rushing in the loop.

Saddleback uses a ball-control type of offense, using the rushing talents of fullback Chuck Van Liew and halfback Greg Speicher.

The Gauchos, under rookie coach Ken Swearingen, have also found a dependable quarterback in freshman Billy Yancy.

If the Mounties should win tonight, they will stay in the running for a berth in the Avocado Bowl, which will go Saturday, Nov. 27 at Cerritos College. The SCC opponent will be the already crowned champion of the Southern Cal Conference, Santa Monica.

Tonight's winner between Saddleback and Citrus figures to cop the M.C. title and earn a berth in the Mission Bowl, to be played Nov. 27 at the home field of the Mission champion. The opponent in that Bowl will be the winner of the Western States Conference, which will probably be Santa Barbara.



MOSI TATUPU . . .

USC tries Washington

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Washington is a little like Purdue," Southern California Coach John Robinson said. "They can run and they're very physical.

"They always have a chance of an upset because they can control the football."

Robinson's third-ranked Trojans, who host Washington today, beat Purdue 31-13 earlier this season. But that Boilermaker team did not look the same as the one that ambushed Michigan, the nation's top-ranked team at the time, 16-14 last weekend.

Although Robinson's Trojans will understandably be looking ahead to their Nov. 20 showdown with UCLA for the Pac-8 title, they'll probably be thinking about Washington's similiarity to Purdue, and remembering what Purdue did to Michigan's national championship hopes.

Washington features three good runners in Ron Rowland, Robin Earl and freshman Joe Steele, who's been alternating with Rowland at tailback this fall.

Steele missed the Huskies' 7-0 loss to California last Saturday with a bruised thigh muscle, but is expected to return to action against the Trojans.

USC, 7-1 overall and 5-0 in Pacific-8 play, goes into the contest favored by three thouchdowns.

The game against the Huskies, who are 3-2 in conference play and 4-5 overall, means little to the Trojans as far as the Pac-8 race is concerned.

Even should USC lose to the Huskies, the Trojans can still go to the Rose Bowl with a victory over UCLA.

Southern California may be without its top offensive weapon, tailback Ricky Bell, against Washington, but the Trojans apparently have enough depth and variety in their offense to at least partially make up for Bell's absence.

Bell, who suffered a sprained ankle two weeks ago, watched from the sidelines last Saturday as reserve tailback Charles White ran for 136 yards and two scores on 23 carries in USC's 48-24 triumph over Stanford.

Trojan quarterback Vince Evans, a poor passer last season, has come on strong to add another dimension to the Trojan offense with his fine passing this fall.

Evans, who completed only 35 passes and had nine picked off last year, has completed 64 of 118 this season for 942 yards and eight touchdowns. He's also had just three of his throws intercepted. His performance against Stanford, which included a school record-tying four touchdown passes, prompted Robinson to say of his quarterback: "He was brilliant."

Leos face 'bombs' tonight at Occidental

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

EAGLE ROCK — Time is running out on La Verne College.

The Leopards' pursuit of Redlands ends next week whether or not the Leos are ready. Tonight, they'll carry their 2-1 SCIAC record (4-3 overall) into what shapes up as a close contest at Occidental. (7:30 p.m.)

The Tigers (1-2 in the conference and 3-3 overall) have the most potent aerial attack in the league. Oxy is averaging 258 yards a game via the air and 398.8 both passing and running.

In other games, Pomona-Pitzer (0-3 and 2-5) takes on first place Redlands (3-0 and 7-1) in a rare afternoon game (1:30 p.m.) at Alumni Field.

In another night game, Claremont-Mudd (2-1 and 2-4) is at Whittier (1-2 and 5-3) also at 7:30 p.m.

At Oxy, La Verne will not only be facing the conference's top offensive team, but the Tigers also lead in team defense.

In six league games, Occidental has allowed an average of 262.8 yards per contest. The Leos are third in each having averaged 371.9 yards a game on offense while giving up 273.4 yards per game on defense.

But the people worrying La Verne coach Roland Ortmayer the most are quarterback Tom Hamilton and wide receiver Rick Fry.

Hamilton has been noting short of sensational in his last two games. Against Claremont-Mudd and Whittier, he completed 47 of 71 passes for 725 yards and five touchdowns!

Last week Fry caught 15 passes good for 303 yards and two TDs.

"Hamilton is an excellent quarterback and Fry is a great receiver," said Ortmayer. "I think Fry caught 12 or 13 passes against us last year.

"Oxy is not going to be easy. They have a new coach (Bill McQueary) and we're assuming their whole football program is improved."

Last year the Leopards won easily, 41-19. But since then, not only the coaching staff but the entire team has had many personnel changes.

Oxy's losses this year have been to Redlands (16-14) and Claremont-Mudd (31-14). The win was over Whittier (21-0).

"I saw Oxy play Redlands," said Ortmayer, "and Redlands barely eked out a win."

Worst of all, La Verne is hurting in its defensive line as it faces the high-scoring Tigers. Middle guard Dave Poling (knee) is out for the season.

Defensive end Ron Kimball and tackle Jose Echeverria also have knee injuries and their status is not known. On the plus side, defensive end Honnie VanderKallen, who has missed two games, will return to action tonight.

At Pomona-Pitzer, the Sagehens take on the team (Redlands) that is fifth-ranked nationally in NAIA Division II. Last year the Bulldogs walloped the 'Hens 52-0 at Redlands.

P-P also is hurting. The Sagehens list defensive end Randy Roddy, linebacker Tom Glasheen, tackle Jack Clark, safety Brian Miller and defensive back Don Reinke as "uncertain." Running back Steve Ahearn has a broken ankle and is out for the season. Wide receiver Dick richardson is doubtful.

At Whittier, C-M is facing a team that is an enigma to its own coach. The Poets won four of their first five games and lost the one by a single point. But since conference play started, they have lost two of three and have been blanked twice. The Stags lost three, won two and were stopped 29-7 last week.

Pomona played an exceptional defensive game last week in holding Northridge to 121 yards total offense. The Broncs have allowed only 93.6 yards per game through the air but that statistic doesn't mean much against SLO anyway, since the Mustangs are mainly a ball-control type of team.

SLO is the CCAA's top offensive team with 328.2 yards per game while Pomona is second with 285.4.

SLO junior Bob Trudeau, a product of West Covina High, is the CCAA's top rusher with 427 yards on 102 carries while Upland High graduate Rocky Chapman is fifth with 297 yards on 65 plays.

Bob Ansari, a transfer from UC Riverside, is the Mustangs' quarterback. He leads the conference in total offense with 120.7 yards per game and receiver Jimmy Childs of La Puente is the top scorer with five touchdowns.

Pomona has its own impressive stats. Wide receiver Teddy Myles tops the CCAA in passes caught with 31 for 381 yards and tailback Mark Sanders is second to Trudeau with 520 yards on 112 carries.

"We're an improved team over last year but so is San Luis Obispo," Vinci warns. "Their defense is better and so is their offense with Ansari."

Not to be outdone, Harper said, "Pomona is the most physically gifted team we will face this season. The Broncos have better size, strength and speed than Nevada Las Vegas."

Fertig's Beavers host Bruins today

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A year ago, two young assistant football coaches, Craig Fertig of Southern Cal and Terry Donahue of UCLA, were the finalists for the head coaching position at Oregon State.

Fertig got the job and Donahue was unhappy.

"I was really terribly disappointed when Craig got the job," Donahue said. "But I feel pretty good about the way things worked out."

Shortly after Fertig took over at Oregon State, Donahue's boss, Dick Vermeil, left Westwood for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, and Donahue took over the Bruins.

Today, Donahue brings his second-ranked, 8-0-1, squad to Corvallis to face Fertig's beleaguered Beavers, who are 1-8 and mired in seventh place in the Pacific-8 Conference.

The showdown with Southern Cal for the Rose Bowl is just a week away, and, predictably, Donahue is warning his team not to look past the Beavers, whose only victory was a 10-9 upset over California.

Fertig says this may be the best UCLA he can remember, and he's been either playing or coaching against the Bruins since 1962.

"They are big, they are strong, and they can run," he said. "The Bruins compare with last year's club. I think the only difference is they are better on defense than they were last year."

Still, Fertig refuses to go into the game expecting to lose, despite his team's obvious underdog status.

"The odds against a team going undefeated are very slim, and somewhere something can happen," he said. "I've never approached a game not believing we could win. I don't now."

"Our big problem is to keep from looking ahead," Donahue said. "But the fact that OSU beat Cal when Cal was healthy is something for all of us to remember."

"Craig Fertig is an ex-Trojan and (Oregon State assistant) Tony Kopay is an ex-Bruin and I'm sure they would like nothing better than to beat the Bruins," he said.

That would mean stopping the nation's number two rushing offense, which is averaging 362 yards per game on the ground. The Bruins also lead the Pac-8 in team defense, giving up an average of 271 yards.

Avocado Bowl ducats on sale

NORWALK — Tickets for the second annual Avocado Bowl football clash between the South Coast Conference champion and the Southern Cal Conference titlist are now on sale at Cerritos College's student center box office.

The Avocado Bowl is slated to go Saturday, Nov. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Falcon Stadium. Reserved seats are priced at $3.50 with general admission ducats going for $2.50.

For further information, contact the Cerritos College athletic department at (213) 860-2451, ext. 236.

Soccer loop to be formed

Frits Rosenveldt, Chaffey College soccer coach, plans to form a soccer league for men and women, primarily those who have never played soccer or have not played recently.

Registration, open to anyone over 20, will be held at Colony Park in Ontario Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Registration fee is $10. There will be separate teams for men and women.

Further information may be obtained by calling Rosenveldt at 983-8902, evenings after 8 p.m.

Don Lugo finishes with perfect mark

Don Lugo High's football team defeated Montclair's freshmen 8-6 Thursday afternoon on the Cavalier home turf.

The victory for Don Lugo gives the Chino school a perfect 9-0 season, as it extended its overall winning streak to 21 games. The win also clinched the San Antonio League freshmen title for coach John Monger's team, its third consecutive league championship.

The Q's jumped off to an 8-0 lead when quarterback Bob Malan plunged in for a touchdown from the one-yard line and Manuel Villalobos ran for the two-point conversion.

Montclair narrowed Don Lugo's lead to 8-6 in the fourth quarter but fell two points short as they missed their try for a two-point conversion.

The Chino school will have sophomores next season and will compete as a free-lance entry in the CIF 1A ranks. Games have already been scheduled with Webb, La Verne Lutheran and Orange Lutheran.

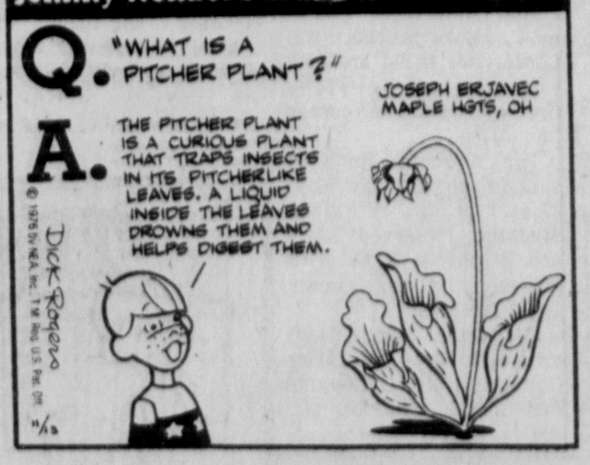
JOHNNY WONDER

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER



Everyone expects insects to eat plants. But did you know that there are plants that eat insects? One of these is the pitcher plant.

This curious plant is found in bogs and swamps in many parts of the world.

The leaves of the pitcher plant are shaped like brightly-colored vases, or pitchers, that catch rain water. The plant gives out a sweet nectar that attracts passing insects.

The inside of the pitcher plant leaf is smooth and has downward pointing hairs. When an unwitting insect enters the treacherous pitcher to eat the nectar, it is unable to climb out.

It slides down the smooth wall and falls into the digestive "borth" at the bottom, and is digested by the plant.

Insects are not the only food of the pitcher plant. Like other green plants, its leaves manufacture food for the plant.

This odd plant traps insects in order to supply itself with nitrogen which is lacking in the soil where it grows.

Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

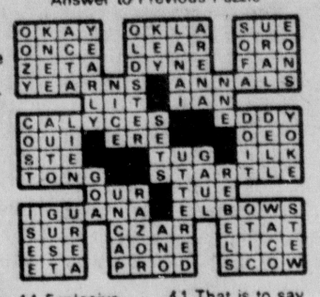
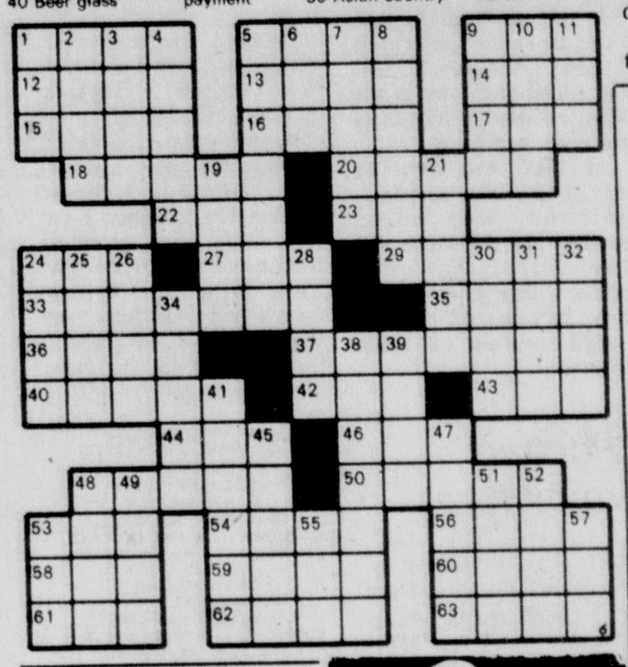
Answer to Previous Puzzle





What's going on around here...

New flotilla commander

Jerry Hampel, 1708 Grier St., Pomona, will be the new commander of Flotilla 11-7, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, El Monte. He replaces William C. Edwards who was recently named division captain.

Hampel is currently flotilla vice-commander. He is certified as a courtesy motorboat examiner, instructor, and boat master. He has completed several advanced training courses, including administration, search and rescue, seamanship, communications, and patrols.

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary has three major programs — search and rescue operations; public education; and the courtesy motorboat safety examinations.

Film on Scotland

The Pomona Forum will present Bill Madsen's color film, "A New Look at Scotland," Monday at 7:45 p.m. at the Pomona District Auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave.

Some of the key scenes include Glasgow on the Clyde River, the Glengoyne Distillery, Isle of Skye, Loch Ness, the Aberdeen sheep dog trials, Macbeth's famed Glamis Castle, Edinburgh, and the military tattoo with its dancers and pipers.

Bill Madsen, a graduate of Boston College, was a cryptographer in U.S. Air Force Intelligence in World War II.

Pomona Catholic open house

Pomona Catholic High School will host its annual open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m.

The afternoon will begin with a welcome and general information session in the school auditorium. Parents will then follow their daughters' schedules, meeting with each teacher for 10 minutes. The afternoon is being organized and hosted by students, under direction of Patricia Leavens.

Home economics students, guided by Sister Mary Bertilia, have baked and will serve refreshments. Students are invited to attend the open house with their parents.

Almanac

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, Nov. 13, the 318th day of 1976. There are 48 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1956, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that segregation of the races on public buses was unconstitutional.

On this date —

In 1794, President George Washington sent troops into Pennsylvania to suppress an uprising by frontiersmen — the so-called Whiskey Rebellion.

In 1834, California adopted a state constitution.

In 1918, the Republic of Austria was proclaimed.

In 1941, in World War II, the British aircraft carrier, "Ark Royal," was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean. Only 18 of the crew survived.

In 1942, the two-day naval Battle of Guadalcanal was being fought. The Japanese lost two battleships, one cruiser, three destroyers, two submarines and 11 cargo vessels or transports.

In 1970, West Germany and Poland agreed on a treaty fixing the Oder-Neisse line as a border.

Ten years ago: Israeli forces swept two miles into Jordan and attacked three towns as jets fought overhead.

Five years ago: A crewman on an Air Canada jetliner used a fire ax to knock out a hijacker and end nearly seven hours of flying back and forth over the U.S. and Canada.

One year ago: The World Health Organization announced that Asia was free of smallpox for the first time in history.

Today's birthdays: Actress Jean Seberg is 38. Actor Alexander Scourby is 63.

Thought for today: It revolts me, but, I do it! — W.S. Gilbert, English playwright, 1836-1911.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, General George Washington, reached Fort Lee, N.J. after crossing the Hudson river from New York to escape British forces and was informed that he could not expect much help from the New Jersey militia.

Portrait miniatures

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — A collection of American miniatures from the colonial period to the Civil War is on display at the Smithsonian National Collection of Fine Arts through Jan. 9.

Titled "Portrait Miniatures from Private Collections," the group includes 125 pictures.

Facelift for 'Grand Old Lady'

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona,

Unfortunately for most of us we were born too late to have enjoyed the rare privilege of being able to go grocery shopping without first taking the precaution to carry nitroglycerine pills along with us to prevent heart failure caused by what the trip was going to cost us. But I assure you, if we were still able to do our shopping at The Basket Grocery, in the Union Block, as did Pomonans in 1908, there would be far fewer basket cases in Pomona today. And for further proof of what a boon The Basket Grocery was to the food budgets of thrifty Pomona housewives, you have only to check this price listing in an advertisement which appeared in an August, 1908, issue of The Pomona Progress:

—1 pound Coffee . . . 15 cents
—1 pound Candy . . . 10 cents
—1 bottle French Mustard . . . 10 cents
—1 bottle Pickles . . . 10 cents
—1 pound Royal Baking Powder . . . 40 cents
—50 pounds Flour . . . $1.60
—6 bars Naptha Soap . . . 25 cents
—12 large size cans Milk . . . 95 cents
—17 pounds Sugar . . . $1.00

Yes, there it was in undeniable print — 73 pounds of groceries plus one bottle of mustard, one bottle of pickles, 12 cans of milk and 6 bars of soap, all for only $4.65. And lucky it was for Pomona housewives that grocery stores made deliveries in 1908. Otherwise it would have taken those poor women at least three trips just to get their purchases out to the horse and buggies waiting at the Union Block hitching post.

English tea set china treasure

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

QUESTION: We inherited this lovely old flowing blue tea set from a relative last year. Although several pieces have some minor damage, the appraisal value was just under one thousand dollars. We know the set was brought from England in 1888, but we have been unable to learn anything about the maker since the mark isn't shown in any reference books at our library. The hallmark include the words "Ironstone, Chusan, and J. Clementson," in addition to a bird resembling a phoenix bird. Can you tell me anything about this mark? Mrs. C.J.

ANSWER: The marks indicate that your tea set was made in England sometime during the third quarter of the last century, and the pattern is "Chusan."

In 1832 at Hanley, The Syndenham Works operated by Reed & Clementson were producing dinnerware for the American market. Shortly thereafter, Reed left the firm and the name became Joseph Clementson. In 1865, Clementson purchased the Bell Works from William Ridgway, and catered to the British and colonial trade as well. A part of the large operation was known as "The Phoenix Works," their trademark being the phoenix bird which appears on pieces of your tea set. Clementson retired from the plant in 1867, leaving the operation to his four sons — who called their firm Clementson Bros.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH

For more than a quarter of a century, philatelists have been collecting stamps issued by the United Nations. Ironically, these stamps cannot be used on letters from John Jones in Dallas to Aunt Martha in Kansas City. They're only for use on official mail dispatched from UN Headquarters in New York or from the UN European office in Geneva, Switzerland.

There is one exception. The stamps may be used on private correspondence sent through the UN Post Office and are valid only at the UN Post Office.

The idea of establishing a United Nations Postal Administration originally came from Dr. Jose Arce, head of the Argentine delegation to the United Nations in 1947. It was he who placed before the General Assembly, on Aug. 28 of that year, a draft resolution which eventually led to the signing of an agreement between the UN and the U.S. Post Office Department on March 28, 1951.

The first UN postage stamps went on sale on United Nations Day, Oct. 24, 1951. All were in the definitive and air mail series. In 1952 the first commemorative issues were released and it has been the UN Postal Administration's practice to issue an average of five commemoratives each year.

By 1968, the success of the UNPA in New York was encouraging enough to make it worthwhile to negotiate an agreement with the Swiss government for the issue and sale of UN stamps in Swiss denominations. The agreement was signed for stamps from the Geneva office of the UN in 1969.

From 1951 until the present, more than 954 million stamps and nearly 24 million pieces of postal stationery have been printed for the UN. The printing has been done by firms in Austria, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Federal Republic of Germany, Greece, Japan, Netherlands, Spain, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom and the United States. The stamps have been designed by artists from a panel of some 800 professionals in more than 30 countries who participate in a world competition for each issue.

To honor the 25th anniversary of UN stamps in October, 1976, the Postal Administration issued two new adhesives which differed from all previous stamps since they were printed in sheets of 20 stamps instead of 50 and of two different designs.

The 13-cents (black, yellow, brown and blue) and 31-cents (green, black, yellow and brown) feature a perforated sheet of 20 stamps with the text on one stamp "United Nations Postal Administration 1951-1976" seen under a magnifying glass. At the top right of each stamp is the UN seal and at the bottom is the wording "United Nations." The designer was Henry Bencsath of the United States.

A special 40-page souvenir folder was released to coincide with the 25th anniversary stamp.

The first day covers of the 25th anniversary stamp featured a beautiful painting showing a globe encircled by a UN wreath symbolizing peace.

CHESS LORE

One of the most glorious and yet piteous of tales is the story of the serf-genius-chessplayer Mir Sultan Khan, who was born in Punjab, India in 1905.

The strongest player of traditional Indian chess in the Punjab at age 21, he won the all India Championship two years later.

In 1929, Sultan Khan was brought to England by his owner the diplomat Colonel Nawab Sir Umar Hayat Kahn. In that same year he became the chess champion of England, though he had been playing westernchess for only four years!

This triumph was repeated again in 1932 and 1933, though he suffered from the greatest handicap a chessplayer can have: he was illiterate.

An incredible incident occured in 1933 when Sir Umar entertained the Capablanca and Akiba Rubinstein, was "taken back" to India by Sir Umar in December of 1933.

Mir Sultan Khan died of tuberculosis in Sargodha, Pakistan in 1966.

The Biltmore lobby—with its hand-painted cathedral ceiling.

Bernard's gourmet seafood restaurant is a new addition to hotel.

A $16.5 million facelift for a 'Grand Old Lady'

The Grand Old Lady of S. Olive Street is undergoing a $16.5 million facelift.

This is the stately, triple-wing Biltmore Hotel, for 53 years a landmark and a symbol of gracious living in downtown Los Angeles. The sweeping restoration and remodeling of the 1,072-room hostelry is the largest major overhaul since the building of the Biltmore Annex in 1928. The hotel is carrying on business as usual while the work is going on.

Characteristic of the hotel are the vaulted ceilings, carved cornices, deep rugs and wrought-iron railings and chandeliers. The ornate lobby received painstaking restoration which faithfully preserved the famous Italian-Spanish Renaissance architecture. A new addition is Bernard's, a gourmet, fresh seafood restaurant, just off the main lobby. It has oak-paneled walls and hand-painted beamed ceilings and is equipped with live trees and plants and Mies van der Rohe furniture.

Overseeing the multimillion dollar refurbishing are the Biltmore's new owners, Phyllis Lambert and Gene Summers, architects and partners. They also own Ridgeway, Ltd., a Newport Beach real estate and construction firm which is general contractor for the project, and 515 Limited, the company that operates the hotel.

"We're in the somewhat unique and enviable position of being involved in all phases of the project — planning, design, construction and management," Summers said.

When the Biltmore opened Oct. 1, 1923, it was the largest hotel west of Chicago and hailed by some as the finest in the country. It was designed by Schultze & Weaver, also architects for the Waldorf-Astoria, the Park Lane and the Pierre in New York City. Summers and Mrs. Lambert bought the hotel from Corrigan Properties of Dallas, Tex., for $5 million last spring and immediately embarked on a renovation program.

The first stage included an expansion of the kitchen staff and facilities and the cleaning and painting of the handsome facade. Summers said the 500 newly remodeled rooms on the fifth, sixth and eighth floors "dramatically illustrate that we have taken a gutsy position in decorating." He pointed to the specially designed furniture, color schemes, prints and sculpture of contemporary artist Jim Dine as well as plants from the hotel's greenhouse as "visual experiences." Most hotels today, he said, "don't offend but they don't impress, either. We want a hotel that is not only pleasant but a memorable experience."

The Biltmore's original artwork, which forms an integral part of the architectural design, has made the hotel's public rooms nationally famous. It was created by Italian artist Giovanni Smeraldi.

Other elements of the renovation include transformation of other floors, the creation of an arcade of fine shops along the hotel's famous Galeria, and the addition of a new bar and fast-food restaurant. The "new look" even extends to the hotel's 450-person staff, which has been equipped with new uniforms designed by motion picture designer Bill Jobe.

General manager John McKennon said, "In essence, this renovation is designed to preserve the hotel's artistic and historical heritage, to modernize its facilities, and to restore its reputation for fine service and outstanding food."

When the 18-month facelift is complete, the little old lady of S. Olive Street will once again be the grand dame of earlier days.

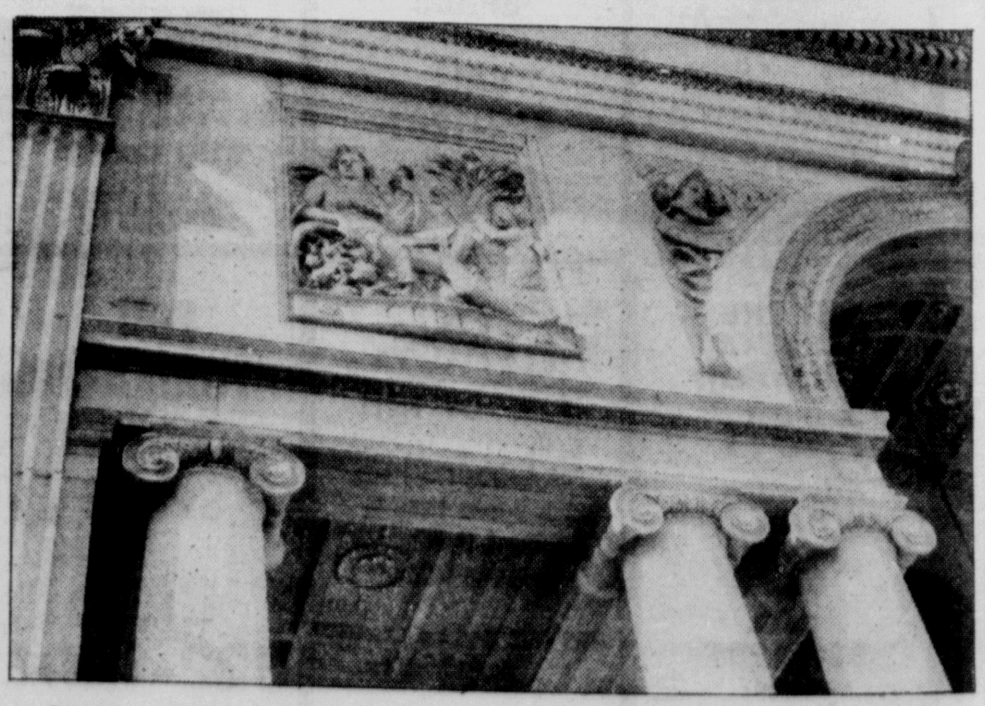
ON THE COVER

Gazing down on Los Angeles' Pershing Square like a stately dowager, the 53-year-old Biltmore Hotel is an impressive landmark in downtown Los Angeles. Today the 1,072-room hotel is undergoing a lavish remodeling and refurbishing project that will take 18 months and cost $16.5 million. Business is going on as usual during the renovations.



Classic columns and handsome entablature welcome hotel guests.

Complete line of men's wear

Ken Pierce is in a position to know what the well-dressed man in town should wear.

Pierce, co-owner of The Rack at Second Street and Harvard Avenue in Claremont, offers a complete line of men's wear from casual to dress.

The store has racks full of shirts, slacks, suits and fancy sweaters. Brand names such as Harris, Levi, Lee, Arrow and Enro are available to customers.

Also, Corbin, Majer and Champion slacks plus Buford, Damon and Lord Jeff sweaters may be found at The Rack.

Pierce explains that customers always can find whatever they want at the store because a knowledgeable employe is prepared to serve them.

And The Rack has been involved in upgrading Claremont, claims Pierce, with the facade conforming to the Village area. "We've also been recognized nationally by Men's Wear magazine which printed an article on the store."

Owners of The Rack — Pierce, Richard Bennitt and George Bennitt — recently bought a second men's clothing store in Redlands.

The Claremont store has been operating at its present location since 1972. Before that, The Rack was located at 147 Harvard Ave.

Store hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

In Claremont's Village area, the Rack at Second Street and Harvard Avenue, has attractive clothing for men for all occasions.

The Rack offers a complete line of men's wear.

Family sees 2 generations on court

By AMY GUSMAN
Claremont

Being chosen as Homecoming Queen is a definite honor, but for Claremont's new queen, Karen Ann Huffman, it is even more so.

"Me? I'm Homecoming Queen?" wails Karen, "How could they pick me? I'm a geek!"

"Little Huffy" as Karen is known, was chosen by popular vote on Friday, Nov. 5 from a court of five candidates, Terri Ducey, Karen Frampton, Judi Underhill and Janet Stark. Janet Strathern, Claremont's ASF exchange student from South Africa, served as honorary princess.

The 5-foot, brown-haired, green-eyed young lady attributes her luck (as she calls it) to Chuck Culbertson, who wore his lucky rugby shirt on the evening of her crowning and also presented her with a carefully lettered sign reading "Go Get 'em Huffy!!" For extra confidence, Karen had slept with her "Lucky Monkey" the night before the Homecoming game, a good-luck stuffed-animal that had worked wonders for a friend.

Karen was escorted onto the football field by her father, Robert Huffman, and Karen claims that most of the time by his side was spent with her eyes closed. "I watched Sid come up to me and flex his muscles" she recalls. "But thats all I saw". Sid Robinson ASB vice president, dressed up as Superman to choose the Queen. "When Sid walked away I knew I didn't make it" she adds. Karen was so sure that she would not be chosen that she had told her mother earlier in the week that another girl had won, so that Karen's mom would not get her hopes up. Karen aptly describes her mother's reaction when Karen's name was finally announced: "She had a coronary!" The event was extra special for Mrs. Huffman because she had been a Homecoming Princess at Claremont High School in 1953.

Varsity Cheer (she is head cheerleader), Senior Women's Club, Mountaineering Club, Spanish Club, Senior Class Council and a 3.8 grade average head Karen's list of accomplishments during her four years at Claremont. Yet, she has still found time for friendships and memories that she will always cherish. "I've learned so much and made so many friends, and had such unforgettable times," Karen smiles. She appreciates those who have guided her throughout high school; counselor Larry Ganzell, secretary Lee Bailey and Rally Squad advisor Drue Lawlor ("mom" as Karen calls her).

The past four years are very special to Karen and she says she will miss everyone and everything when she graduates in the spring. "I'll miss the closeness of my friends most of all," she adds.

For Karen, being chosen as Homecoming Queen is not only an honor but a very special going away present as well.

Celebrity crowns Bonita High queen

By KAREN JOHNSON
Bonita Correspondent

Jodi Kershaw has been named the 1976-77 homecoming queen at Bonita High School.

Miss Sue Malone, last year's queen, presided over the activities until she handed over the crown. Local television personality Chris Nelson was on hand to help crown the queen. He has appeared in segments of Marcus Welby, Lucas Tanner, the Six Million Dollar Man, Adam 12, The Mary Tyler Moore Show and Sons and Daughters television shows.

The queen's court includes five other senior girls, Judy Edwards, Kathy Howell, Holly Morgan, and Debbie Russi. Miss Helle Nissum, a foreign exchange student from Denmark, reigns as honorary princess by invitation of the senior class.

Miss Kershaw is presently a varsity songleader. She plans to attend college in Florida and major in biology.

Miss Edwards is currently a student leader in girls P.E. Her junior year she was a member of the drill team.

Miss Howell was selected as a basketball princess during her freshman year and was a junior varsity cheerleader.

Miss Morgan was a varsity cheerleader last year and was chosen as basketball princess her junior year.

Miss Russi was a varsity songleader last year and a basketball princess her sophomore year.

Miss Nissum's interests include soccer and gymnastics. She also enjoys dancing.

"A Night With The Stars" was the theme of the Homecoming. Following the football game was the annual Homecoming dance where Queen Joni reigned for the night.

A.L. sophs slate dance

The sophomore class at Alta Loma High School will sponsor its school dance in the boys' gym Nov. 20 from 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The band for the dance will be Bobbidazzler.

On Nov. 18, the band will play for the students during lunch hour to spur interest for the dance. Students will be able to listen to the music in front of the gym during lunch.

The money earned from the dance will go to sophmore activities and the junior-senior prom next year.

S Club to sponsor benefit car wash

The S Club of Alta Loma High School will hold a car wash at the B & B Gulf Station, corner of Foothill Boulevard and San Antonio Avenue in Upland on Nov. 20. Charge for cars will be $1 and for vans and trucks, $1.50.

Proceeds will go toward expenses in various service projects.

During the year, the girls make tray favors and deserts for the Upland Convalescent Hospital, Alta Loma Manor, and Cal Kursall Hospital.

Advisor for the S Club is Mrs. Betty Butts.

Students to compete in math

Five students and an adviser from Alta Loma High School will go to the Occidental College mathematics field day today to participate in contests and tour the Eagle Rock campus.

Kathy Urquhart, adviser, and the students will participate in five separate events. Robert Thorne will compete in in the "chalk talk derby," Edmund Capparelli and Jeff Anderson will compete in the "leap frog relay," and John Rickey and Alice Hall will compete in the "mad hatter marathons."

PC holds annual parent open house

Pomona Catholic

The National Honor Society-California Scholarship Federation at Pomona Catholic High School held a careers assembly on Wednesday. Pat Leavens, moderator of the clubs, and the officers, Elenor Taylor, Mary Radocinski, Cindy Engkraf, and Monique Tristant, asked for suggestions earlier this year. They narrowed the suggestions to five choices. Navy Chief Parker and Army Sergeant Brown from the Armed Forces talked about opportunities for women and showed two films. Claire Sadourin came from the United Health Careers Institute Inc. to speak about Emergency Medical Techniques. Gary Koonce, a Mechanical Engineer at Cal Poly, came to speak about engineering. Dr. Lewis, an audiologist at Cal State Los Angeles spoke about special education, and Marvin Gore, a professor at MSAC told about computer services and data programming.

NHS-CSF is also organizing an open house for the parents on Sunday, Nov. 14, from 2-4 o'clock. First, Sister Susan, principal, will hold a short assembly, then the parents will go through their daughter's schedules.

Exchange program presents show

Garey High School

Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Garey High School cafeteria, a presentation will be given on how interested freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors may go abroad as foreign exchange students. Mr. Muscatel, the regional director for I.C.X. (International Cultural Exchange), will explain the program presented by I.C.X.

This program will be joined with the existing American Field Service (A.F.S.) club at Garey High so that students desiring to go abroad may more easily. The existing program through A.F.S. has extreme qualifications which makes it almost impossible for the average student to exchange.

The only qualification set forth by I.C.X. is that the perspective exchange student have the money for the trip.

Any interested students and parents are invited to come Wednesday. Refreshments will be served.

Key Club to meet

Montclair High School Key Club will hold its annual alumni meeting Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. in Room 43.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Chuck Saucer at 624-5325.

TAMMY SUMBOT, 17, and a senior at San Dimas High has been chosen as the school's 1976 Homecoming Queen. She has been a member of the Saint's drill team for four years and is now serving as the captain. Princesses on the homecoming court were Roseann Blackschleger, Laura Fields, Dawn Lavers and Janet McDonald. Tammy was crowned by 1975 queen Leticia Benivides.

Ganesha drama slates "Town"

By MILISSA CLESCERI
Ganesha Correspondent

"Our Town", a play by Thornton Wilder, will be presented Nov. 18, 19, and 20 by the Ganesha High School Drama department in the District Auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave., at 8 p.m. Drama coach Fran Van Horn is the director.

There is no scenery in the play. The actors pantomime the scenery and props. The stage manager acts as a narrator to describe the settings.

Cindy Pye will play the part of Emily. Janie Brandenburg and Steve Pardee are cast as her parents, and Ed Mello is her brother, Wally Webb.

Jay Hesselgrave plays her husband, George Gibbs. Carla Fisher and Nick Ruggiero are his parents and Virginia Salazar plays his sister, Rebecca. Irene Brandenburg is cast as the stage manager.

Others in the cast are Carrie Flamme as Professor Willard, Letty Sierra as Mrs. Soams, Cecilia Brandenburg as Simone Stimson, the alcoholic choral director, Eric Sanders as Constable Warren, Richard Haluschalk as Howie Newsome, Larry Walker as Joe Crowell, and Lisa Gustafsom and Kitty Hutt as women among the dead.

Andrea Du Rant student directs.

Tickets cost $1.25 for students with an ASB card, $1.50 for students without an ASB card, and $1.75 for adults. They can be purchased from cast members at the door.

Roving disco livens parties

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you have $500 and understanding neighbors, you can bring the pelvic gyrations and power-driven boogie of the disco phenomenon right into your own living room, jive-talking deejay and all.

Yes, mobile-disco has finally arrived, although most Americans may not have known they were waiting for it.

Two examples of the innate American ability to capitalize on trends, Wayne Russo and Jim Hurlbut, have come up with a relatively low-risk means of grabbing a hunk of the $4 billion disco industry for themselves.

"One per cent of it would be all right with us," Rosso says. "One-half of one per cent would be all right with us," Hurlbut adds.

Former sales representatives for a record company, Rosso and Hurlbut decided one year ago that they'd had enough of "schlepping records," as Rosso put it. Recognizing the disco revival as the financial steamroller it proved to be, they put together two mobile disco units equipped with flashing lights and a vast array of disco sounds, at an initial cost of $50,000.

"We look like a discoteque," Rosso says. "We actually recreated the entire mood, feel, lighting, special effects — everything.

"We are," he adds with a flourish, "in show business. We're like the Rolling Stones on tour."

They haven't been able to keep up with the demand for their services, and after just a few months in business, "our Nazi accountant tells us we're in the black," Rosso says.

The inventive pair have dubbed their enterprise "Let's Go Disco," and have a pool of disc jockeys who can "give you Big Band, Glenn Miller-type stuff, if you want that, or our guys can mix it up, give you top-40, disco, oldies, the whole thing," Rosso says.

And like their stationary counterparts across the country, mobile disco deejays alter the moods and behavior of the dancers with subtle changes in the format.

ABBA

By STAN MIESES

The Swedish rock and roll group, Abba, dropped into town this week, and we got a chance to get the Scandinavian perspective on the scene. Abba has never performed in the United States, but despite that, they have still managed five or six big AM hits and a decent Best Hits album — and their faces are still not known. Shame. Good faces in this group. High cheekbones and firm jaws, big eyesand wide mouths. The two women, Anni-Frid (Frida) and Agnetha (Anna) are perfect Nordic types. They're all married — Frida to Benny and Anna to Bjorn. Why don't they come and play in the U.S.? They speak perfect English, (they're very popular in England) — so why don't they play here? Benny told us simply: "In Sweden we are number one. In Engaland we are number one. If we came here now, we wouuld not be number one. We can afford to wait." He leaned back in the limousine, and looked through the sunlight roof. "You know, New TYorkers never look up," he said, surveying the skyscraper scenery. "Do you mind if I do.?"

* * *

It's only been a few weeks, but Stevie Wonder's double-record "Songs in the Key of Life" has zoomed past all the other hot properties on the charts, including Peter Frampton's, and is easily the nation's favorite disk. Two years have passed since Stevie's last album, and the countless postponements of this release have whetted a voracious appetite: the $11.98 list record shipped "platinum," and to date more than 1.4 million copies have been sold.

In the two years, we've heard a number of Stevie Wonder imitators gain inflated status on the charts with their derivative sound, but Stevie's current domination of the record-buying public and the radio airwaves is testimony that his sincerity and lyrical strength cannot be matched.

"Actually," Stevie told us, "this album is not so much 'Stevie Wonder' as it is Steveland Morris — that's my real name. 'Stevie Wonder' is only a vehicle to say what I feel."

"Songs In The Key Of Life' is certainly the most ambitious recording he's attempted to date: it contains 17 new compositions on two long playing records plus four on an extended play single, and a fat lyric booklet that's meant to be studied.

He has continued down the road of self-exploration, which he so eloquently began on "Innervisions," released in 1974, and in "Songs" he has reached a power and range that's universally impressive. His stylistic dexterity is singular in pop music. He can play jazz, hard r&b, Spanish, gospel and rock and roll. He threads them together on "Songs" under his heading of "love mentalism."

"There's a feeling in these songs I wish to express to the world, and that is: this is where I am, and there's no looking back," he said. "It took me a long time to complete this record, I know, but I don't care. I gave it my all. I needed the time to find the picture I wanted to paint. I waited until I was satisfied."
